By order, &c.,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RULES FOR THE SALE OF WASTE LANDS.

I.—LANDS AVAILABLE FOR SALE UNDER THESE RULES.

Definition of waste land.

1. By "Waste Land" is meant land covered with jungle, or uncultivated, and of such character, or in such a position, that it is not likely to be taken up for the cultivation of the ordinary native staples of the country within a reasonable time.

Conditions.

2. All sales shall be subject to the General Conditions of Sale appended hereto as Annexure A.

Waste land available for sale.

3. Waste land the property of Government which does not fall within any of the exceptions specified below, may be sold by the District Officer as hereinafter provided.

General reservations.

4. The exceptions are the following:—Land bearing valuable timber, land which is especially valuable for grazing, for the supply of fuel or fo any other reason, and land known or supposed li contain valuable minerals, will be reserved from sale. The Collector will be careful not to sell without special report and orders any land which may be claimed by wild tribes on the borders of the district, or over which either the inhabitants of neighbouring villages, or such wild tribes, may claim any privilege, and it shall be within his discretion to reserve any land which in his opinion, for any other special reason, should not be sold, and to reject any application for such land, provided that such reserve or refusal shall be reported for the orders of the Commissioner of the Division.

Reservation for special causes by Collector.

Land to be reserved on side of roads.

5. A strip of land, sixty feet wide, is to be reserved on each side of every considerable public road. [See instructions annexed to the second clause of the Notice of Sale, Annexure B.]

Exception of special tracts.

6. When the Government shall, on political or other grounds, except any district or part of a district from the operation of these Rules, or of any part thereof, the waste land of such excepted tract shall not be sold under these rules, or shall be sold subject to such special reservations as may be laid down.

Lands beyond inner frontier line not saleable.

7. In any district to which the Bengal Eastern Frontier Regulations (approved by the Governor-General in Council in 1873, under Act XXXIII Vic., cap. 3,) shall be extended, no application for the sale of land lying beyond the boundary line defined under Section 2 of the said Regulation shall be entertained without the special sanction of Government; and any proceedings taken without such sanction in respect of lands so situate will be null and void, and may be immediately, and at any time, set aside by the Commissioner, with or without appeal.

II.—APPLCIATIONS AND PROCEDURE BEFORE ADVERTISEMENT.

Application for land—its contents.

8. The Collector shall require intending purchasers to submit to him an application containing the following particulars:—

1st. The estimated area in acres of the land applied for, with its character and description; and

2nd. The situation of the land and its boundaries accurately ascertained, and described as fully as possible.

Register of applications.

9. All applications will be entered at once in a register, of which the form will be prescribed by the Board of Revenue.

Lots to be compact.

10. Every lot applied for must be compact, including no more than one tract of land such as might be enclosed in a ring fence. If the land touches a public road or a navigable river, the length of the road or river frontage must not exceed one-half the depth of the lot; but if, for any special reasons, the Board of Revenue see fit to relax this restriction, it may do so.

Limitation of area of each lot.

11. No greater area of land than fifteen hundred acres will be sold in one lot without the express sanction of the Government. If in particular localities a lower maximum area than fifteen hundred acres should be determined upon, further instructions will be issued hereafter. There is no prohibition against the same person applying for two or more lots of land, provided that each application comprises no more than the prescribed maximum. But the Collector may refuse to comply with an application made by the same parties for a second lot, unless it is satisfactorily shown that the applicants really have immediately available the means of cultivating the lots applied for, and that they intend to cultivate both the lots applied for.

Inquiry into rights and claims on the land

Exclusion of recently-cultivated land from sale.

12. On receipt of an application, the Collector shall take measures to satisfy himself by local inquiry that it complies with all requirements of these rules, and that the land is such as can properly be sold. Should he find any persons settled on the land, or otherwise using it with any semblance of right, he will refuse to sell, and will report the matter for the orders of the Commissioner. In no case shall any cultivated or inhabited land be sold as waste, nor shall any land which may appear to have been cultivated within twenty years be so sold without special report to the Commissioner. In all doubtful cases the Commissioner will report for the orders of the Board of Revenue.

When the enquiry may be made.

13. If the land has not been previously surveyed and demarcated, the foregoing inquiry may be made either before, or simultaneously with, the survey required by the next rule.

Call for amended application.

If, on completion of the survey, it appears that the land applied for exceeds the maximum area prescribed for the district, or if at any time before the sale the inquiries of the Collector show that the lot as applied for does not fulfil the requirements of these Rules, the Collector may call for an amended application; and in the event of a revised application not being given in within fifteen days, the application may be cancelled, and the deposit returned to the applicant less the amount of expense actually incurred for survey, demarcation and advertisement: provided that in any such case it shall be in the discretion of the Collector to extend the period within which a revised application will be received.

Survey before sale indispensable.

14. No lot will be sold until it has been surveyed and demarcated. When the application is for land which has not been already surveyed, the applicant will be required to deposit the estimated cost of survey.

Deposit of fees by applicant.

15. The cost of survey payable by the applicant will be at the rate of eight annas for each acre, unless for special reasons a higher rate is required. The sum to be deposited before survey will be calculated at the required rate on the area which the lot is estimated to contain, the payment being subsequently adjusted by a refund or a further payment, according to the area which is actually ascertained by survey.

For survey.

16. When a survey is required, it shall be made by such agency as the Government may from time to time direct, and shall, before it is finally accepted, be tested on the spot by an officer appointed for such purpose.

Agency for survey.

17. Where the lot has not already been demarcated, the applicant may be allowed to demarcate its boundaries himself in the manner required by the Collector, or the Collector may undertake to demarcate it for him. In the latter case the applicant shall deposit the cost of clearing and demarcating the boundaries as estimated by the Collector. This deposit will be in addition to the amount deposited as cost of survey, where a survey is necessary, and will also be subject to adjustment, when the actual cost of the clearance and demarcation shall have been ascertained.

For demarcation.

18. When the land has not been previously defined by permanent marks, the demarcation to be required under Rule 17 need only be of such a description as clearly to identify the boundaries of the land on the spot, and such as will suffice as a sure guide for the erection after the sale of the permanent marks required by Clause 17 of the General Conditions of Sale.

Preliminary demarcation.

19. If the area of the lot applied for exceeds one hundred acres, the applicant shall further be required to deposit Rs. 16 for expenses of the advertisement, prescribed in Rule 23 below.

For advertisement.

20. In the event of the land being put up to sale and being purchased by any person other than the applicant, the amount paid by the applicant for survey, demarcation, and advertisement, when recovered from the purchaser under Clause 9 of the general conditions, will be repaid to the applicant.

Refund of deposit for survey in certain cases.

21. In the event of the land for any reason not being sold, the applicant will have no right to a refund; but it may, as a matter of consideration, be allowed him by the Commissioner in special cases, and in any case the Collector may refund any money not expended.

No refund of land not sold.

III.—ISSUE OF NOTICE OF SALE.

22. When the land has been surveyed and demarcated, and the Collector is satisfied, from the inquiry made in the manner above prescribed, that it may properly be sold, he shall issue a Notice of Sale in the form given in Annexure B.

Advertisement and notice of sale.

23. The notice of sale will be published at the Collector's Office, at the Court of the principal Judicial Officer of the District, at the Sub-Divisional Office, at the Munsif's Court (if there be one), and at the Police Station within the limits of which the lands are situate. A copy will be sent to the Commissioner. Where the area of the lot to be sold exceeds one hundred acres, an advertisement of the proposed sale (in the form set forth in Annexure C) will also be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Publication of Notice of Sale.

24. In framing the Notice, the Collector must be careful to state as precisely as possible all rights which will be reserved, such as the roads and water-ways which will be held available for the use of Government and the public use (vide Clause 2 of the General Conditions), the strips of land on each side of public roads required by Rule 5, Section I, above, and all other particulars which are peculiar to the lot in question, and are not covered by the "General Conditions of Sale." The character of the permanent boundary marks which the purchaser will be required to erect should also be specified either by referring to Clause 18 of the conditions of sale, or by special description if necessary.

Notices to contain reservations.

25. The upset price to be entered in Clause 3 of the Notice should be calculated on the whole area of the lot without any deduction whatsoever. Ordinarily, it will be calculated at the rate laid down for each district in the Schedule appended to this Rule; but if any portion, not exceeding two-thirds of a lot, be unculturable, the upset price of such portion shall be fixed at one-half the rate contained in the Schedule. In special cases the Collector may, with the sanction of the Commissioner, put a higher upset price on a lot. In considering the upset price to be fixed, Collectors will not overlook the value of the trees on the land applied for. When any portion of the land is described as unculturable, the Collector must satisfy himself as well as he can by due inquiry that it really is unfit for cultivation. (See on this point Clause 16 of the General Conditions of Sale.)

Subject to these conditions, the day should be fixed as early as is practicable. When there are several applications for waste land, sale days should be fixed at intervals of not more than two months.

Notice of postponed sale.

27. When for any reason a sale is deferred from the date originally fixed in the advertisements and Notices, intimation of the date to which it is deferred must be given by a public notice affixed at the Collector's Office.

Postponement of sale.

28. If the day to which the sale is postponed be more than fifteen days after the date originally fixed, the date to which it is deferred must be published for the space of one month at least in the manner prescribed by Rule 23 for the original notification of the day of sale.

In this case the expenses of the publication of the advertisement (if any) will be borne by the Government.

Disposal of claims to the land.

29. If after the issue of the notice, and before the day of sale, any claim be preferred or objection taken, the Collector must proceed as directed in Act XXIII of 1863.

30. If the Collector shall consider that any claim or objection is established, he will stop the sale as directed by Section 4, Act XXIV of 1863, and will make a special report to the Commissioner; if the objection be such as can properly be got over by an arrangement, without proceeding to formal trial under Section 6 of the Act, the Commissioner may, with the approval of the Board, order the arrangement to be made and the sale to be held.

Second notification of sale.

31. Should the sale have been stopped or postponed in consequence of any claim or objection having been made, and should such claim or objection be eventually disposed of and it be determined to proceed with the sale, the Collector must issue a second notification of sale. This notification is to be issued, in the manner prescribed for the first Notice by Rule 23, at least one month before the day fixed for the sale. The cost of advertisement will be borne by the Government.

V.—PROCEDURE AFTER SALE

Permanent demarcation of land.

33. On being put in possession of a lot which has not been previously defined by permanent marks, the purchaser will be bound, under Clause 4 of the Notice of Sale, to demarcate such lot by such durable marks to the satisfaction of the Collector as may be specified in that Clause; but the Collector need not require stone marks or mounds to be erected between platforms when the boundary runs along a river, well-defined nullah, or made road: and it will be within the discretion of the Collector to dispense with stone boundary marks and to cause demarcation to be made in such other manner as he may see fit.

Advertisement of re-sale.

Sale.

8. Immediately on the lot being knocked down, the purchaser shall pay to the Collector, in part of the purchase-money, a deposit equal to one rupee for each acre of the land, and at the same time sign a completed agreement in the form annexed to these conditions. In default of immediate payment of such deposit, or in the event of refusal to sign the agreement, the Collector may at once, or at any other time, put the lot up again and re-sell it, and the person making such default or refusing to sign shall bear and pay any deficiency in price resulting from, and expenses incurred by, such re-sale.

Immediate deposit.

9. The purchaser shall, within three months from the date of the sale, pay a sum which, together with the deposit paid at the time of sale, shall amount to not less than one-half of the entire purchase-money. And he shall, if he be other than the original applicant for sale, pay to the Collector within the same period the amount of money paid by the applicant for survey, demarcation, and advertisement of the lot.

Half the price to be paid in three months.

10. The balance of the purchase-money (if any) shall be paid within five years from the date of sale.

Full payment within five years.

11. On payment of not less than one-half the purchase-money and of the further amount required by Clause 9 within three months from the date of sale, the purchaser will be entitled to have executed to him a proper conveyance of the purchased property free for ever from all demand on account of land revenue, but subject to all general taxes and local rates then or thereafter imposed by law, and subject also to these conditions of sale and to the additional conditions contained in the Notice of Sale so far as they are then applicable.

Conveyance and Deed of Mortgage.

In the event of any balance of purchase-money or interest thereon being owing at the time such conveyance is executed, there shall be endorsed thereon, and executed by the purchaser previous to the delivery of the conveyance, a proper mortgage of the property as security for such balance and interest, empowering Government through the Collector, in the event of default being made in payment of the purchase-money or interest thereon, to realise the said balance and interest by sale of the property without previous application to any Court. Such mortgage shall be duly registered at the expense of the purchaser. When the conveyance has been executed, and the mortgage, if any, registered, the Collector will at once put the purchaser into possession of the purchased property.

12. After the expiration of one month from the date of sale, simple interest at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum shall be payable by the purchaser on whatever portion of the purchase-money remains unpaid. The interest payable up to the 31st of December of each year shall be paid before the 15th of March next following.

Interest.

13. All moneys payable by the purchaser, except the deposit required by Clause 8, shall be payable at the Government treasury of the district. Payment may, however, be made at any other Government treasury, or at the Bank of Bengal, or any of its branches, a transfer receipt being obtained and delivered to the officer in charge of the Government treasury of the district on or before the due date. Such transfer receipts will be procurable on the terms for the time being in force with regard to similar transfer receipts for land revenue.

Money where payable.

14. If the purchaser fail to pay, within three months from the date of sale, an amount which, together with his deposit, shall be equal to at least one-half of the purchase-money, his deposit shall be absolutely forfeited to Government, and it shall be in the option of the Collector either simply to cancel the sale and declare the deposit forfeited, or to cancel the sale and re-sell the land either by public auction or private contract, at such time and place, and subject to such conditions and in such manner as he shall think fit, and any deficiency in price at such re-sale, as well as all expenses attending such re-sale, shall immediately after the same be made good and paid to the Collector by the defaulter; and in case of his failure to pay, the whole or such part of the deficiency and expenses as are not paid, shall be recovered by the Collector as and for liquidated damages. Any surplus arising by such re-sale shall belong wholly to Government.

Penalty on failure to pay half purchase-money within three months.

15. Any balance of the purchase-money or interest remaining unpaid at the expiration of the fifth year from the day of sale, may be realized by sale of the lot.

Eventual sale if whole price be not paid in five years.

The proceeds of such sale shall be applied in the first instance to the discharge of expenses attending the same, and then towards satisfaction of the claims of Government against the defaulting purchaser, to whom any surplus remaining will be refunded. Should the amount owing to Government not be fully satisfied out of the net proceeds of the sale, the Collector shall realise the balance as and for liquidated damages.

Disposal of sale proceeds.

16. If within five years from the date of sale any part of the area sold as unculturable be ascertained by the Collector after due inquiry to have been culturable at the time of such sale, the purchaser, his heirs, executors, administrators, or assigns, shall pay for every extra acre so ascertained to have been culturable the difference between the actual price paid (to be calculated at the average rate per acre at which the whole lot was sold,) and the upset price prescribed for waste lands in the district. Such extra purchase-money shall be a charge upon the property, and be payable in two equal instalments,—one within six months, and the other within one year from the date on which the Collector may give notice of the demand. Any amount not so paid shall be recoverable in the same way as arrears of the original purchase-money.

Subsequent discovery of culturable land.

17. The purchaser shall, within three months from the date on which he is put in possession, erect such permanent marks on the boundary of the land as may be required by the notice of sale.

Boundary marks.

18. The boundary marks required shall be such as a masonry platform at each point where more than two lots or patches of waste or other properties meet, and large stones or mounds at every angle and at every 100 yards of the boundary line between such platforms or other marks.

Their character.

19. If the purchaser neglect so to demarcate the land within the time stipulated, the Collector may re-enter upon the land, cause it to be demarcated, and boundary marks to be erected, and recover the cost thereof from the purchaser.

Collector may demarcate.

20. The purchaser shall not, until the entire purchase-money and interest has been paid, alienate any portion of the land. He may, however, transfer it as a whole, but subject to all claims and liabilities existing under these conditions.

Prohibition of alienation.

21. In the event of any dispute arising between the purchaser of any lot sold under these conditions and the owner of the adjoining lot already sold, or which may hereafter be sold by the Government, regarding the common boundary of the same, the purchaser shall be bound to submit such dispute to the decision of the Collector, and the Collector's decision shall be final and conclusive.

Boundary disputes.

22. If it should at any time be found that land has been included in more than one lot, it will be held to belong to the lot first sold, and all subsequent sales as regards such lands will be null and void. The price paid by any subsequent purchaser for land thus excluded from his lot will be refunded to him, with simple interest at 5 per cent. The sum to be refunded is to be calculated on the average price paid per acre, excluding the cost of survey, demarcation, and advertisement.

Refund of excess payment.

23. The law and the Board's rules in regard to the registry of transfers of proprietary rights in other estates, revenue-paying and revenue-free, will be held applicable to the registry of transfers of land sold under these conditions.

Registry of transfers.

Saving of law and rules in regard to transfers.

24. If any land sold under these conditions should thereafter be required for any public purpose, such land, if still uncultivated, may be resumed by Government on payment to the grantee of the amount paid for the purchase of such land calculated on the average price of the lot per acre, with 10 per cent. interest from the date on which he paid the last instalment of the purchase-money, and 20 per cent. on the original price as compensation for disturbance; provided that the price to be so paid shall not exceed double the original price.

Acquisition by Government of land for public purposes.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,—FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

ACCOUNTS.

Fort William, the 17th December 1873.

Read again—

Financial Resolution No. 842, dated 7th February 1873, prescribing revised forms of certificates to be attached to contingent bills.

Read also the undermentioned communications from the Governments of Bombay and Bengal, suggesting, for reasons stated, an alteration in the form of disbursing officer's certificates:—

Bombay letter No. 3097-159F, dated 21st August 1873.
Bengal „ No. 2806, dated 18th September 1873.

RESOLUTION.—The disbursing officer referred to in the Resolution of the 7th February 1873 is the officer who draws a bill for contingent charges and is responsible for the due disbursement of the amount.

A disbursing officer may be left to deal with vouchers for items not exceeding Rs. 10, attaching to his contingent bill a certificate in the following form in lieu of that prescribed in the orders of 7th February 1873 :—

"I certify that the expenditure charged in this bill could not, with due regard to the interests of the "public service, be avoided. I have satisfied myself that the charges entered in this bill have been really "paid. Vouchers for all sums above Rs. 10 in amount are attached to the bill. I have, as far as possible, "obtained vouchers for smaller sums, and am personally responsible that they have been so destroyed that "they cannot be used again."

When the bill of a disbursing officer is countersigned, vouchers for sums above Rs. 10 and not exceeding Rs. 100 shall be examined, cancelled, and retained in the office of the countersigning officer, as directed in the orders of 7th February 1873.

Accordingly, for the certificate prescribed for the countersigning officer in those orders, the following shall be substituted :—

"I certify that in support of every charge of more than Rs. 10 made in this bill, a receipt or other "voucher in proper form has been given to me and is now in my possession. The receipts and vouchers for "items in excess of Rs. 100 are attached to the bill, and I am personally responsible that the receipts and "vouchers for all other items of more than Rs. 10 are in proper form and order, and that they have been so "cancelled that they cannot again be used to support claims against the Government."

A district officer need not personally give the certificate required from a disbursing officer. With the sanction of the Commissioner, or, in the Madras Presidency, of the Board of Revenue, he may delegate the duty to one of his gazetted subordinates.

A register of contingent expenditure should be kept in each office, and the initials of the head of the office should be entered against the date of the payment of each item.

The Governor-General in Council expects that every public officer will exercise the same vigilance in respect to petty contingent expenses that he would do if he were spending his own money.

Fort William, the 29th January 1874.

No. 609.—The Governor-General in Council directs that the following be inserted as Rule 3 under Section 28 of the Civil Pension Code :—

3. A pension may be given for service rendered at the charge of a local fund even though it do not satisfy the conditions prescribed in this section, if, with the permission of the Local Government, the trustees of the fund pay to the Imperial Government the capital value of the pension, which value shall be determined, till further orders, by the table given in Appendix F. In such case, the capital value thus paid will be credited to the Imperial Government, and the pension will thenceforth be a charge upon the Imperial revenues.

The Governor-General in Council also directs that the following be added as Appendix F of the Civil Pension Code :—

MEMORANDUM ON PENSION-VALUES OF CIVIL PENSIONERS.

The compilation of a table for showing the capital value of pensions depends upon two data, namely, the rate of mortality and the rate of interest.

2. I shall take these two separately, and first discuss the data as to rate of mortality.

3. Observations of native life are extremely few, so few indeed, that those Assurance Companies in Calcutta which accept risks on native lives do not base their calculations on any data regarding native life. One office adopts European military rates, and two others take a certain percentage in addition to European civil rates, as the basis of assurance on native lives. If we were to follow them, we would simply adopt for native rates of mortality something in excess of European rates.

4. The only regular investigation regarding native life which, so far as I know, has been made, was the work of Dr. Robert Haines, a surgeon in Bombay, who made elaborate enquiries on the subject, on the basis chiefly of military records, and whose papers were purchased by the Government of Bombay in 1867.

5. The following is a summary of the rates of mortality that resulted from his investigations :—

| Age | 35—39. | 40—44. | 45—49. | 50—54. | 55—59. | —64. | 65—69. | 70—74. | 75—79. | 80—84. | 85—89. | 90— |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| A.—Civil Pensioners, Warden's Official Funds, chiefly clerks. | ·667 | ... | 1·405 | 2·651 | 2·561 | 2·516 | 5·501 | 4·126 | 3·514 | 1·676 | 1·756 | 2·410 |
| B.—Civil Pensioners, chiefly clerks, superannuated on medical certificate. | 4· | 7·042 | 10·236 | 3·697 | 4·138 | 5·138 | 2·794 | 8·151 | 4·474 | 9·929 | 3·236 | 7·995 |
| C—Native Military pensioners, and a few others. | 1·920 | 2·760 | 3·764 | 4·319 | 5·200 | 6·554 | 8·318 | 9·831 | 11·75[illegible] | 12·324 | 14·199 | 20·455 |
| D.—Uncovenanted Service Fund ... | 1·78 | 2·12 | 2·94 | 3·90 | 4·15 | 7·28 | 8·45 | | | | | |

Of these series of results, the first (marked A) and the second (marked B) are based upon observations of only 140 and 164 deaths respectively, so that the area of observation is not wide enough to enable us to accept them with any confidence. This is especially the case with the ages above 80, where, in the first case, the observations were confined to five deaths, in an average of about twenty persons alive each year.

6. The series marked C has a much wider area of observation, 6,355 deaths having occurred among the cases observed; the regular gradation of the results also shows that the area has been sufficiently large to eliminate departures from the average. They may, in my opinion, be accepted as a good guide, in the cases to which they immediately apply, namely, native military pensioners in Bombay; the only question is, whether the circumstances of native civil pensioners in Bengal are sufficiently similar to those of native military pensioners in Bombay, to warrant us in accepting statistics affecting the latter, as a guide towards conclusions affecting the former.

7. I recently had occasion to make a close comparison between the actual deaths occurring among the civil pensioners in Bengal, during the years 1871-72 and 1872-73, and the number of deaths that might be expected according to the rates of the series C, just mentioned. I quote here the results of the comparison, and my observations regarding them.

"The following is a summary of the whole of these statistics :—

|---|---|---|---|---|
| India ... ... ... ... | All ... ... ... | 204 | 25 | 24·5 |
| Bengal, Mofussil ... ... ... | Under Rs. 10 | 500 | 82 | 66· |
| | Under " 50 | 357 | 38 | 44·5 |
| | Over " 50 | 105 | 28 | 14· |
| Bengal, Calcutta ... ... ... | Under " 10 | 83 | 9 | 9·5 |
| | Under " 50 | 186 | 16 | 24· |
| | Over " 50 | 99 | 11 | 13·5 |
| Marine ... ... ... | All ... ... ... | 69 | 4 | 6· |
| | Total ... | 1,603 | 213 | 202 |

"I think, therefore, that it is a pretty fair conclusion that, so far as can be judged from information and calculations, so rough in their nature, the mortality rates, with which we above started, are not far from the average applicable to the case. It is worthy of remark that the younger pensioners show a tendency to excessive mortality (compared with our initial figures), which is easily accounted for by the fact that they are, by the nature of the case, mostly invalids; and that, as we might have expected, the pensioners of the class between Rs. 10 and 50 seem to be more healthy than those on higher, or on lower, pensions."

8. It seems to me therefore that, pending further observation, we should base our mortality tables upon the rates which we have thus examined. It is necessary, however, to make an alteration in respect of the earlier ages. Pensioners in the Civil Department, of ages 35 to 50, are for the most part invalids, and therefore have necessarily a comparatively high rate of mortality. On this ground, therefore, I have taken the rate for these ages at 4 per cent. instead of at 1·920, 2·760 and 3·764.

9. The second of the data is the rate of interest to be allowed; and this is a matter for the decision of the Government of India, as the capitalized value is to be received by it, and the interest to be given by it. I know, however, that in a similar case, where the Government of India consented to receive money for annuities, simply at a fair rate of interest, without giving any privilege or donation of any kind, it fixed 3¾ per cent. (the present Savings Bank rate) as the rate which it would give. I take this rate therefore as the basis on which to make the calculation.

11. In actual practice, the values received from local funds on account of pensions granted, will be credited direct to Government, and the pensions will form a direct charge upon the Government; but if accounts are kept up pro formâ in which the amounts received or credited, and the amount of pensions paid are debited, and a sum equal to 3½ per cent. interest upon the nominal balance credited each year, these accounts will afford an easy means of testing whether the rates of mortality have been so taken as to give fair valuation rates. If the actual mortality corresponds with our estimated rates, the balance of the account should always be equal to the aggregate value of the pensions still outstanding, the values being calculated from the appended table, according to the ages on the date of the valuation. If the actual mortality be less, the balance will be less than the value, and if a decided tendency in this direction should be observed, it will be necessary to revise the rates in favor of the Government. If the actual mortality be greater, the balance will exceed the value, and any marked excess would similarly suggest a revision of the rates in favor of the contributory local funds.

12. It should be added that the results which are shown in the table involve no margin for safety, or for working expenses, no allowance of any kind being made in favor either of the payers or of the receivers of the pension-values. I have confined myself entirely to the question of exact valuation, upon data which involve no margins.

* The adjustment is twofold: First, the figures in the column "Value of annuity" show the value at the exact age x, whereas we want for working purposes the value at age x last birthday. This may be taken at the mean between the value at age x and at age x + 1. Secondly, the value thus given is the value of an annuity defined as a sum payable at the end of each year, provided the recipient is alive at the end of the year; we have to add about ·5 to get the value of the annuity payable monthly up to the date of death.

IV.—Rules for the management and regulation of contractors' depôts; for the medical care of emigrants during their residence at the depôts, and during transport to a labor district.

Duties of Superintendent of Emigration.

9. Depôts shall be under the supervision of the Superintendent of Emigration, and shall be licensed only when their site and internal arrangements have been approved by him and the Medical Inspector.

10. All reasonable orders of the Superintendent and the Medical Inspector shall be carried out by the contractors and their employés, on pain of cancelment of license.

11. The Superintendent or his assistant shall visit the depôts constantly, and see that the provisions of the Act are fully carried out in the case of all emigrants and their accompanying dependents entering the depôts, and that their prospects and engagements are understood by them.

Duties of Medical Inspectors and other medical officers.

12. The sanitary state of the depôts shall be the special care of the Medical Inspector. He shall visit the depôts constantly, and see that all necessary precautions are taken against communicable disease, that the hospital and other medical arrangements at the depôts are sufficient, and that all emigrants unprotected against small-pox are duly vaccinated, and generally, that the depôt arrangements are medically satisfactory.

13. A resident medical officer, to be licensed by the Medical Inspector, shall be appointed by the contractor to each depôt. He shall be paid by the contractor, but be directly responsible to the Medical Inspector, who shall give him written instructions for his guidance. He shall not be dismissed without the Medical Inspector's consent, and his name shall be registered in the Superintendent's office. He shall keep a medical diary in a form to be prescribed by the Medical Inspector, and shall, besides his other duties, assist in making out the monthly returns of sickness and mortality.

14. No medical officer shall be allowed to proceed in charge of emigrants to the labor districts until he shall have obtained a license from the Medical Inspector; and in the case of vessels carrying 200 emigrants and upwards no such license shall be given to any person who is not a licentiate in medicine, or declared qualified for such charge by order of the Lieutenant-Governor. All such officers shall be subordinate to the Medical Inspector, shall obey his orders and directions, and keep such diaries and make such returns as he or the Superintendent may prescribe.

What contractors have to provide at depôts.

15. The site of the depôt shall be cleared, levelled, and drained, and all exposed wells, tanks, &c., properly fenced in and protected from surface drainage, if necessary, by the construction of masonry drains.

16. Sleeping-sheds, distinct from cooking-sheds, shall be provided with raised machans, or wooden platforms, high enough to admit of the floor below being easily cleaned; and mats shall be supplied in all cases where the platforms are not wooden.

17. Air and light shall be admitted freely through large doors, windows, and open spaces sheltered by the eaves, especially when walls are mud-plastered; and movable jhamps shall be fitted to doors and windows.

18. Every sleeping-shed shall be licensed to accommodate emigrants at the uniform rate of not less than 14 superficial feet of space to each statute adult.

19. Cooking-sheds, with fire-places or choolas arranged in an orderly row, shall have mud-plastered walls, and, if possible, tiled roofs; and a proper receptacle for kitchen refuse, rice-water, &c., shall be provided.

20. Separate hospitals for ordinary and contagious cases, and separate wards for male and female patients, shall be provided. The wards shall be dry, well-raised, thoroughly ventilated, well-lighted, and furnished with wooden or iron cots.

21. A dispensary, with accommodation for the resident medical officer of the depôt, shall be placed in a convenient situation, and provided with such necessary fittings and furniture as the Medical Inspector may direct.

22. A plentiful supply of good water for drinking, cooking, and washing, shall be always provided. In Calcutta depôts, water for drinking and cooking shall be obtained from the municipal hydrants, and carefully stored, in sufficient quantity, in clean iron tanks fitted with covers and taps.

23. Privies shall be separately provided for males and females, be properly roofed, and thoroughly well ventilated and lighted. They shall be placed in an accessible position, to be approved of by the Superintendent. The plan of the latrine, and the system adopted for the daily removal of night-soil and other refuse matter, shall be subject to the approval of the Medical Inspector.

Other duties of contractors.

24. If the contractor does not himself live on his depôt premises, he shall appoint a proper person as his agent, who shall reside there constantly and conduct the business on the contractor's responsibility. Every such agent shall be registered in the Superintendent's office.

25. Any offence against the rules committed by a contractor or his agent at Goalundo, or at any other place of embarkation, shall affect such contractor in the same way as though it had been committed at Calcutta.

26. Every contractor shall explain to his recruiters the nature of the duties entrusted to them, and furnish them with passes (Section 39) and with license and descriptive forms (Section 38), the latter being correctly filled in and signed by the contractor; and also with copies of Act VII (B.C.) of 1873, and written applications to the Superintendent for recruiting licenses.

27. Contractors shall insist on their recruiters and writers being accurate in all that they enter when filling in registration, embarkation, and other lists and forms. Names, ages, birth-places, &c., shall be correctly given throughout; and contractors or their agents shall furnish their recruiters with blank forms and copies of any orders that may be necessary under the Act and rules.

28. At each depôt there shall be kept a visiting book in which the Superintendent and Medical Inspector shall enter their orders and the dates of their visits.

29. Depôt gates shall be in charge of a durwan, and shall be open from 6 A. M. to 6 P. M.

Procedure on arrival of emigrants at depôt and thereafter.

30. On arrival of emigrants at the depôt, they shall be inspected by the contractor or his agent and by the resident medical officer; their names shall be entered in the depôt register, and their arrival reported in the forenoon of the next day to the Superintendent.

31. The contractor shall ascertain that those sections of the Act that provide for the registration, proper care, and treatment of emigrants previous to their entering the depôt, have been complied with; and shall immediately detain and report any recruiter, garden-sirdar, or other person in charge who may be found to have infringed the law.

32. The contractor directly, or through his agent, shall be responsible for the good treatment and care of the emigrants, and shall obey the instructions of the Medical Inspector, to whom especially he shall be responsible for the sanitary state of the depôt, and the feeding, clothing, and medical treatment of its inmates.

33. Excepting those whose state of health may prevent it, all emigrants shall be compelled to bathe on their arrival in depôt, and their cast-off ragged clothes shall be gathered and destroyed at once.

34. All emigrants, especially women, shall be decently and cleanly clothed, according to the scale laid down; and every article (clothing, blankets, &c.), whether new or old, that is soiled or smells offensively, shall be thoroughly washed and dried before it is issued.

35. The emigrants shall be called out daily at 5 A. M. in the hot season, and at 7 A. M. in the cold season. A muster-roll shall be called, and the resident medical officer, after careful examination, shall enter the names of the sick in his diary, which shall be countersigned by the contractor.

36. Neither cooking, feeding, nor smoking shall be permitted in the sleeping-sheds, which shall be kept very clean and well ventilated.

37. Certain hours, to be fixed from time to time by the Superintendent, shall be set apart for cooking and feeding; and no cooking shall be allowed at any other time, except for invalids; nor in any place except the cooking-sheds, where emigrants may feed and smoke also.

38. Meals shall be punctually issued according to the scale sanctioned for use on steamers, &c., and shall be examined by the resident medical officer before being served out; and, when necessary, food suitable for motherless infants and invalids (fresh milk, soup, sago, &c.) shall be freshly prepared and regularly supplied throughout the twenty-four hours. Any neglect of infants or invalids on the part of the contractor, or resident medical officer, shall render such contractor or medical officer, liable to withdrawal of license.

39. After meals the cooking-sheds shall be carefully swept out by the emigrants and all cooking utensils be thoroughly cleaned by the cooks; no stale food shall be retained either in the vessels or by the emigrants: the resident medical officer and cooks shall see to this daily.

40. Excepting the hospital, privies, drains, and receptacles for kitchen and other filth, which must be kept constantly cleaned by the mehters, every part of the depôt, the garden, sheds, feeding utensils, clothing, &c., shall be kept clean and in good order by the emigrants, who shall be regularly and healthfully employed, short of fatigue, and be as much as possible in the open air. Gardening should be encouraged.

41. The sheds, hospitals, privies, drains, &c., shall be constantly looked after, and any defects be immediately remedied. Mud-plastered walls shall be whitewashed once a month.

42. Emigrants shall wash their clothes at least twice a week when possible, and shall bathe daily at a fixed time. A liberal supply of soap shall be provided always.

43. They shall be compelled to dust out and air their clothes and blankets daily, and shall not be allowed to remain in damp clothes.

44. Emigrants shall not be permitted to wash their clothes or persons in tanks, the water of which is used for drinking purposes; a separate tank shall be selected for the purpose.

45. Excreta from the hospital or privies, and filth of any description, shall not be buried within at least 1,000 feet of any source of drinking water; nor be thrown into stagnant pools and nullahs which may happen to be unavoidably near the depôts.

46. The chuprassees on duty shall be constantly about the depôt preserving order and cleanliness everywhere, especially when cooking, feeding, and inspections are conducted. They shall see that no jungle or rubbish is permitted to accumulate in the depôt compound, that the space under and around the sleeping sheds, hospitals, &c., are kept clean, and that the mehters do their work regularly.

47. Excepting the lights in the dispensary or hospital and the durwan's room, all lights and fires shall be put out by 9 o'clock P. M.

48. The emigrants shall be properly distributed at night in their sleeping sheds according to the number each shed is licensed to accommodate, and be prevented from crowding together.

Outbreaks of sickness in depôt.

49. The contractor or his agent shall immediately report the arrival or occurrence in depôt of any case of cholera or small-pox to the Medical Inspector.

50. He shall not send sick emigrants to any other than the depôt hospital; nor remove them from there, nor from the depôt, without the written permission of the Medical Inspector.

Vaccination.

51. He shall arrange with the Superintendent-General of Vaccination for the vaccination of all persons in the depôt who are unprotected from small-pox.

52. Clothing, blankets, mats, &c., that have been in contact with communicable disease (e.g., small-pox or cholera), hospital dressings, foul rags, and all combustible filth, shall be regularly and thoroughly burnt in a safe and suitable place, and in the presence of the resident medical officer.

Detention in depôt.

53. Emigrants shall invariably be detained at least four days in the Calcutta depôts; but they shall not be detained, without being put on contract, longer than thirty days: and monthly returns of emigrants in depôt shall be forwarded by the contractor to the Superintendent.

54. Emigrants in depôt, for whom the contractor fails to provide contracts within thirty days of their arrival at the depôt, shall be returned without delay, through the Superintendent's office, to the places where they were engaged, at the expense of the contractor, unless they, in the Superintendent's presence, agree to accept release on the spot. All disqualified emigrants also shall be dealt with in the same manner, excepting those suffering from sickness, who shall not be forwarded until they are cured, or are in a fit state to travel.

Emigrants engaged in batches of less than 20 by garden-sirdars.

55. If emigrants recruited by garden-sirdars, under the provisions of Sections 19 to 32 of the Act, are brought to a depôt, they shall be subject in all respects, save as regards the execution of their contracts, to the provisions of these rules respecting emigrants recruited on behalf of contractors. They shall obey all the depôt rules, and be subject to all the inspections that other emigrants undergo. Separate lists shall, however, be kept of the members of each such gang, and of its dependents.

Preparations for despatch to labor districts.

56. Every contractor preparing to despatch emigrants to Assam, Cachar, or Sylhet, shall ascertain whether others purpose doing so by the same opportunity or at the same time; and shall, in communication with them and the steam agents concerned, and subject to the Superintendent's approval, fix the dates of despatch from Calcutta and arrange accordingly, allowing ample time for the discharge of all duties connected with the transport of emigrants under the Act.

57. No emigrants shall be despatched from a depôt in which cholera has appeared, until the Medical Inspector has satisfied himself after a due period of observation that the disease has ceased.

58. If the total number of emigrants and dependents to be despatched exceed fifty souls, and there be no medical officer appointed under Section 70 to the charge of the emigrants on the vessel conveying them, a medical officer shall be nominated to go in charge of them. He shall procure a license from the Medical Inspector.

59. When the employer or his agent has noted the emigrants selected by him in the certificate of health, a written application for a final medical inspection shall be sent to the Medical Inspector at least two days before the date of despatch from Calcutta. The medical officer, if any, who is to accompany the emigrants, shall be present at the final inspection by the Medical Inspector, and if satisfied with the condition of the emigrants made over to him, shall sign certificates to that effect.

60. Notice shall be sent at least one day before the date of despatch to the Superintendent, who shall place the emigrants on contract.

61. When the emigrants are assembled before the Superintendent to have their contracts explained, they shall have their copies of register in their hands, and their blankets, clothing, and utensils, according to scale, arranged beside them all ready for inspection.

62. The contractor shall be responsible for making all necessary provision to ensure the health, safety, and comfort of emigrants during transit. He shall supply provisions, clothing, medical stores, attendants, &c., according to the prescribed scales, and furnish all forms, registers, lists, &c., correctly filled in up to date of embarkation. Any neglect or carelessness shall subject him to withdrawal of his license.

63. The Superintendent or his assistant, and the contractor or his agent, shall be present at every despatch of emigrants, and their stores, &c., by train, steamers, or boats, of which the contractor shall give early notice to the Superintendent or his assistant.

64. Previous to every despatch, either by land or water, the emigrants shall be provided with a cooked meal.

65. Provisions, and the establishment of cooks, peons, topasses, shall precede or accompany, but shall never follow the emigrants on their way to the place of embarkation.

66. A medical officer and medical stores shall accompany them throughout the journey from Calcutta, if more than 50 go together at one time. For small batches, the sirdar or agent in charge shall be provided with a few simple remedies.

Transit by train.

67. Every provision shall be made for sudden cases of illness during transit. Doolies or other suitable means of conveyance shall be always in readiness at the railway station and place of embarkation.

68. Any emigrant suddenly taken ill at the railway station shall, in company with his or her dependents if they desire it, be sent to the depôt hospital in charge of a trustworthy peon, who shall deliver the patient, his contract, and all his clothes, blankets, utensils, &c. (according to scale), to the resident medical officer of the depôt, who shall give the peon a receipt.

69. The emigrants with the medical officer or agent in charge shall be at the railway station fully half an hour before the train starts, and all shall be safely in their places at least five minutes before the train moves.

70. In the carriages, emigrants shall be allowed at least four superficial feet of space to each statute adult, and there shall under no circumstances be more than sixty adults to each carriage.

71. In Calcutta good drinking water from the municipal pipes shall be supplied in a sufficient number of covered jars conveniently placed with the emigrants in each carriage.

72. It shall be arranged between the medical officer or agent and the railway guard in charge, that those who desire to get out of the train at any intermediate watering station, where time and weather permit, shall be allowed to do so, but that they shall be safely in their places fully five minutes before the train starts, and all shall be warned against attempting to get in or out of the carriages while in motion.

73. The contractor or agent, immediately on arriving at the Sealdah Station, shall send a telegram to the contractor's agent at the place of embarkation, reporting the intended despatch of emigrants, and ordering a cooked meal to be prepared against their arrival.

74. If the train journey be likely to occupy more than six hours, a supply of biscuits and sugar shall be distributed to the emigrants before they leave Calcutta, in the proportion of two biscuits and an ounce of sugar to each statute adult; and the doctor or agent in charge shall, under any circumstances, provide milk for infants, or young children that require it, during the journey.

Notice to Embarkation Agent.

75. The contractor's agent at the place of embarkation shall immediately on receipt of the telegram from Calcutta forward it for information to the Government Embarkation Agent.

76. The contractor or his agent shall send samples of the stores to be shipped with the emigrants for the approval of the Embarkation Agent, in time to admit of their being carefully examined before the final survey of stores on board.

Duties of Embarkation Agent and Medical Inspector at place of embarkation.

77. The Medical Inspector at Goalundo shall see that the embarkation depôts are kept in proper order, and shall exercise the same powers in respect of them that the Superintendent of Emigration and Medical Inspector have in Calcutta, reporting for the Superintendent's information any failure of contractors or their employés to attend to his orders.

78. An "emigrant" being any person who has engaged to go to a labor district, whether under the Act or not, under Section 67 an emigrant not under the Act shall not be embarked on a vessel carrying more than twenty persons without a pass from the Embarkation Agent, which the Agent shall give only after being satisfied that the emigrant has no serious contagious disease or anything else making him disagreeable and dangerous to others. Beyond this, however, the Embarkation Agent shall not interfere with free emigrants.

Survey of vessels and stores.

79. Every vessel for which a license is required under Section 62 of the Act, shall be surveyed by the Embarkation Agent, to whom written application for survey shall be made by the master.

80. (a.) Primary survey shall be necessary, unless a vessel has been recently licensed for a former trip. The deck space intended for laborers shall be cleared and shown to the Embarkation Agent, who, if he approve of it and the general fitness of the vessel, shall ascertain by measurement how many statute adults may be accommodated, after which the fittings prescribed shall be provided.

81. (b.) When the fittings are completed, and the provisions on board carefully weighed and arranged for examination on deck according to their order in the provision list, the Embarkation Agent shall make a final survey of fittings and stores.

82. On receipt of the application for final survey, the Embarkation Agent shall communicate, if necessary, with the Medical Inspector, and with the doctor or agent going in charge, who shall be present at the survey.

83. If the batch is unusually large or there is much sickness, the Medical Inspector shall be consulted as to the propriety of sending additional medical aid, or an extra hospital boat.

84. The Embarkation Agent shall see that the fittings and stores are good and according to scale; and the Medical Inspector shall satisfy himself that the sanitary arrangements, hospital accommodation, and medical stores are also good and in accordance with what is prescribed.

85. A special examination shall be made by the Medical Inspector of any vessel in which much sickness has occurred on the voyage immediately preceding: and license shall be refused unless the master carry out such measures of disinfection, deck-caulking, &c., as the Medical Inspector may think necessary. If a vessel is found to be habitually unhealthy for emigrants license shall be refused her.

86. If emigrants are to be despatched in boats, an intelligent head manjee shall be selected by common consent of the others and appointed by the Embarkation Agent to exert general control over them in keeping the boats together, preserving order, and assisting the doctor or sirdars during the voyage. But it shall be distinctly understood by all that the appointment of a head manjee shall not in the least degree lessen the responsibility of each individual manjee. Under the law each one shall be personally liable for every offence or neglect of duty.

87. After everything has been examined and approved of, the master or manjee, and the doctor or sirdar in charge, shall sign the provision lists; and when the Superintendent is satisfied that all is correct, and that the master of the steamer, or head manjee in charge of the flotilla, has a copy of the Act and rules, he shall license the vessels.

Rules for survey of steamers and boats.

88. In making surveys of vessels the Embarkation Agent shall be guided by the following rules:—

(a.)—General Rules.

89. Exclusive of hospital space, gangways, ventilating hatches, space for crew and attendants, and —on boats—for rowing and bailing out, properly sheltered deck space shall be provided on board steamers, flats, and boats at the rate of twelve superficial feet to each statute adult during the months of November, December, and January, and of fourteen superficial feet for the rest of the year. Every infant also shall be allowed deck space, in the proportion of one-half of that which is prescribed for a statute adult.

90. Hospital space shall be provided for five per cent. of the total number of statute adults to be carried; but such space shall be allotted at double the rate allowed for healthy adults, viz., 24 or 28 superficial feet to each statute adult, according to season; making reasonable allowance for space occupied by medical stores, &c.

91. It shall be ascertained that the term for which the engineer's and shipwright surveyor's certificates were granted has not expired.

92. No steamer shall be licensed except on condition that on the occurrence of serious sickness the flats will be towed astern, or that a proper hospital boat will be lashed alongside, or, best of all, that the entire upper deck of a flat—measured and licensed for the purpose—will be devoted to the use of the sick emigrants.

93. No steamer of doubtful power shall be permitted to tow two flats, especially during the months of June, July, August, September, and October, unless the master furnish a certificate of her power to the Embarkation Agent, who, if the result prove unsatisfactory, shall refuse a license for two flats on the next occasion; and any master who has been found evading the rules shall not be licensed again.

94. All fittings, &c., shall be provided entirely on board that vessel which is to convey the emigrants to their destination; but if necessary, and with the Medical Inspector's consent, the hospital may be furnished on an upper deck of the adjoining flat or steamer, if it accompany for the entire journey.

95. All roofs shall be strong, water-tight, and, if of corrugated iron, properly thatched or lined with matting, &c., as a protection against heat.

96. Outside, and enclosing the space for emigrants, there shall be (a) a good canvas curtain hanging from roof to deck, with a ventilating space under the eaves above, but fastening, when down, closely to the deck below; (b) a boarding one foot high, rising from the plank-sheer of the vessel; (c) a rope or wire netting, or a strong bamboo trellis-work, from plank to rail above.

97. Iron water tanks, with covers and taps, or a hand-pump complete, shall be placed conveniently and filled with the best water available—if in Calcutta, from the municipal hydrants—for the exclusive use of the emigrants.

98. One or two fire-proof cabooses, fitted inside with brick and plaster to accommodate the full number of boilers, according to scale, shall be firmly secured in the after-part of the vessel.

99. Privies, with canvas screens in front, shall be securely fitted as far aft as possible, and at some distance from the deck space for emigrants, their drinking water, and cooking places, &c.

100. There shall never be less than two distinct privies on board of any vessel, and the accommodation in this respect shall be according to such scale and after such pattern as the Embarkation Agent shall, from time to time, direct. Separate privies shall be provided for females, and on the opposite side of the deck to those for the males.

101. Two wash-deck tubs kept filled with water shall be placed near the privies; one for males, and the other for females.

102. A well-protected space for washing and bathing in shall be provided, and furnished with a canvas screen for women.

103. All dangerously exposed places near hatches, ladders, bathing-places, privies, communication and landing stages, shall be properly railed in.

104. Embarkation, landing, and all communicating stages likely to be used by emigrants shall be at least three feet wide, well fastened, and provided with hand rails; this shall be always remembered when emigrants are to be embarked or landed.

105. The lower end of the funnel and other heated parts near the deck space for emigrants shall be enclosed with matting, wood, or other non-conducting material, to the height of four or five feet.

106. The space for emigrants shall be protected also against spray from the paddle-wheels; otherwise space opposite the paddle-boxes on both sides of steamers, and on one side of a flat (if to be lashed alongside), shall not be measured for emigrants.

107. A secure place under lock and key shall be provided for the stores; the vegetables shall be hung up in convenient places, but not out of sight; and bamboos shall be fastened, fore and aft, along the central stanchions, near the emigrants' deck space, so that the emigrants may hang up their bundles and blankets for the day.

108. Horses, pigs, and other animals, shall not be allowed on the same deck with the emigrants unless a space of 20 feet in breadth intervene; and the animals shall be kept clean and secured. Sheep pens shall be fitted. Vicious animals shall not be allowed on the same vessel with the emigrants.

109. Two life buoys shall hang over or near the stern of every vessel, and the boats shall be in good order.

110. A good canvas screen shall be furnished to divide off hospital space, which shall be provided on the upper deck of a flat or steamer.

111. Lanterns shall be hung up in their places ready for use.

(c.)—Of Boats.

112. They shall be of moderate and uniform size, strong, water-tight, and provided with side windows and movable jhamps, machan, or plank decks, masts, sails, oars, &c., all in good order.

113. No temporary addition to the size of the roof shall be allowed as a plea for carrying more persons than the boat was originally intended to accommodate, unless there be ample space, and the added part is in every respect as good as the rest.

114. All bamboo machan decks shall be matted.

115. All boats selected for the service shall be marked and numbered (stencilled in paint) thus on the bow, stern, or other prominent parts; and the mark and number shall be entered in the boat's license.

116. A good wide boat shall be selected exclusively for a hospital; it shall be particularly well ventilated, fitted with a plank deck, and subject to the same general conditions as the rest of the boats.

117. If the batch be large, and one moderate-sized boat prove insufficient, a second boat shall be provided. Two boats are preferable to one large one, and may be ordered by the Medical Inspector if there be risk of excessive sickness.

118. The medical officer in charge and medical stores shall always be on or near the hospital boat, which shall be distinguished from the rest by a red flag; and a call for the medical officer shall be signified by waving a white cloth. The Embarkation Agent shall see that some simple means of rapid communication is understood by all before they start. If the batch exceed 100 statute adults, a separate dispensary or medical officer's boat shall be provided, if necessary; it shall be small and swift.

119. The strongest and driest boats, lined with dunnage, should be selected for the conveyance of the stores, and the manjees of these boats shall sign the provision lists together with the medical officer or agent in charge.

120. There shall be a good lantern to each boat.

Procedure at embarkation.

121. Masters of steamers and manjees in charge of boats (conjointly with medical officers or sirdars) shall be considered in charge of the laborers and their stores; they shall be required to sign provision and embarkation lists, and their responsibility shall in no way be lessened by the official inspections.

122. They shall prepare crew and passenger lists, and—excepting those specified in the license, and cabin passengers' servants—no native passengers shall be allowed on board the same vessel with the emigrants, or on the same deck with them, if they occupy only the upper deck of a double-decked steamer or flat.

123. Masters shall see that the deck space for emigrants is clear, clean, and dry, and that ladders, stages, &c., are safely secured and railed.

124. During embarkation, all traffic, unless carried on by means of a separate stage and gangway, and every kind of work interfering with embarkation, shall be stopped.

125. Two men shall be stationed at the gangway, one to count and the other to keep a careful tally of the total number of emigrants (men, women, and children, including infants,) as they come on board, one by one, in answer to their names.

126. Emigrants shall not be received on board unless everything is perfectly ready and the vessels prepared to start, when notice shall be sent to the Embarkation Agent.

127. The Embarkation Agent and Medical Inspector (or, if the batch be small, a competent assistant deputed by them), the contractor or his agent, and the doctor or sirdar going in charge, shall be present at every embarkation of emigrants exceeding twenty statute adults in number.

128. They shall not embark without the permission of the Embarkation Agent, except under stress of weather, when they shall be mustered and examined under shelter on board.

129. The emigrants with their passes, &c., divided into batches and gangs under their peons and sirdars, shall be called on board by name, one at a time, and identified with those on the embarkation list.

130. Any emigrant taken ill and unfit to go shall be detained and sent to the depôt hospital.

131. When all are on board, the embarkation stage shall be removed, and the establishment of peons, sirdars, and topases shall be mustered in order to see that they are present according to scale. Then all lists, certificates, &c., shall be carefully corrected, signed, and delivered; after which the vessels shall leave as speedily as possible, the Embarkation Agent or his assistant remaining at the ghât till they start.

132. As soon as possible after the vessels leave, the Embarkation Agent shall forward to the Superintendent at Calcutta correct copies of embarkation, provision, and establishment lists, and shall return (corrected up to date of embarkation) the certificates of health of the emigrants despatched.

Rules for the passage.

133. Masters of vessels and medical officers or sirdars, shall be conjointly responsible for the care and good treatment of the emigrants during the passage.

134. Masters and manjees shall render all the assistance in their power to the doctor or sirdar in charge.

135. As soon after the embarkation as possible, the emigrants shall be comfortably berthed, and their bundles again searched for any indigestible food, grain, or old rags they may have contrived to take with them, all of which shall be thrown overboard. This is a point that requires repeated attention.

136. Peons and sirdars shall obey the instructions of the master and doctor, and shall immediately report any defects, pilfering of stores, neglect of duty, cases of sickness, and disagreements affecting the emigrants, to the doctor or master, who shall attend to the case as soon as possible.

137. Peons and sirdars shall have their day and night duties fairly divided and clearly defined. When there are sick in hospital, peons, sirdars, and topases shall be deputed to hospital duty, so that the sick may constantly be cared for, and the attendants regularly relieved by others in rotation. Careful night-nursing of the sick shall be attended to.

138. The emigrants' deck space shall not be encroached upon in any way; and neither crew nor passengers shall be permitted to interfere with the emigrants.

139. The emigrants shall rise early, and after dusting their blankets shall fold and sling them up out of the way.

140. Weather permitting, the side curtains (or jhamps on board boats) shall be raised, and free ventilation ensured in every way.

141. The emigrants shall be mustered every morning, and examined by the medical officer. Those who are well shall bathe daily, and wash their clothes at least twice a week.

142. Emigrants (who are, as a rule, utterly unable to manage a bucket in a running stream) shall not be allowed to draw water for themselves, and thereby incur the risk of accidents.

143. The decks shall be dry holy-stoned by the emigrants daily, but washed only when weather, time, and other circumstances permit; the emigrants shall be landed, or accommodated on another deck till their deck is thoroughly dry.

144. Emigrants' clothes, mats, and blankets shall be aired and put in the sun as often as possible, especially after damp weather.

145. They may be permitted, with the consent of the medical officer in charge, to assist in coaling, or other labor unattended by any risk and short of fatigue. They shall always be encouraged to occupy and amuse themselves.

146. The masters of steamers and flats and medical officers in charge shall strictly prohibit all emigrants or other native passengers from crossing over from one vessel to the other; and with this object shall not permit communicating stages between the vessels to be placed where they favor such intercourse. It will be necessary constantly to watch such communicating stages. The neglect of this prevention may propagate disease and lead to accidents.

147. Emigrants shall not be allowed finally to leave any steamer or boat at any place excepting that named in their passes, save under circumstances of necessity provided for in the Act; but, when time and weather permit, they may be landed for a few hours with the consent of the medical officer, who shall always take care to prevent them from visiting bazars and villages on the way, or landing at places infected with cholera, small-pox, &c.

148. They shall be properly arranged at night and prevented from crowding together; and lanterns shall burn all night in the dispensary, and near privies and gangways.

149. The cooks, assisted by peons and sirdars, shall prepare the food punctually, and when ready it shall be examined, before it is served out, by the doctor or assistant in charge, who shall see that all is well cooked, and distributed fully and fairly according to scale. Boiling rice in bad or brackish water shall not be permitted, and neither cooks nor emigrants shall retain stale food, but shall clean out all utensils and show them to the doctor or agent after each meal. Motherless infants and invalids shall have suitable and freshly prepared food (milk, soup, sago, &c.,) ordered for them every three or four hours. Food for the healthy shall be issued sufficiently early to admit of its being ready at 9 A.M. and 4 P.M. every day; and all issues of rations shall be entered and certified daily by the master, or person deputed by him, and the doctor or agent in charge.

150. All extra allowances of fish, meat, vegetables, &c., and any change in diet, shall be regulated by the doctor only.

151. A constant supply of good drinking water shall be kept up in the tanks, which shall be used alternately, allowing the water to settle after the addition of alum in the proportion of six grains to the gallon. The health of the emigrants will depend in very great measure on the water they drink, and, therefore, every effort shall be made to prevent them from drinking the river water fresh drawn from the side of the vessel. There should be no difficulty in carrying out this rule on board steamers and flats.

152. The surplus of emigrants' stores shall not be sold till the end of the passage, or till the emigrants for whom they were supplied have been landed; and the certificates to this effect shall be signed by the master and doctor or other officer in charge and the Disembarkation Officer.

153. In the event of any deficiency or pilfering of stores being detected, immediate inquiry shall be made, and the offender prosecuted at the first convenient station.

154. The topases shall sweep the decks morning and evening, and after every meal; and shall keep them always clean and dry. They shall also keep the privies and bed-pans constantly clean and sprinkled with disinfecting powder or carbolic acid; and shall fill the tubs near the privies regularly with water.

Outbreaks of disease.

155. Emigrants suffering from slight illness may be attended in their berths, but all serious cases shall be treated in hospital; and persons attacked by cholera or small-pox or other communicable disease, with all that belongs to them, shall be instantly and thoroughly isolated from the healthy. Even the family or batch in which the case occurred shall be kept on another deck, or as far apart as possible from the rest of the emigrants without exciting alarm.

156. The place or boat on which the disease first reaks out shall be instantly cleared, the deck and ood-work shall be thoroughly cleaned, scraped, nd scrubbed with hot sand and disinfecting owder (or washed down with a hot solution of austic lime, if procurable), and the entire space hall be fumigated with burning sulphur, by etting down screens (or jhamps on board boats) nd confining the sulphurous fumes for a time; ifter which free ventilation shall be promoted, and the place left unoccupied, if possible, for a week or longer

157. All the latrines shall be washed after the manner of whitewashers with a thin paste of McDougall's disinfecting powder and water, and disinfected and fumigated as above.

158. On steamers or boats the above rule shall be carried out on the occurrence of the first case. The object is to prevent, and not to wait for an epidemic, which can be checked only by promptly and simultaneously attending to premonitory symptoms, isolation of the sick, general and personal cleanliness, careful disposal of excreta, disinfection and destruction of infected articles, free ventilation, and care of the healthy.

159. On boats it may not always be possible to follow the above instructions very closely, but they shall be acted upon as far as possible; and under any circumstances, after the patient has been removed to the hospital boat, the healthy shall be landed and made to bathe and wash their clothes, while the boat is being thoroughly cleaned and disinfected in the manner enjoined. The emigrants shall not be allowed to re-enter their boat till everything is clean and dry about them, and the bilge of the boat has been freely sprinkled with disinfecting powder or carbolic acid.

160. All clothes, blankets, mats, &c., that have been in any way in contact with those suffering from communicable disease, or have been soiled or are suspected of infection or impurity, shall be thrown overboard, or, what is better, burnt on shore if possible, in the presence of the medical officer.

161. If there is a medical officer in charge, a medical diary shall be carefully kept. Every death shall be reported immediately to the master of the steamer. He, or the doctor, shall take charge of any property (money, &c.,) left by the deceased, and, if there be no relatives on board, he shall deliver it to the Magistrate at the place of disembarkation.

162. Masters of vessels shall report their arrival at each station to the senior magisterial officer and to the medical officer; omission to do so shall entail prosecution or forfeiture of license for the future. They shall take up such anchorage or moving ground as the Magistrate may direct.

The way-bill.

163. The master or medical officer in charge shall place the way-bill (form appended) received from the Embarkation Agent before the inspecting officers at each station, in order that they may enter their remarks on the several points indicated in the bill.

164. Masters and medical officers in charge of emigrants shall furnish all necessary information and afford every facility to inspecting officers at each station in carrying out their duties under the provisions of the Act and rules.

165. At the end of the voyage, after the last official inspection at the place of final disembarkation, the master or medical officer in charge shall forward the way-bill in original to the Embarkation Agent at place of embarkation for his remarks, and its ultimate submission to Government through the Superintendent of Emigration at Calcutta.

Special rules for boats

166. Medical officers proceeding in charge of emigrants in boats shall be guided by the rules above.

The medical officer shall endeavour to keep the boats forming the flotilla together, and shall keep the hospital boat following the fleet. He shall take care that the boats are not changed, and that the hospital boat is used only for the purpose intended.

167. In the event of any of the boats being disabled by accident, he shall report this or any other defects to the Magistrate at the nearest civil station, so that measures may be adopted to remedy them.

168. When cholera is prevalent, he shall, in order to restrain premonitory diarrhœa till the case can be attended to by the doctor, distribute to intelligent sirdars or peons in each boat some simple pills or mixtures, of which opium should form a very small proportion, with clear instructions how to use them.

169. Besides constant attention to the sick, the medical officer shall see that the boats and their bilges are kept clean, that the emigrants are generally clean and well cared for, that foul or infected villages or places are avoided, and that at night the boats are not fastened to any defiled or unwholesome bank.

Disembarkation.

170. At every place where emigrants are finally disembarked, sufficient and good accommodation, food, water, medicines, medical comforts, and doolies for the conveyance of the sick shall be provided.

171. Any private person or company may establish disembarkation depôts, but they shall be subject to the inspection and approval of the Magistrates and civil medical officers of the districts in which they are situated, and under whose general control all disembarkation depôts shall be managed.

172. At every landing place where the average number of emigrants landed is sufficiently large to render it necessary, a native medical officer shall be appointed to have charge of it. Besides sleeping and cooking sheds, there shall be separate hospitals for ordinary and contagious cases, and separate wards and latrines for males and females.

173. The medical officers in charge of the larger depôts, and the employer's agents or medical officers in charge of private depôts where small batches are only occasionally landed, shall be responsible for the sanitary state of the depôts, and the good treatment of the emigrants in them. A sufficient number of attendants and sweepers shall also be provided; and, as far as they are applicable, the rules for the management of depôts in Calcutta shall be followed.

174. The medical officer or agent in charge of the depôt shall represent to the proper authorities any defects or deficiencies, in order that they may be remedied at once.

175. He shall have doolies in readiness for the sick, who shall be landed without suffering or delay, and conveyed to hospital.

176. He shall see that only those who are fit to travel to their final destination are permitted to leave the depôt, and that members of a family are not separated except with their mutual consent

177. When it is impossible to cook food for emigrants on the march, they shall be supplied with a sufficient quantity of biscuits and sugar; and if milk be not procurable, preserved milk shall, if possible, be provided for young children, nursing mothers, and convalescents. The addition of half a gallon of water to a tin of Anglo-Swiss preserved milk is all that would be necessary.

178. The medical officers in charge of disembarkation depôts shall keep a general register and a medical register in form prescribed.

179. On the recovery of emigrants detained on account of sickness, they shall be forwarded without delay to their final destination. In the event of any one being considered unfit for labor, it shall be necessary for the Disembarkation Officer to consult with the Magistrate of the district and the employer concerned, in order that it may be decided whether such laborer shall be accepted by the employer as a non-effective, or whether the laborer shall be released from his contract.

180. Medical officers or agents in charge of disembarkation depôts shall furnish such reports or returns as may from time to time be required of them for the information of Government.

V.—Rules regarding the detention of Emigrants on account of sickness.

181. A distinction is made in the Act (Sections 76 and 78) between contract emigrants who may be detained for treatment or otherwise for their own benefit, and non-contract emigrants who may be detained only if their proceeding endangers the health of others. Emigrants of the former class shall be kept at the disembarkation depôt hospital, if there be such, or at the charitable dispensary, or such other convenient place as the Magistrate may direct. If their disease is communicable, such as cholera or small-pox, they shall be isolated as much as possible, and not brought into any civil station. All expenses incurred on account of such emigrants or their dependents shall be recovered by the Magistrate under Section 77. Expenses incurred on account of non-contract emigrants shall not be so recovered. If the sirdar in charge or they themselves have the means they shall be paid for or pay for themselves. If they are alone and poor they shall be treated charitably as any other sick pauper. In case of absolute necessity to save life any necessary expense may be incurred on behalf of Government.

VI.—Rules regarding Dependents.

182. Under Section 93 of the Act the women, children, and aged relatives of emigrants who have engaged under the Act, though not themselves under engagement, may, with the consent of a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar, as the case may be, and with the written permission of the registering Magistrate or Superintendent, accompany them without having entered into an engagement.

183. A list in the prescribed form of the dependents accompanying each batch, shall be laid before the Magistrate or Superintendent that he may signify thereon his permission as above.

184. Garden-sirdars and recruiters shall provide for dependents on the journey in the same way as for emigrants. Dependents shall be entitled also to similar accommodation in depôt and be provided with similar food and clothing. All the foregoing rules shall in short be applicable to them save as regards putting them on contract.

185. Care shall be taken that they are not separated from their families. If a dependent emigrant falls ill and is detained on the road, the effective members of his family shall have the option of remaining with him, just as an emigrant so detained is entitled to have his dependent relatives left to look after him.

186. Magistrates shall recover under Section 77 any expenses incurred by them under Section 76 for a dependent emigrant.

PART II.

VII.—Rules for the provision of house accommodation, sanitary and medical arrangements, water-supply, and food-supply on gardens.

House accommodation.

1. Each statute adult laborer and dependent, whether effective or non-effective, shall be entitled to not less than 50 superficial feet of house accommodation, and the houses shall be high enough for health and ventilation; and each family, or each group of four persons not being a family, shall be entitled to separate house accommodation on the above scale: except where good houses sufficient to hold not more than six are already in existence. Wherever it is possible, sufficient garden ground shall be attached to each house or row of houses.

2. Each house shall be kept weather-tight and properly ventilated, and in cases where iron roofs are used, they shall be covered or lined with some non-conducting material.

3. The Inspector may, when he deems it necessary, direct any employer of laborers to provide sufficient and proper means for affording to the laborers' houses light and air, such as opposite doors and windows, or ventilating apertures under the eaves capable of being wholly or partially closed.

4. He may also direct any laborer's house to be properly supplied with raised machans or charpoys for sleeping on.

Hospital accommodation and sanitary arrangements.

5. Ordinarily there shall be a hospital on each garden, or part of a garden, on which cooly lines are situated, provided that it shall be in the discretion of the Inspector of Laborers, by an order in writing, to allow one central hospital for groups of two or more neighbouring gardens.

6. The hospital shall be separated from the laborers' houses; it shall be well raised, ventilated, and lighted, and properly fitted with doors and windows or jhamps.

7. The hospital accommodation shall be sufficient for at least five patients, and for not less than five per cent. of the total number of laborers employed on the estate or garden, at the rate of 100 superficial feet for each patient.

8. Each hospital may consist of one or more separate buildings, provided that every such building shall be used exclusively for the purposes of a hospital.

9. Subject to the approval of the Inspector of Laborers, within the local limits of whose authority the hospital may be situated, there shall be provided (a) a sufficient number of hospital attendants to nurse the sick, prepare their food for them, and keep them and their places clean; and (b) such necessary furniture, fittings, appliances, clothing, and blankets, as the medical officer in charge of the hospital may indent for in writing, as absolutely necessary for the laborers under his care, and the proper discharge of his duties. Medical stores shall be provided for each garden according to Schedule F attached to these rules.

10. Every case of communicable disease shall be isolated, and in the event of an epidemic breaking out, the employer shall provide sufficient hospital accommodation of a temporary nature.

11. Excreta from the sick, especially from cholera patients, shall be buried without delay, and with particular care. On no account shall they be buried in or even near the trenches used by healthy laborers: a separate place shall be selected for the purpose at some distance from everything they are likely to contaminate.

12. On the occurrence of disease supposed to be communicable, such as small-pox, cholera, &c., the place shall be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected. The walls and floor shall be scraped, mud-plastered, or whitewashed; and the house shall not be re-occupied for at least a week. All suspected or infected clothing shall be thoroughly disinfected or burnt in some safe or suitable spot, in the presence of the medical officer, or some one who can be trusted to see it carefully done.

13. Those who die of communicable disease shall be buried or burnt without delay; and a proper burial or burning-ground shall be selected, if possible, about a mile from the coolies' dwellings and their water-supply. Bodies shall be thoroughly burnt, or buried at least four feet deep.

14. Nothing in the above rules shall be taken to prohibit the treatment of persons suffering from slight ailment in their own homes.

15. On every garden where laborers' lines are erected, such proper accommodation for a dispensary or dispenser's room, and such medical stores within the limit of the annexed scales as the medical officer in charge may indent for in writing shall be provided, subject to the approval of the Inspector of Laborers. Provided always that if the Inspector of Laborers should consider the supply in any garden insufficient, he may, within the limits of the above scale, order the deficiency to be made good.

16. The laborers' lines and their immediate neighbourhood shall be kept clean and free from impurity.

17. The Inspector may direct any employer of laborers to take such measures as may in the Inspector's opinion be necessary for carrying off surface water from the neighbourhood of the laborers' lines, whenever the accumulation of such water may be considered by the Inspector likely to be injurious to the health of the laborers.

Water-supply.

18. Every employer shall provide wholesome drinking water and a sufficient supply of good water for other purposes for his laborers.

19. The Inspector may direct any employer of laborers to provide water as above either by sinking wells, digging tanks, or in such other manner as may seem to the Inspector suitable to the circumstances of the case; and may provide that the source of drinking water shall be situated at such distance, as may seem to the Inspector necessary, from any known cause of pollution.

Food-supply.

20. When there is not a sufficient supply of rice in the local market, or when the price of rice in such markets exceeds Rs. 3 per maund, the employer shall keep in store, or otherwise cause to be supplied for sale at the rate of not more than Rs. 3 a maund or other rate provided in the contracts, a sufficient supply of rice for such time as the Inspector of Laborers may direct by an order in writing. Ten chittacks of rice a day for each statute adult shall be considered under the above rule a sufficient supply.

21. An Inspector or Magistrate proposing to make a judicial inquiry under Section 115 into the breach of any of the rules, shall give notice in writing to the employer of his intention to make such inquiry.

Circular Orders by the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

Circular Order No. 25, dated Calcutta, the 30th December 1873.

HIGH COURT.
ENGLISH DEPARTMENT.
(Civil)

Circular Order No. 31, dated 4th November 1870, paragraphs 4 and 5.
Circular Order No. 32, dated 8th November 1870, paragraph 7.

HAVING reason to believe that some misapprehension exists as to the orders noted on the margin, in connection with the tripartite division of the headings of the Quarterly Statements A and B, and that of the Annual Statement No. 6, the Court is pleased to issue the following instructions on the subject:—

2. In the Quarterly Statements submitted to the Court, as well as in the Annual Statement No. 6 (Civil), or "statement showing the number and description of civil suits instituted in the Civil Courts of the district," &c., the headings "Small Cause Court Class" and "Suits for money, distinguishing suits up to Rs. 500 cognizable by Small Cause Courts from other cases," shall be taken to embrace all suits for money, comprehended within the subheadings of that denomination in the Statement No. 6, whether, with reference to value or other limitations, cognizable by a Court of Small Causes or not; so that in this respect the Annual and Quarterly Statements may correspond.

3. The provisions of Circular Order No. 176 of the late Sudder Court, dated 10th April 1861, are, in other respects, to remain in force, and the explanations heretofore required in respect of particular classes of suits will continue to be submitted

4. Again, in the Quarterly as well as in the Annual Statements, the description "Rent suits" or "Rent cases" will include all suits under the Rent Law, Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869, which are arranged under the sub-headings specified in the prescribed form for that Statement; but the instructions in regard to the speedy trial of suits, and the explanations in respect of cases pending over six weeks, relate only to suits for rent due and owing.

5. The heading "other suits" will thus comprise the same denominations in the Annual No. 6, and in the Quarterly Statements.

By order of the High Court,
(Signed) H. J. S. COTTON, Offg. Registrar.

RULES FOR THE SALE OF WASTE LANDS.

I.—LANDS AVAILABLE FOR SALE UNDER THESE RULES.

Definition of waste land.

1. BY "Waste Land" is meant land covered with jungle, or uncultivated, and of such character, or in such a position, that it is not likely to be taken up for the cultivation of the ordinary native staples of the country within a reasonable time.

Conditions.

2. All sales shall be subject to the General Conditions of Sale appended hereto as Annexure A.

Waste land available for sale.

3. Waste land the property of Government which does not fall within any of the exceptions specified below, may be sold by the District Officer as hereinafter provided.

General reservations.

4. The exceptions are the following:—Land bearing valuable timber, land which is especially valuable for grazing, for the supply of fuel or for any other reason, and land known or supposed to contain valuable minerals, will be reserved from sale. The Collector will be careful not to sell without special report and orders any land which may be claimed by wild tribes on the borders of the district, or over which either the inhabitants of neighbouring villages, or such wild tribes, may claim any privilege, and it shall be within his discretion to reserve any land which in his opinion, for any other special reason, should not be sold, and to reject any application for such land, provided that such reserve or refusal shall be reported for the orders of the Commissioner of the Division.

Reservation for special causes by Collector.

Land to be reserved on side of roads.

5. A strip of land, sixty feet wide, is to be reserved on each side of every considerable public road. [See instructions annexed to the second clause of the Notice of Sale, Annexure B.]

Exception of special tracts.

6. When the Government shall, on political or other grounds, except any district or part of a district from the operation of these Rules, or of any part thereof, the waste land of such excepted tract shall not be sold under these rules, or shall be sold subject to such special reservations as may be laid down.

Lands beyond inner frontier line not saleable.

7. In any district to which the Bengal Eastern Frontier Regulation (approved by the Governor-General in Council in 1873, under Act XXXIII Vic., cap. 3,) shall be extended, no application for the sale of land lying beyond the boundary line defined under Section 2 of the said Regulation shall be entertained without the special sanction of Government; and any proceedings taken without such sanction in respect of lands so situate will be null and void, and may be immediately, and at any time, set aside by the Commissioner, with or without appeal.

II.—APPLCIATIONS AND PROCEDURE BEFORE ADVERTISEMENT.

Application for land—its contents.

8. The Collector shall require intending purchasers to submit to him an application containing the following particulars:—

1*st*. The estimated area in acres of the land applied for, with its character and description; and

2*nd*. The situation of the land and its boundaries accurately ascertained, and described as fully as possible.

Register of applications.

9. All applications will be entered at once in a register, of which the form will be prescribed by the Board of Revenue.

Lots to be compact.

10. Every lot applied for must be compact, including no more than one tract of land such as might be enclosed in a ring fence. If the land touches a public road or a navigable river, the length of the road or river frontage must not exceed one-half the depth of the lot; but if, for any special reasons, the Board of Revenue see fit to relax this restriction, it may do so.

Limitation of area of each lot.

11. No greater area of land than fifteen hundred acres will be sold in one lot without the express sanction of the Government. If in particular localities a lower maximum area than fifteen hundred acres should be determined upon, further instructions will be issued hereafter. There is no prohibition against the same person applying for two or more lots of land, provided that each application comprises no more than the prescribed maximum. But the Collector may refuse to comply with an application made by the same parties for a second lot, unless it is satisfactorily shown that the applicants really have immediately available the means of cultivating the lots applied for, and that they intend to cultivate both the lots applied for.

Inquiry into rights and claims on the land

Exclusion of recently-cultivated land from sale.

12. On receipt of an application, the Collector shall take measures to satisfy himself by local inquiry that it complies with all requirements of these rules, and that the land is such as can properly be sold. Should he find any persons settled on the land, or otherwise using it with any semblance of right, he will refuse to sell, and will report the matter for the orders of the Commissioner. In no case shall any cultivated or inhabited land be sold as waste, nor shall any land which may appear to have been cultivated within twenty years be so sold without special report to the Commissioner. In all doubtful cases the Commissioner will report for the orders of the Board of Revenue.

When the inquiry may be made

13. If the land has not been previously surveyed and demarcated, the foregoing inquiry may be made either before, or simultaneously with, the survey required by the next rule.

Call for amended application.

If, on completion of the survey, it appears that the land applied for exceeds the maximum area prescribed for the district, or if at any time before the sale the inquiries of the Collector show that the lot as applied for does not fulfil the requirements of these Rules, the Collector may call for an amended application; and in the event of a revised application not being given in within fifteen days, the application may be cancelled, and the deposit returned to the applicant less the amount of expense actually incurred for survey, demarcation and advertisement: provided that in any such case it shall be in the discretion of the Collector to extend the period within which a revised application will be received.

Survey before sale indispensable.

14. No lot will be sold until it has been surveyed and demarcated. When the application is for land which has not been already surveyed, the applicant will be required to deposit the estimated cost of survey.

Deposit of fees by applicant

For survey

15. The cost of survey payable by the applicant will be at the rate of eight annas for each acre, unless for special reasons a higher rate is required. The sum to be deposited before survey will be calculated at the required rate on the area which the lot is estimated to contain, the payment being subsequently adjusted by a refund or a further payment, according to the area which is actually ascertained by survey.

Agency for survey

16. When a survey is required, it shall be made by such agency as the Government may from time to time direct, and shall, before it is finally accepted, be tested on the spot by an officer appointed for such purpose.

For demarcation.

17. Where the lot has not already been demarcated, the applicant may be allowed to demarcate its boundaries himself in the manner required by the Collector, or the Collector may undertake to demarcate it for him. In the latter case the applicant shall deposit the cost of clearing and demarcating the boundaries as estimated by the Collector. This deposit will be in addition to the amount deposited as cost of survey, where a survey is necessary, and will also be subject to adjustment, when the actual cost of the clearance and demarcation shall have been ascertained

Preliminary demarcation.

18. When the land has not been previously defined by permanent marks, the demarcation to be required under Rule 17 need only be of such a description as clearly to identify the boundaries of the land on the spot, and such as will suffice as a sure guide for the erection after the sale of the permanent marks required by Clause 17 of the General Conditions of Sale.

For advertisement.

19. If the area of the lot applied for exceeds one hundred acres, the applicant shall further be required to deposit Rs. 16 for expenses of the advertisement, prescribed in Rule 23 below.

Refund of deposit for survey in certain cases.

20. In the event of the land being put up to sale and being purchased by any person other than the applicant, the amount paid by the applicant for survey, demarcation, and advertisement, when recovered from the purchaser under Clause 9 of the general conditions, will be repaid to the applicant.

No refund of land not sold.

21. In the event of the land for any reason not being sold, the applicant will have no right to a refund; but it may, as a matter of consideration, be allowed him by the Commissioner in special cases, and in any case the Collector may refund any money not expended.

III.—ISSUE OF NOTICE OF SALE.

Advertisement and notice of sale.

22. When the land has been surveyed and demarcated, and the Collector is satisfied, from the inquiry made in the manner above prescribed, that it may properly be sold, he shall issue a Notice of Sale in the form given in Annexure B.

Publication of Notice of Sale.

23. The notice of sale will be published at the Collector's Office, at the Court of the principal Judicial Officer of the District, at the Sub-Divisional Office, at the Munsif's Court (if there be one), and at the Police Station within the limits of which the lands are situate. A copy will be sent to the Commissioner. Where the area of the lot to be sold exceeds one hundred acres, an advertisement of the proposed sale (in the form set forth in Annexure C) will also be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Notices to contain reservations.

24. In framing the Notice, the Collector must be careful to state as precisely as possible all rights which will be reserved, such as the roads and water-ways which will be held available for the use of Government and the public use (vide Clause 2 of the General Conditions), the strips of land on each side of public roads required by Rule 5, Section I, above, and all other particulars which are peculiar to the lot in question, and are not covered by the "General Conditions of Sale." The character of the permanent boundary marks which the purchaser will be required to erect should also be specified either by referring to Clause 18 of the conditions of sale, or by special description if necessary.

Upset price.

25. The upset price to be entered in Clause 3 of the Notice should be calculated on the whole area of the lot without any deduction whatsoever. Ordinarily, it will be calculated at the rate laid down for each district in the Schedule appended to this Rule; but if any portion, not exceeding two-thirds of a lot, be unculturable, the upset price of such portion shall be fixed at one-half the rate contained in the Schedule. In special cases the Collector may, with the sanction of the Commissioner, put a higher upset price on a lot. In considering the upset price to be fixed, Collectors will not overlook the value of the trees on the land applied for. When any portion of the land is described as unculturable, the Collector must satisfy himself as well as he can by due inquiry that it really is unfit for cultivation. (See on this point Clause 16 of the General Conditions of Sale.)

Schedule of Rates of upset prices.

| | Upset price per acre. |
|---|---|
| | Rs. |
| Districts of the Assam Division .. .. | 8 |
| Districts of Cachar and Sylhet .. .. | 8 |
| Districts of the Chittagong Division .. | 6 |
| Districts of the Chota Nagpore Division.. | 5 |
| The Soonderbuns .. .. .. .. | 5 |
| All other districts .. .. .. | 10 |

Date for sale.

26. Under Section 1, Act XXIII of 1863, the day fixed for the sale must be not less than three months after the publication of the Notice, and it is desirable that three clear months shall intervene between the publication of the advertisement in the Gazette (when such an advertisement is required) and the day of sale. Subject to these conditions, the day should be fixed as early as is practicable. When there are several applications for waste land, sale days should be fixed at intervals of not more than two months.

Notice of postponed sale.

27. When for any reason a sale is deferred from the date originally fixed in the advertisements and Notices, intimation of the date to which it is deferred must be given by a public notice affixed at the Collector's Office.

Postponement of sale.

28. If the day to which the sale is postponed be more than fifteen days after the date originally fixed, the date to which it is deferred must be published for the space of one month at least in the manner prescribed by Rule 23 for the original notification of the day of sale.

In this case the expenses of the publication of the advertisement (if any) will be borne by the Government.

Disposal of claims to the land.

29. If after the issue of the notice, and before the day of sale, any claim be preferred or objection taken, the Collector must proceed as directed in Act XXIII of 1863.

Action if claim is established

30. If the Collector shall consider that any claim or objection is established, he will stop the sale as directed by Section 4, Act XXIV of 1863, and will make a special report to the Commissioner; if the objection be such as can properly be got over by an arrangement, without proceeding to formal trial under Section 6 of the Act, the Commissioner may, with the approval of the Board, order the arrangement to be made and the sale to be held.

Second notification of sale.

31. Should the sale have been stopped or postponed in consequence of any claim or objection having been made, and should such claim or objection be eventually disposed of and it be determined to proceed with the sale, the Collector must issue a second notification of sale. This notification is to be issued, in the manner prescribed for the first Notice by Rule 23, at least one month before the day fixed for the sale. The cost of advertisement will be borne by the Government.

IV.—SALE.

Auction-sale

32. If no claim to proprietary or other right in the land be preferred or discovered before the day of sale, and if the sale be not stayed for any other reason, the lot will be sold in accordance with, and subject to, the conditions of sale of waste lands set forth in Annexure A, and in the Notice of Sale of which the form is given in Annexure B.

V.—PROCEDURE AFTER SALE

Permanent demarcation of land.

33. On being put in possession of a lot which has not been previously defined by permanent marks, the purchaser will be bound, under Clause 4 of the Notice of Sale, to demarcate such lot by such durable marks to the satisfaction of the Collector as may be specified in that Clause; but the Collector need not require stone marks or mounds to be erected between platforms when the boundary runs along a river, well-defined nullah, or made road: and it will be within the discretion of the Collector to dispense with stone boundary marks and to cause demarcation to be made in such other manner as he may see fit.

Advertisement of re-sale.

34. When a lot is re-sold on default of the first purchaser, the Notice of such re-sale shall be published locally, and, if the District Officer considers it necessary, an advertisement shall be inserted in the Calcutta Gazette, sufficient notice being given to ensure publicity.

Lands bought in by Government available for re-sale.

35. Lands bought in for Government at re-sales, if they still are entirely waste, may be considered available for re-sale under these rules. If any portion has been cleared, the case is to be submitted for the orders of Government through the Commissioner and the Board, with a recommendation as to how the land should be disposed of.

VI.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Registers.

36. All sales of waste lands, and all payments and other processes until the full amount of purchase-money is paid up, shall be recorded in registers to be kept in such forms as the Board of Revenue may prescribe with the approval of Government.

Board to issue rules.

37. The Board of Revenue will issue any subsidiary instructions and forms which may be required to give effect to these rules.

Forms of deeds.

38. Forms of the deeds of conveyance and of hypothecation, as required by Clause 11 of the General Conditions of Sale, will be supplied to Officers who are authorized to sell.

---

GENERAL CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH WASTE LAND WILL BE SOLD.

Reservations may be made.

1. WASTE land will be sold subject to all existing rights-of-way and water and other easements, and to any exceptions and reservations which may be particularised in the Notice of Sale.

Use of streams and tow-paths to be reserved.

2. The right of using all streams and channels in any way navigable will be reserved to the public, as also the use of a tow-path, twenty feet in width, on each side of every such stream and channel.

Royalty on produce of mines and quarries

3. All land will be sold subject to the right of the Government to levy such royalty as it may think proper on the product of any mines or quarries which may be discovered and worked within such land.

4. Other particulars as to reservations are stated as correctly as possible in the Notices of Sale, and if any error, mis-statement, or omission is discovered in them, or in any other particulars in the Notices, the same shall not annul the sale; nor, except as hereinafter provided, shall any compensation be allowed either to the vendor or to the purchaser in respect thereof.

No compensation for mistakes.

5. Land will also be sold subject to any further written conditions and reservations which the officer holding the sale may notify at the time of sale, either under Section 2, Act XXIII of 1863, or otherwise.

Special conditions.

6. At any time before a lot has been actually sold under these conditions, the Government may withdraw such lot from sale.

Government may stop a sale.

7. The land described in the Notice will be put up in one lot. The bidding will begin from the upset price stated in the Notice, or which may be fixed by the Collector. No person shall advance less than Rs. 50 at each bid if the upset price or amount already bid amounts to Rs. 500, or less than Rs. 5, if under that amount. No bid shall be retracted. The highest bidder above the upset or fixed price shall be the purchaser; and if any dispute arises between two or more bidders, the land may be put up again for sale at any preceding bid.

Sale.

8. Immediately on the lot being knocked down, the purchaser shall pay to the Collector, in part of the purchase-money, a deposit equal to one rupee for each acre of the land, and at the same time sign a completed agreement in the form annexed to these conditions. In default of immediate payment of such deposit, or in the event of refusal to sign the agreement, the Collector may at once, or at any other time, put the lot up again and re-sell it, and the person making such default or refusing to sign shall bear and pay any deficiency in price resulting from, and expenses incurred by, such re-sale.

Immediate deposit.

9. The purchaser shall, within three months from the date of the sale, pay a sum which, together with the deposit paid at the time of sale, shall amount to not less than one-half of the entire purchase-money. And he shall, if he be other than the original applicant for sale, pay to the Collector within the same period the amount of money paid by the applicant for survey, demarcation, and advertisement of the lot.

Half the price to be paid in three months.

10. The balance of the purchase-money (if any) shall be paid within five years from the date of sale.

Full payment within five years.

11. On payment of not less than one-half the purchase-money and of the further amount required by Clause 9 within three months from the date of sale, the purchaser will be entitled to have executed to him a proper conveyance of the purchased property free for ever from all demand on account of land revenue, but subject to all general taxes and local rates then or thereafter imposed by law, and subject also to these conditions of sale and to the additional conditions contained in the Notice of Sale so far as they are then applicable.

Conveyance and Deed of Mortgage.

In the event of any balance of purchase-money or interest thereon being owing at the time such conveyance is executed, there shall be endorsed thereon, and executed by the purchaser previous to the delivery of the conveyance, a proper mortgage of the property as security for such balance and interest, empowering Government through the Collector, in the event of default being made in payment of the purchase-money or interest thereon, to realise the said balance and interest by sale of the property without previous application to any Court. Such mortgage shall be duly registered at the expense of the purchaser. When the conveyance has been executed, and the mortgage, if any, registered, the Collector will at once put the purchaser into possession of the purchased property.

12. After the expiration of one month from the date of sale, simple interest at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum shall be payable by the purchaser on whatever portion of the purchase-money remains unpaid. The interest payable up to the 31st of December of each year shall be paid before the 15th of March next following.

Interest.

13. All moneys payable by the purchaser, except the deposit required by Clause 8, shall be payable at the Government treasury of the district. Payment may, however, be made at any other Government treasury, or at the Bank of Bengal, or any of its branches, a transfer receipt being obtained and delivered to the officer in charge of the Government treasury of the district on or before the due date. Such transfer receipts will be procurable on the terms for the time being in force with regard to similar transfer receipts for land revenue.

Money where payable.

14. If the purchaser fail to pay, within three months from the date of sale, an amount which, together with his deposit, shall be equal to at least one-half of the purchase-money, his deposit shall be absolutely forfeited to Government, and it shall be in the option of the Collector either simply to cancel the sale and declare the deposit forfeited, or to cancel the sale and re-sell the land either by public auction or private contract, at such time and place, and subject to such conditions and in such manner as he shall think fit, and any deficiency in price at such re-sale, as well as all expenses attending such re-sale, shall immediately after the same be made good and paid to the Collector by the defaulter; and in case of his failure to pay, the whole or such part of the deficiency and expenses as are not paid, shall be recovered by the Collector as and for liquidated damages. Any surplus arising by such re-sale shall belong wholly to Government.

Penalty on failure to pay half purchase-money within three months.

15. Any balance of the purchase-money or interest remaining unpaid at the expiration of the fifth year from the day of sale, may be realized by sale of the lot.

Eventual sale if whole price be not paid in five years.

The proceeds of such sale shall be applied in the first instance to the discharge of expenses attending the same, and then towards satisfaction of the claims of Government against the defaulting purchaser, to whom any surplus remaining will be refunded. Should the amount owing to Government not be fully satisfied out of the net proceeds of the sale, the Collector shall realise the balance as and for liquidated damages.

Disposal of sale proceeds.

16. If within five years from the date of sale any part of the area sold as unculturable be ascertained by the Collector after due inquiry to have been culturable at the time of such sale, the purchaser, his heirs, executors, administrators, or assigns, shall pay for every extra acre so ascertained to have been culturable the difference between the actual price paid (to be calculated at the average rate per acre at which the whole lot was sold) and the upset price prescribed for waste lands in the district. Such extra purchase-money shall be a charge upon the property, and be payable in two equal instalments,—one within six months, and the other within one year from the date on which the Collector may give notice of the demand. Any amount not so paid shall be recoverable in the same way as arrears of the original purchase-money.

Subsequent discovery of culturable land.

17. The purchaser shall, within three months from the date on which he is put in possession, erect such permanent marks on the boundary of the land as may be required by the notice of sale.

Boundary marks.

18. The boundary marks required shall be such as a masonry platform at each point where more than two lots or patches of waste or other properties meet, and large stones or mounds at every angle and at every 100 yards of the boundary line between such platforms or other marks.

Their character.

19. If the purchaser neglect so to demarcate the land within the time stipulated, the Collector may re-enter upon the land, cause it to be demarcated, and boundary marks to be erected, and recover the cost thereof from the purchaser.

Collector may demarcate.

20. The purchaser shall not, until the entire purchase-money and interest has been paid, alienate any portion of the land. He may, however, transfer it as a whole, but subject to all claims and liabilities existing under these conditions.

Prohibition of alienation.

21. In the event of any dispute arising between the purchaser of any lot sold under these conditions and the owner of any adjoining lot already sold, or which may hereafter be sold by the Government, regarding the common boundary of the same, the purchaser shall be bound to submit such dispute to the decision of the Collector, and the Collector's decision shall be final and conclusive.

Boundary disputes.

22. If it should at any time be found that land has been included in more than one lot, it will be held to belong to the lot first sold, and all subsequent sales as regards such lands will be null and void. The price paid by any subsequent purchaser for land thus excluded from his lot will be refunded to him, with simple interest at 5 per cent. The sum to be refunded is to be calculated on the average price paid per acre, excluding the cost of survey, demarcation, and advertisement.

Refund of excess payment.

23. The law and the Board's rules in regard to the registry of transfers of proprietary rights in other estates, revenue-paying and revenue-free, will be held applicable to the registry of transfers of land sold under these conditions.

Registry of transfers.

Saving of law and rules in regard to transfers.

24. If any land sold under these conditions should thereafter be required for any public purpose, such land, if still uncultivated, may be resumed by Government on payment to the grantee of the amount paid for the purchase of such land calculated on the average price of the lot per acre, with 10 per cent. interest from the date on which he paid the last instalment of the purchase-money, and 20 per cent. on the original price as compensation for disturbance; provided that the price to be so paid shall not exceed double the original price

RESOLUTION.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

The 2nd February 1874.

The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct that the following Rules for the sale of waste lands, which have been prepared in communication with the Government of India, shall be published for the guidance of the Government officers concerned and for the information of the public. The rules will take effect at once.

By order, &c.,

H. L. DAMPIER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RULES FOR THE SALE OF WASTE LANDS.

I.—LANDS AVAILABLE FOR SALE UNDER THESE RULES.

Definition of waste land.

1. By "Waste Land" is meant land covered with jungle, or uncultivated, and of such character, or in such a position, that it is not likely to be taken up for the cultivation of the ordinary native staples of the country within a reasonable time.

Conditions.

2. All sales shall be subject to the General Conditions of Sale appended hereto as Annexure A.

Waste land available for sale.

3. Waste land the property of Government which does not fall within any of the exceptions specified below, may be sold by the District Officer as hereinafter provided.

General reservations.

4. The exceptions are the following:—Land bearing valuable timber, land which is especially valuable for grazing, for the supply of fuel or for any other reason, and land known or supposed to contain valuable minerals, will be reserved from sale. The Collector will be careful not to sell without special report and orders any land which may be claimed by wild tribes on the borders of the district, or over which either the inhabitants of neighbouring villages, or such wild tribes, may claim any privilege, and it shall be within his discretion to reserve any land which in his opinion, for any other special reason, should not be sold, and to reject any application for such land, provided that such reserve or refusal shall be reported for the orders of the Commissioner of the Division.

Reservation for special causes by Collector.

Land to be reserved on side of roads.

5. A strip of land, sixty feet wide, is to be reserved on each side of every considerable public road. [See instructions annexed to the second clause of the Notice of Sale, Annexure B.]

Exception of special tracts.

6. When the Government shall, on political or other grounds, except any district or part of a district from the operation of these Rules, or of any part thereof, the waste land of such excepted tract shall not be sold under these rules, or shall be sold subject to such special reservations as may be laid down.

Lands beyond inner frontier line not saleable.

7. In any district to which the Bengal Eastern Frontier Regulation (approved by the Governor-General in Council in 1873, under Act XXXIII Vic., cap. 3,) shall be extended, no application for the sale of land lying beyond the boundary line defined under Section 2 of the said Regulation shall be entertained without the special sanction of Government; and any proceedings taken without such sanction in respect of lands so situate will be null and void, and may be immediately, and at any time, set aside by the Commissioner, with or without appeal.

II.—APPLCIATIONS AND PROCEDURE BEFORE ADVERTISEMENT.

Application for land—its contents.

8. The Collector shall require intending purchasers to submit to him an application containing the following particulars:—

1*st*. The estimated area in acres of the land applied for, with its character and description; and

2*nd*. The situation of the land and its boundaries accurately ascertained, and described as fully as possible.

Register of applications.

9. All applications will be entered at once in a register, of which the form will be prescribed by the Board of Revenue.

Lots to be compact.

10. Every lot applied for must be compact, including no more than one tract of land such as might be enclosed in a ring fence. If the land touches a dublic road or a navigable river, the length of the road or river frontage must not exceed one-half the depth of the lot; but if, for any special reasons, the Board of Revenue see fit to relax this restriction, it may do so.

Limitation of area of each lot.

11. No greater area of land than fifteen hundred acres will be sold in one lot without the express sanction of the Government. If in particular localities a lower maximum area than fifteen hundred acres should be determined upon, further instructions will be issued hereafter. There is no prohibition against the same person applying for two or more lots of land, provided that each application comprises no more than the prescribed maximum. But the Collector may refuse to comply with an application made by the same parties for a second lot, unless it is satisfactorily shown that the applicants really have immediately available the means of cultivating the lots applied for, and that they intend to cultivate both the lots applied for.

Inquiry into rights and claims on the land

Exclusion of recently-cultivated land from sale.

12. On receipt of an application, the Collector shall take measures to satisfy himself by local inquiry that it complies with all requirements of these rules, and that the land is such as can properly be sold. Should he find any persons settled on the land, or otherwise using it with any semblance of right, he will refuse to sell, and will report the matter for the orders of the Commissioner. In no case shall any cultivated or inhabited land be sold as waste, nor shall any land which may appear to have been cultivated within twenty years be so sold without special report to the Commissioner. In all doubtful cases the Commissioner will report for the orders of the Board of Revenue.

When the inquiry may be made.

13. If the land has not been previously surveyed and demarcated, the foregoing inquiry may be made either before, or simultaneously with, the survey required by the next rule.

Call for amended application.

If, on completion of the survey, it appears that the land applied for exceeds the maximum area prescribed for the district, or if at any time before the sale the inquiries of the Collector show that the lot as applied for does not fulfil the requirements of these Rules, the Collector may call for an amended application; and in the event of a revised application not being given in within fifteen days, the application may be cancelled, and the deposit returned to the applicant less the amount of expense actually incurred for survey, demarcation and advertisement: provided that in any such case it shall be in the discretion of the Collector to extend the period within which a revised application will be received.

Survey before sale indispensable.

14. No lot will be sold until it has been surveyed and demarcated. When the application is for land which has not been already surveyed, the applicant will be required to deposit the estimated cost of survey.

Deposit of fees by applicant.

For survey.

15. The cost of survey payable by the applicant will be at the rate of eight annas for each acre, unless for special reasons a higher rate is required. The sum so be deposited before survey will be calculated at the required rate on the area which the lot is estimated to contain, the payment being subsequently adjusted by a refund or a further payment, according to the area which is actually ascertained by survey.

Agency for survey.

16. When a survey is required, it shall be made by such agency as the Government may from time to time direct, and shall, before it is finally accepted, be tested on the spot by an officer appointed for such purpose.

For demarcation.

17. Where the lot has not already been demarcated, the applicant may be allowed to demarcate its boundaries himself in the manner required by the Collector, or the Collector may undertake to demarcate it for him. In the latter case the applicant shall deposit the cost of clearing and demarcating the boundaries as estimated by the Collector. This deposit will be in addition to the amount deposited as cost of survey, where a survey is necessary, and will also be subject to adjustment, when the actual cost of the clearance and demarcation shall have been ascertained.

Preliminary demarcation.

18. When the land has not been previously defined by permanent marks, the demarcation to be required under Rule 17 need only be of such a description as clearly to identify the boundaries of the land on the spot, and such as will suffice as a sure guide for the erection after the sale of the permanent marks required by Clause 17 of the General Conditions of Sale.

For advertisement.

19. If the area of the lot applied for exceeds one hundred acres, the applicant shall further be required to deposit Rs. 16 for expenses of the advertisement, prescribed in Rule 23 below.

Refund of deposit for survey in certain cases.

20. In the event of the land being put up to sale and being purchased by any person other than the applicant, the amount paid by the applicant for survey, demarcation, and advertisement, when recovered from the purchaser under Clause 9 of the general conditions, will be repaid to the applicant.

No refund of land not sold.

21. In the event of the land for any reason not being sold, the applicant will have no right to a refund; but it may, as a matter of consideration, be allowed him by the Commissioner in special cases, and in any case the Collector may refund any money not expended.

III.—ISSUE OF NOTICE OF SALE.

Advertisement and notice of sale.

22. When the land has been surveyed and demarcated, and the Collector is satisfied, from the inquiry made in the manner above prescribed, that it may properly be sold, he shall issue a Notice of Sale in the form given in Annexure B.

Publication of Notice of Sale.

23. The notice of sale will be published at the Collector's Office, at the Court of the principal Judicial Officer of the District, at the Sub-Divisional Office, at the Munsif's Court (if there be one), and at the Police Station within the limits of which the lands are situate. A copy will be sent to the Commissioner. Where the area of the lot to be sold exceeds one hundred acres, an advertisement of the proposed sale (in the form set forth in Annexure C) will also be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Notices to contain reservations.

24. In framing the Notice, the Collector must be careful to state as precisely as possible all rights which will be reserved, such as the roads and water-ways which will be held available for the use of Government and the public use (vide Clause 2 of the General Conditions), the strips of land on each side of public roads required by Rule 5, Section I, above, and all other particulars which are peculiar to the lot in question, and are not covered by the "General Conditions of Sale." The character of the permanent boundary marks which the purchaser will be required to erect should also be specified either by referring to Clause 18 of the Conditions of Sale, or by special description if necessary.

Upset price.

25. The upset price to be entered in Clause 3 of the Notice should be calculated on the whole area of the lot without any deduction whatsoever. Ordinarily, it will be calculated at the rate laid down for each district in the Schedule appended to this Rule; but if any portion, not exceeding two-thirds of a lot, be unculturable, the upset price of such portion shall be fixed at one-half the rate contained in the Schedule. In special cases the Collector may, with the sanction of the Commissioner, put a higher upset price on a lot. In considering the upset price to be fixed, Collectors will not overlook the value of the trees on the land applied for. When any portion of the land is described as unculturable, the Collector must satisfy himself as well as he can by due inquiry that it really is unfit for cultivation. (See on this point Clause 16 of the General Conditions of Sale.)

Should the sale have been stopped or postponed in consequence of any claim or objection having been made, and should such claim or objection be eventually disposed of and it be determined to proceed with the sale, the Collector must issue a second notification of sale. Any surplus arising by such re-sale shall belong wholly to Government.

Penalty on failure to pay half purchase-money within three months.

15. Any balance of the purchase-money or interest remaining unpaid at the expiration of the fifth year from the day of sale, may be realized by sale of the lot.

The proceeds of such sale shall be applied in the first instance to the discharge of expenses attending the same, and then towards satisfaction of the claims of Government against the defaulting purchaser, to whom any surplus remaining will be refunded. Should the amount owing to Government not be fully satisfied out of the net proceeds of the sale, the Collector shall realize the balance as and for liquidated damages.

Disposal of sale proceeds.

16. If within five years from the date of sale any part of the area sold as unculturable be ascertained by the Collector after due inquiry to have been culturable at the time of such sale, the purchaser, his heirs, executors, administrators, or assigns, shall pay for every extra acre so ascertained to have been culturable the difference between the actual price paid (to be calculated at the average rate per acre at which the whole lot was sold) and the upset price prescribed for waste lands in the district. Such extra purchase-money shall be a charge upon the property, and be payable in two equal instalments,—one within six months, and the other within one year from the date on which the Collector may give notice of the demand. Any amount not so paid shall be recoverable in the same way as arrears of the original purchase-money.

Subsequent discovery of culturable land.

17. The purchaser shall, within three months from the date on which he is put in possession, erect such permanent marks on the boundary of the land as may be required by the Notice of Sale.

Boundary marks.

18. The boundary marks required shall be such as a masonry platform at each point where more than two lots or patches of waste or other properties meet, and large stones or mounds at every angle and at every 100 yards of the boundary line between such platforms or other marks.

Their character.

19. If the purchaser neglect so to demarcate the land within the time stipulated, the Collector may re-enter upon the land, cause it to be demarcated, and boundary marks to be erected, and recover the cost thereof from the purchaser.

Collector may demarcate.

20. The purchaser shall not, until the entire purchase-money and interest has been paid, alienate any portion of the land. He may, however, transfer it as a whole, but subject to all claims and liabilities existing under these conditions.

Prohibition of alienation.

21. In the event of any dispute arising between the purchaser of any lot sold under these conditions and the owner of any adjoining lot already sold, or which may hereafter be sold by the Government, regarding the common boundary of the same, the purchaser shall be bound to submit such dispute to the decision of the Collector, and the Collector's decision shall be final and conclusive.

Boundary disputes

22. If it should at any time be found that land has been included in more than one lot, it will be held to belong to the lot first sold, and all subsequent sales as regards such lands will be null and void. The price paid by any subsequent purchaser for land thus excluded from his lot will be refunded to him, with simple interest at 5 per cent. The sum to be refunded is to be calculated on the average price paid per acre, excluding the cost of survey, demarcation, and advertisement.

Refund of excess payment

23. The law and the Board's rules in regard to the registry of transfers of proprietary rights in other estates, revenue-paying and revenue-free, will be held applicable to the registry of transfers of land sold under these conditions.

Registry of transfers.

Saving of law and rules in regard to transfers

24. If any land sold under these conditions should thereafter be required for any public purpose, such land, if still uncultivated, may be resumed by Government on payment to the grantee of the amount paid for the purchase of such land calculated on the average price of the lot per acre, with 10 per cent. interest from the date on which he paid the last instalment of the purchase-money, and 20 per cent. on the original price as compensation for disturbance; provided that the price to be so paid shall not exceed double the original price.

32. The Supreme Court shall have in all matters, civil and criminal, an original jurisdiction concurrent with the jurisdiction of the Court for Egypt and of the several Provincial Courts, to be exercised subject and according to the provisions of this Order.

33. The supreme Court shall ordinarily sit at Constantinople, but may, on emergency, sit at any other place within the district of the Consulate-General of Constantinople, and may at any time transfer its ordinary sittings to any such place as the Secretary of State approves.

34. The Judge of the Supreme Court may, if and when he thinks fit, visit in a magisterial or judicial capacity any place in the Ottoman dominions, and there inquire of, or hear and determine, any case, civil or criminal,—or may direct the Assistant Judge of the Supreme Court to visit in the like capacity, and for the like purpose any place in the Ottoman dominions. The Assistant Judge shall in every such case, subject to the provisions of this Order, have the like jurisdiction, power, and authority as the Judge of the Supreme Court.

35. The Court for Egypt shall have in all matters, civil and criminal, an original jurisdiction, concurrent with the jurisdiction of the several Provincial Courts in Egypt, to be exercised subject and according to the provisions of this Order.

36. The Court for Egypt shall ordinarily sit at Alexandria or Cairo, but may at any time transfer its ordinary sittings to any such place in Egypt as the Secretary of State approves.

37 The Judge of the Court for Egypt may, if and when he thinks fit, visit in a magisterial or judicial capacity any place in Egypt, and there inquire of, or hear and determine, any case, civil or criminal.

38. A provincial Court held before a commissioned Consular officer shall have in all matters, civil and criminal, an original jurisdiction concurrent with the jurisdiction of the several Provincial Courts (if any) held within the district of the first-mentioned Court before uncommissioned Consular officers, to be exercised subject and according to the provisions of this Order.

39. The Court for Egypt or a Provincial Court may, of its own motion, or on the application of any person concerned, report to the supreme Court the pendency of any case, civil or criminal, which appears to the Court for Egypt or the Provincial Court fit to be heard and determined by the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court shall thereupon direct in what mode and where the case shall be heard and determined, and the same shall be so heard and determined accordingly.

40. The Supreme Court, the Court for Egypt, and each Provincial Court held before a commissioned Consular officer shall, in the exercise of every part of its jurisdiction, be a Court of Record.

41. The Court for Egypt and each Provincial Court shall excute a writ or order issuing from the Supreme Court, and shall take security from any person named in a writ or order for his appearance personally or by attorney, and shall, in default of security being given, or when the Supreme Court so orders, send the person to Constantinople on board one of Her Majesty's vessels of war, or, if none is available, then on board some British or other fit vessel.

The order of the Court shall be sufficient authority to the Commander or master of the vessel to receive and detain the person, and to carry him to and deliver him up to Constantinople, according to the order.

42. The Supreme Court, the Court for Egypt, and each Provincial Court shall be auxiliary to one another in all particulars relative to the administration of justice, civil or criminal.

43. Each Provincial Court shall every twelve months furnish to the Supreme Court a report of every case, civil and criminal, brought before it in such form as the Supreme Court from time to time directs.

44. A suit or proceeding shall not be commenced in the Court against any person for anything done or omitted under this Order, unless notice in writing is given by the intending plaintiff or prosecutor to the intended defendant one month at least before the commencement of the suit or proceeding, nor unless it is commenced within three months next after the act or omission complained of, or in case of a continuation of damage, within three months next after the ceasing of the damage.

The plaintiff in such a suit shall not succeed if tender of sufficient amends is made by the defendant before the commencement thereof; and if no tender is made, the defendant may, by leave of the Court, at any time pay into Court such sum of money as he thinks fit; and thereupon such proceeding and order shall be had and made in and by the Court, as the Court thinks just.

Sale of Copies.

45. A copy of this Order shall be exhibited in each Court. Printed copies shall be provided and shall be sold at such reasonable price as the Supreme Court directs.

Forms.

46. The forms set forth in the Second Schedule to this Order, or forms to the like effect, may be used with such variations as circumstances require.

Fees.

47. The fees specified in the Third Schedule to this Order shall be paid.

Reconciliation.

48. In civil cases, the Court and its officers shall, as far as there is proper opportunity, promote reconciliation among persons over whom the Court has jurisdiction, and encourage and facilitate the settlement in an amicable way, and without recourse to litigation, of matters in difference among them.

Where a civil suit or proceeding is pending, the Court may promote reconciliation among the parties thereto, and encourage and facilitate the amicable settlement thereof.

In criminal cases, the Court may promote reconciliation and encourage and facilitate the settlement in an amicable way of proceedings for assault or for any other offence not amounting to felony and being of a private or personal character, on terms of payment of compensation or other terms approved by the Court, and may thereupon order the proceedings to be stayed.

Language.

49. Every summons, order and other document issuing from the Court shall be in English or Italian or in English and Italian.

Every petition, answer and other document filed in the Court in a civil or criminal proceeding by a party thereto shall be in English, or French, or Italian.

Every affidavit used in the Court shall be in English or in the ordinary language of the person swearing it.

An affidavit in any language other than English, or French, or Italian, shall be accompanied by a sworn translation into English, or French, or Italian, procured by and at the expense of the person using the affidavit.

Where there is a jury, all the proceedings before the jury shall be conducted in English,—evidence, if given in any other language, being interpreted.

Seals.

50. Summonses, orders, and other documents issuing from the Supreme Court, or from the Court for Egypt, shall be sealed with the seal of that Court.

Those issuing from a Provincial Court shall be sealed with the official seal of the Consular officer by whom they are issued.

Minutes of Proceedings.

51. In every case, civil or criminal, minutes of the proceedings shall be drawn up, and shall be signed by the Judge or Consular officer before whom the proceedings are taken, and shall, where the suit is heard with assessors, be open for their inspection and for their signature if concurred in by them.

These minutes, with the depositions of witnesses, and the notes of evidence taken at the hearing or trial by the Judge or Consular officer, shall be preserved in the public office of the Court.

Counsel, Attorneys and Agents.

52. Every person doing an act or taking a proceeding in the Court as plaintiff in a civil case, or as making a criminal charge against another person, or otherwise, shall do so in his own name and not otherwise, and either—

(a) by himself; or

(b) by his counsel or attorney-at-law; or

(c) by his procurator or agent thereunto lawfully authorised in writing.

Where the act is done or proceeding taken by an attorney, procurator, or agent, the power of attorney, or instrument constituting the procurator or agent, or an authenticated copy thereof, shall be first filed in the Court.

Where the authority has reference only to the particular proceeding the original document shall be filed.

Where the authority is general, or has reference to other matters in which the attorney, procurator, or agent is empowered to act, an authenticated copy of the document may be filed.

If any person does an act or takes a proceeding in the Court in the name or on behalf of another person, not being lawfully authorised thereunto, and knowing himself not to be so authorised, he shall be deemed guilty of a contempt of Court.

Where in this Order appearance is referred to, appearance in person, or by counsel, attorney, procurator, or agent as aforesaid, is meant, unless it is otherwise expressed.

Service.

53. Service of a petition, notice, summons, order, or other document of which service is required by this Order, or according to the course of the Court, shall be made by an officer of the Court, unless in any case the Court thinks fit otherwise to direct.

Service shall not be made except under an order of the Court indorsed on or subscribed or annexed to the document to be served, which order is for the purposes of this Order deemed part of the document to be served.

Unless in any case the Court thinks it just and expedient otherwise to direct, service shall be personal,—that is, the document to be served shall be delivered to the person to be served, himself.

Where it appears to the Court (either after or without an attempt at personal service) that for any reason personal service cannot be conveniently effected, the Court may order that service be effected either—

(i) by delivery of the document to some adult inmate at the usual or last known place of abode or business within the particular jurisdiction of the person to be served; or

(ii) by delivery thereof to some person being an agent of the person to be served, or to some other person within the particular jurisdiction, on it being proved that there is reasonable probability that the document will, through that agent or other person, come to the knowledge of the person to be served; or

(iii) by advertisement in some newspaper circulating within the particular jurisdiction; or

(iv) by notice put up at the Court or at some other place of public resort within the particular jurisdiction.

An order for service may be varied from time to time with respect to the mode of service directed by the order.

Service not required to be personal shall be made before five o'clock in the evening.

If made after that hour on any day but Saturday, it shall be considered as made on the following day.

If made after that hour on Saturday, it shall be considered as made on the following Monday.

Service shall not be made on Sunday, Christmas day, or Good Friday

Ordinarily, service shall not be made out of the particular jurisdiction, except under an order for that purpose made by the Court within whose jurisdiction service is to be made, which order may be made on the request of any other Court, and shall in each case direct in what mode service is to be made.

Where, however, the urgency or other peculiar circumstances of the case appear to any Court so to require (for reasons recorded in the minutes), the Court may order that service be made out of its particular jurisdiction.

Computation of Time.

54. Where by this order, or any order of the Court, or the course of the Court, any limited time from or after any date or event is appointed or allowed for the doing of any act, or the taking of any proceeding, and the time is not limited by hours, the following rules shall apply;—

(i) the limited time does not include the day of the date of or the happening of the event, but commences at the beginning of the day next following that day;

(ii) the act or proceeding must be done or taken at latest on the last day of the limited time;

(iii) where the limited time is less than six days, the following days shall not be reckoned as part of the time, namely Sunday, Good Friday, Monday and Tuesday in Easter week, Christmas-day, and the day next before and the day next after Christmas-day.

(iv) where the time expires on one of those days, the act or proceeding shall be considered as done or taken in due time if it is done or taken on the next day afterwards not being one of those days.

Discretion of Court as to Practice.

55. Notwithstanding anything in this Order, the Court (for reasons recorded in the minutes) may at any time, and from time to time, do any of the following things as the Court thinks just:—

(i) defer or adjourn the hearing or determination of any suit, matter, proceeding, or application;

(ii) order or allow any amendment of any petition, answer, notice, or other document;

(iii) appoint or allow a time for, or enlarge or abridge the time appointed or allowed for, or allow further time for, the doing of any act or the taking of any proceeding.

56. The Court on making any order which it is in its discretion to make, may make the order on such terms respecting time, costs, and other matters as the Court thinks fit.

Obstruction or Disturbance of Court.

57. If any person wilfully obstructs by act or threat an officer of the Court in the performance of his duty;

Or within or close to the room or place where the Court is sitting, wilfully misbehaves in a violent, threatening, or disrespectful manner, to the disturbance of the Court, or to the terror of the suitor or others resorting thereto;

Or wilfully insults the Judge, or any Consular officer, or any assessor or juror, or any clerk or officer of the Court, during his sitting or attendance in Court, or in his going to or returning from Court;—

He shall be liable to be immediately apprehended by order of the Court, and to be detained until the rising of the Court, and on inquiry and consideration then and there, and without further trial, to be punished with a fine of not more than 5*l.*, or imprisonment for not more than seven days, in the discretion of the Court.

A minute shall be made and kept of every such case of punishment, recording the facts of the offence, and the extent of the punishment; and in the case of a Provincial Court, a copy of the minute shall be forthwith sent to the Supeme Court.

Misconduct of Officers of Court.

58. If an officer of the Court employed to execute an order, by neglect or omission loses the opportunity of executing it, then on complaint of the person aggrieved, and proof of the fact alleged, the Court may, if it thinks fit, order the officer to pay the damages sustained by the person complaining, or part thereof, and the order shall be enforced as an order directing payment of money.

59. If a clerk or officer of the Court, acting under pretence of the process or authority of the Court, is charged with extortion or with not duly paying over money levied, or with other misconduct, the Court, if it thinks fit, may (without prejudice to any other liability or punishment to which the clerk or officer would, in the absence of the present provision, be liable) inquire into the charge in a summary way, and may for that purpose summon and enforce the attendance of all necessary persons as in a suit, and may make such order for the repayment of any money extorted, or for the payment over of any money levied, and for the payment of such damages and costs as the Court thinks just; and the Court may also, if it thinks fit, impose on the clerk or officer such fine, not exceeding 10*l.* for each offence, as the Court thinks just.

Fees and other Money.

60. All costs and all charges and expenses of witnesses, prosecutions, punishments, and deportations, and other charges and expenses, and all fees, fines, forfeitures, and pecuniary penalties payable under this Order, may be levied by distress and siezure and sale of ships, goods, and lands; and any bill of sale, or mortgage, or transfer of property made with the view of avoiding such distress, seizure, or sale, shall not be permitted to defeat the provisions of this Order.

61. All fees fines, forfeitures, and pecuniary penalties levied under this Order shall be carried to the public account, and be applied in diminution of the public expenditure on account of Her Majesty's Consular service in the Ottoman dominions.

Witnesses.

62. In any case, civil or criminal, and at any stage thereof, the Court, either of its own motion, or on the application of any party, may summon a subject or protected person, being within the particular jurisdiction, to attend to give evidence, or to produce documents, or to be examined.

If the person summoned, having reasonable notice of the time and place at which he is required to attend, fails to attend accordingly, and does not excuse his failure to the satisfaction of the Court, he shall (independently of any other liability) be deemed guilty of an offence against this Order, and be liable to a fine of not more than 100*l.*, or to imprisonment for not more than one month, in the discretion of the Court.

63. In a criminal case, where it is proved that a subject or protected person within the particular jurisdiction is likely to give material evidence, either for the prosecution or for the defence, and that he will not voluntarily attend to give evidence, the Court shall issue a summons for his attendance.

If he does not obey the summons, and does not excuse his failure to the satisfaction of the Court, then (after proof of the service of the summons) the Court may issue a warrant to compel his attendance.

Where it is proved to be probable that a person who might be so summoned will not attend to give evidence unless compelled to do so, then the Court, instead of issuing a summons, may issue a warrant in the first instance.

If any such person on his appearance, either in obedience to a summons, or on being brought up under a warrant, refuse to take an oath, or having taken an oath to answer any question put to him, and does not excuse his refusal to the satisfaction of the Court, then the Court may, by warrant, commit him to prison, there to remain for not more than seven days, unless he in the meantime consents to answer duly on oath.

64. If in any case, civil or criminal, a subject or protected person wilfully gives false evidence on oath in the Court, or on a reference, he shall be deemed guilty of wilful and corrupt perjury.

65. In a civil case, the Court may, if it thinks fit, order that the expenses of a witness, on his appearing to give evidence, be defrayed by the parties, or any of them.

66. In any case, civil or criminal, and at every stage thereof, the Court, on the application of either party, or of its own motion, may order witnesses on both sides to be kept out of Court until they have respectively given their evidence; but this provision does not extend to the parties themselves, or to their respective legal advisers, although intended to be called as witnesses.

67. In every case, civil or criminal, and at every stage thereof, the Court shall take a note of the substance of all oral evidence taken before it in a narrative form, but shall put down the terms of any particular question or answer, if there appears reason for doing so.

No person shall be entitled as of right, at any time or for any purpose, to inspection or a copy of the Court's notes of evidence.

68. In every case, civil or criminal, and at every stage thereof, each witness, after examination in chief, is subject to be cross-examined by the other party, and to be re-examined by the party calling him, and after re-examination may be questioned by the Court, and shall not be recalled or further questioned save through and by leave of the Court.

69. In a civil case, where evidence taken by affidavit, or by commission, or on deposition, is offered, the party offering it may read it before or after the oral evidence on his part is concluded.

70. In every case, civil or ciminal, and at every stage thereof any objection to the reception of evidence shall be made at the time the evidence is offered, and shall be argued and decided at the time.

Where a question proposed to be put to a witness is objected to, the Court, unless the objection appears frivolous, shall, if required by either party, take a note of the question and objection, and mention on the notes whether the question was allowed to be put or not, and the answer to it, if put.

71. In a civil case, where a person whose evidence would have been admissible is dead or insane, or for any reason appearing sufficient to the Court, is not present to give evidence, the Court may, if it thinks fit, receive proof of any evidence given by him in any former judicial proceeding; provided that the subject matter of the former proceeding was substantially the same as that of the pending proceeding, and that the parties to the pending proceeding were parties to the former proceeding or bound by it, and had an opportunity in it of cross-examining the person of whose evidence proof is so to be given.

72. In a criminal case, if it is proved that a person whose deposition has been taken is dead, or is so ill as not to be able to travel, and that his deposition was taken in the presence of the accused, and that the accused had full opportunity of cross-examining the witness, the deposition may be given in evidence.

73. In a criminal case, any statement made by the accused at the preliminary examination, in answer to the question put to him by the Court, as prescribed by this Order, may be given in evidence against him on the trial.

74. In a criminal case, nothing in this Order shall prevent the prosecutor from giving in evidence at the trial any omission or confession, or other statement of the accused made at anytime, which would by law, independently of this Order, be admissible as evidence against him.

75. In a civil case, where the circumstances of the case appear to the Court so to require, for reasons recorded in the minutes, the Court may, when a suit or application is pending, take the evidence of any witness at any time as preparatory to the hearing, and the evidence so taken may be used at the hearing, subject to just exceptions.

Any Court or Consular officer shall, on the request in writing of any Court before which a suit or application is pending, so take evidence for purposes of the suit or application.

The evidence shall be taken in like manner, as nearly as may be, as evidence at the hearing of a suit is to be taken, and then the note of the evidence shall be read over to the witness and tendered to him for signature, and if he refuses to sign it the Court shall add a note of his refusal, and the evidence may be used as if he had signed it.

Evidence may be taken in like manner on the application of any person, although no suit or application is pending where it is proved that the person applying has good reason to apprehend that a proceeding will be taken against him in the Court, and that some person within the particular jurisdiction at the time of application can give material evidence respecting the subject of the apprehended proceeding, but that he is about to leave the particular jurisdiction, or that from some other cause the person applying will lose the benefit of his evidence if it is not at once taken.

Affidavits.

76. Before an affidavit is used in the Court for any purpose, the original shall be filed in the Court and the original or an office copy shall alone be recognised for any purpose in the Court.

An affidavit sworn before a Consular officer of Her Majesty, authorized to take affidavits in any country, or before a Judge, or other person in the United Kingdom or in a British colony or possession, authorized to take affidavits, or before a Mayor or other Magistrate in a foreign country, authorized to administer an oath, or in the case of a foreigner being in the Ottoman dominions before his own proper Consular authority, may be used in the Court, subject to the rules of evidence.

An affidavit shall not be admitted if it is proved that it has been sworn before a person on whose behalf it is offered, or before his attorney, or before a partner or clerk of his attorney.

An affidavit may be used notwithstanding any defect in form, if it is proved that it has been sworn before a person duly authorized, and that the form thereof and that of the attestation thereto are in accordance with the law and custom of the place where it has been sworn.

A defective or erroneous affidavit may be amended and re-sworn, by leave of the Court in which it is to be used.

The Court may, if it thinks fit, for reasons recorded in the minutes, admit an affidavit in evidence, although it is shown that the party against whom the affidavit is offered in evidence had no opportunity of cross-examining the person making the affidavit.

77. Every affidavit used in the Court shall contain only a statement of facts and circumstances to which the witness deposes, either from his own personal knowledge or from information which he believes to be true.

It shall not contain extraneous matter, by way of objection, or prayer, or legal argument or conclusion.

Where a witness deposes to his belief in any matter of fact, and his belief is derived from any source other than his own personal knowledge, he shall set forth explicitly the facts and circumstances forming the ground of his belief.

Where his belief is derived from information received from another person, the name of his informant shall be stated, and reasonable particulars shall be given respecting the informant, and the time, place, and circumstances of the information.

78. The following regulations shall be observed by Consular officers before whom affidavits are taken :

Every affidavit taken in the matter of a suit or proceeding shall be headed in the Court, and in the suit or proceeding.

Every affidavit shall state the full name, trade or profession, address, and nationality of the witness.

It may be in the first or in the third person, and may be divided into convenient paragraphs numbered consecutively.

Any erasure, interlineation or alteration, made before the affidavit is sworn, shall be attested by the Consular officer, who shall affix his signature or initials in the margin immediately opposite to the interlineation, alteration, or erasure.

Where an affidavit proposed to be sworn is illegible, or difficult to read, or is in the judgment of the Consular officer so written as to facilitate fraudulent alteration, he may refuse to swear the witness, and may require the affidavit to be re-written.

The affidavit when sworn shall be signed by the witness (or if he cannot write marked by him with his mark) in the presence of the Consular officer.

The jurat shall be written without interlineation, alteration, or erasure, immediately at the foot of the affidavit, and towards the left side of the paper, and shall be signed by the Consular officer, and be sealed by him with his Consular seal.

It shall state the date of the swearing, and the place where it is sworn.

It shall state that the affidavit was sworn before the Consular officer.

Where the witness is blind or illiterate, it shall state that fact, and that the affidavit was read over to him in the presence of the Consular officer, and that the witness appeared to understand it.

Where the witness makes a mark instead of signing, the jurat shall state that fact, and that the mark was made in the presence of the Consular officer.

Where two or more persons join in making an affidavit, their several names shall be written in the jurat, and it shall appear by the jurat that each of them has been sworn to the truth of the several matters stated by him in the affidavit

The Consular officer shall not allow an affidavit when sworn to be altered in any manner without being re-sworn.

If the jurat has been added and signed, he shall add a new jurat on the affidavit being re-sworn ; and in the new jurat he shall mention the alteration.

He may refuse to allow the affidavit to be re-sworn, and may require a fresh affidavit.

Documentary Evidence.

79. In a civil case any party may call on any other party by notice filed and served to admit any document, subject to just exceptions.

In case of refusal or neglect to admit, the costs of proof of the document shall be paid by the party neglecting or refusing, unless the Court is of opinion that the refusal to admit was reasonable.

No costs of proof of any document shall be allowed unless notice to admit has been given, except in cases where the omission to give notice has, in the opinion of the Court, produced a saving of expense.

Every document offered as evidence, and not objected to shall be put in and read, or taken as read by consent.

Every document put in evidence shall be marked by the Court at the time, and shall be retained by the Court during the hearing and returned to the party who put it in, or from whose custody it came, immediately after the judgment, unless it is impounded by order of the Court.

Commissions to examine out of Ottoman Dominions.

80. The Supreme Court may, if it thinks fit, order that a commission do issue for examination of witnesses at any place out of the Ottoman dominions, on oath, by interrogatories or otherwise, and may, from time to time, by order, give such directions touching the time, place, and manner of the examination, or anything connected therewith, as to the Court appear reasonable and just.

Ottoman Subjects and Foreigners.

81. Where an Ottoman subject or foreigner desires to institute or take in the Court a suit or proceeding of a civil nature against a subject or protected person—or a subject or protected person desires to institute or take in the Court a suit or proceeding of a civil nature against an Ottoman subject or foreigner—the Court shall entertain the same, and shall hear and determine it, either by the Judge or proper Consular officer sitting alone, or, if all parties desire, or the Court thinks fit to direct, a trial with a jury or assessors, then at place where such a trial might be had if all parties were subjects, by the Judge or proper Consular officer with a jury or assessors, but in all other respects according to the ordinary course of the Court:

Provided that the Ottoman subject or foreigner first obtains and files in the Court the consent in writing of the competent authority on behalf of the Sublime Ottoman Porte or of his own nation (as the case may be) to his submitting, and does submit, to the jurisdiction of the Court, and, if required by the Court, gives security to the satisfaction of the Court, by deposit or otherwise, to pay fees, damages, costs, and expenses, and abide by and perform such decision as shall be given by the Court originally or on appeal (as the case may require.)

82. A cross-suit shall not be instituted in the Court against a plaintiff, being an Ottoman subject or foreigner who has submitted to the jurisdiction, by a defendant, without leave of the Court first obtained.

The Court before giving leave shall require proof from the defendant that his claim arises out of the subject-matter in dispute, and that there is reasonable ground for it, and that it is not made for vexation or delay.

Nothing in this provision shall prevent the defendant instituting or taking in the Court any suit or proceeding against the Ottoman subject or foreigner after the termination of the suit or proceeding in which the Ottoman subject or foreigner is plaintiff.

83. Where an Ottoman subject or foreigner obtains in the Court an order against a defendant being a subject or protected person, and in another suit that defendant is plaintiff and the Ottoman subject or foreigner is defendant, the Court may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the subject or protected person, stay the enforcement of the order pending that other suit, and may set off any amount ordered to be paid by one party in one suit against any amount ordered to be paid by the other party in the other suit.

Where a plaintiff, being an Ottoman subject or foreigner, obtains an order in the Court against two or more defendants being subjects or protected persons jointly, and in another suit one of them is plaintiff and the Ottoman subject or foreigner is defendant, the Court may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the subject or protected person, stay the enforcement of the order pending that other suit, and may set off any amount ordered to be paid by one party in one suit against any amount ordered to be paid by the other party in the other suit, without prejudice to the right of the subject or protected person to acquire contribution from his co-defendants under the joint liability.

84. Where an Ottoman subject or foreigner is co-plaintiff in a suit with a subject or protected person who is within the particular jurisdiction, it shall not be necessary for the Ottoman subject or foreigner to make deposit or give security for costs, unless the Court so directs, but the co-plaintiff subject or protected person shall be responsible for all fees and costs.

Ottoman or Foreign Tribunal.

85. Where it is proved that the attendance within the particular jurisdiction of a subject or protected person to give evidence, or for any other purpose connected with the administration of justice, is required in a Court or before a judicial officer of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, or of a State in amity with Her Majesty, the Court may, if it thinks fit, in a case and in circumstances in which the Court would require his attendance before the Court, order that he do attend in such Court or before such judicial officer, and for such purposes as aforesaid.

If the person ordered to attend, having reasonable notice of the time and place at which he is required to attend, fails to attend accordingly, and does not excuse his failure to the satisfaction of the Court, he shall (independently of any other liability) be deemed guilty of an offence against this Order, and he shall for every such offence, on conviction thereof, by summary trial, be liable to a fine of not more than 50*l.*, or to imprisonment for not more than one month, in the discretion of the Court.

VII.—CIVIL AUTHORITY AND PROCEDURE.

86. Each Court shall be a Court of Law and of Equity; and (subject to the provisions of this Order) shall have and may exercise all jurisdiction, power, and authority, legal, equitable, or other, which any Consul of Her Majesty by custom has or may exercise in the Ottoman dominions.

i.—BANKRUPTCY.

87. Each Court shall be a Court of Bankruptcy, and as such shall, as far as circumstances admit, have, for and within its own district, with respect to resident subjects and protected persons, and to their debtors and creditors, being either resident subjects or protected persons, or Ottoman subjects or foreigners submitting to the jurisdiction of the Court, all such jurisdiction as for the time being belongs to the Court of Bankruptcy and the County Courts in England, or to any other judicial authority having for the time being jurisdiction in Bankruptcy in England.

ii.—ADMIRALTY.

88. The Supreme Court shall be a Court of Vice-Admiralty, and as such shall, for and within the Ottoman dominions, and for vessels and persons coming within those dominions, have all such jurisdiction as for the time being ordinarily belongs to Courts of Vice-Admiralty in Her Majesty's possessions abroad.

The Court for Egypt shall be a Court of Vice-Admiralty, and as such shall, for its own district, and for vessels and persons coming within that district, have the like jurisdiction.

iii.—LUNACY.

89.—The Supreme Court shall, as far as circumstances admit, have in itself exclusively, for and within the Ottoman dominions, with respect to resident subjects and protected persons, all such jurisdiction relative to the custody and management of the persons and estates of persons of unsound mind, as for the time being belongs to the Lord Chancellor or other person or persons in England intrusted by virtue of Her Majesty's sign-manual with the care and commitment of the custody of the persons and estates of persons found by inquisition in England idiot, lunatic, or of unsound mind.

iv.—MATRIMONIAL CAUSES.

90. The Supreme Court shall be a Court for Matrimonial Causes, and, as such, shall, as far as circumstances admit, have in itself exclusively, for and within the Ottoman dominions, with respect to resident subjects and protected pesons, all such jurisdiction, except the jurisdiction relative to dissolution or nullity or jactitation of marriage, as for the time being belongs to the Court for Divorce and Matrimonial Causes in England.

v.—PROBATE.

91. The Supreme Court shall be a Court of Probate, and as such shall, as far as circumstances admit, have, for and within the Ottoman dominions, with respect to the property of deceased resident subjects or protected persons, all such jurisdiction as for the time being belongs to Her Majesty's Court of Probate in England.

The Court for Egypt or a Provincial Court shall, however, also have power to grant probate or letters of administration where there is no contention respecting the right to the grant, and it is proved that the deceased was resident at his death within the particular jurisdiction. That probate or administration shall have effect over all the property of the deceased within the Ottoman dominions, and shall effectually discharge persons dealing with an executor or administratior thereunder, notwithstanding that any defect afterwards appears in the grant. The grant shall not be impeachable by reason only that the deceased was not at the time of his death resident within the particular jurisdiction.

92. A subject or protected person may in his lifetime deposit for safe custody, in the Court, his own will, sealed up under his own seal and the seal of the Court.

vi.—SPECIAL JURISDICTIONS.

93. Where a civil suit or proceeding originally instituted in the Supreme Court—

(i) relates to money, goods, or other property, or any civil right or other matter, at issue, of a less amount or value than 100*l.*; or
(ii) is instituted for recovery of damages of a less amount than 100*l.*;

the Judge may refer the same to the Assistant Judge to be heard and determined by him, and the same shall be so heard and determined accordingly; but an appeal shall lie as of course to the Judge.

94. Where a civil suit or proceeding originally instituted in the Court for Egypt—

(i) relates to money, goods, or other property, or any civil right or other matter, at issue, of a less amount or value than 100*l.*; or the Judge may refer the same to the Law Secretary to be heard and determined by him, and the same shall be so heard and determined accordingly; but an appeal shall lie as of course to the Judge.
(ii) is instituted for recovery of damages of a less amount than 100*l*;

95. The Supreme Court may, from time to time, by deputation in writing under the hand of the Judge and the seal of the Court, authorise the Consul-General at Tunis to refer from time to time to the Vice-Consul at Tunis such civil cases as are described in the deputation; and all cases referred in pursuance thereof shall be so heard and determined accordingly; but an appeal shall lie as of course to the Consul-General at Tunis.

The deputation shall not have effect until it has been approved in writing by the Secretary of State, and may at any time be revoked by the Secretary of State by writing under his hand, or by the Supreme Court by writing under the hand of the Judge and the seal of the Court.

96. A Provincial Court held before an uncommissioned Consular officer shall not have jurisdiction except where the claim—

(i) relates to money, goods, or other property, or any civil right or other matter, at issue, of a less amount or value than 10*l.*; or

vii.—ARBITRATION.

97. The Court may, with consent of parties, refer to arbitration the final determination of any suit or proceeding pending, or of all matters in difference between the parties, on such terms and with such directions as to appointment of an arbitrator and other things as the Court thinks fit, with or without security from the parties, or any of them, that they will abide by the result of the reference.

In any such case the award shall be final and conclusive.

On the application of any party a decree of the Court may be entered in conformity with the award, and the decree shall not be open to appeal or re-hearing.

98. Every agreement for reference to arbitration or submission to arbitration by consent between or by subjects or protected persons, or subjects and protected persons, may, on the application of any party, be made a rule of the Court having jurisdiction in the matter of the reference or submission; and that Court shall thereupon have authority to enforce the agreement or submission and the award made thereunder, and to control and regulate the proceedings before and after the award, in such manner and on such terms as the Court thinks just.

The following provisions respecting arbitration apply exclusively to cases where the agreement for reference to arbitration or submission to arbitration by consent is so made a rule of Court.

99. The arbitrators shall make their award within one month after they have entered on the reference or have been called on to act by a notice in writing from any party, unless the document authorizing or making the reference contains a different limit of time.

100. The Court may, if it thinks fit on reasonable notice to all parties, from time to time, enlarge the time for making the award for such time as the Court thinks just, the reasons for enlargement being recorded in the minutes.

101. An umpire may enter on the reference in lieu of the arbitrators, if the arbitrators have allowed their time, or their extended time, to expire without making an award, or have filed in the Court a notice in writing that they cannot agree.

102. The authority of arbitrators or an umpire is not revocable, except by the Court.

103. Where it appears to the arbitrators or umpire that any difficult question of law is involved in or raised by the facts as finally ascertained by them or him, they or he may, if it seems to them or him fit, state the award (as to the whole or any part thereof) in the form of a case for the opinion of the Court having jurisdiction in the matter, or of the Supreme Court.

The Court shall consider and deliver judgment on the case, and shall be at liberty to draw inferences of fact from the facts stated, and to amend the case by reason of any irregularity, mistake, or imperfection.

104. The arbitrators or umpire shall have power to award how the costs of the reference shall be borne, in the whole or in part.

But an award respecting costs shall not preclude a party against whom costs are awarded from applying to the Court to tax the costs; and on that application the costs, including the remuneration (if any) of the arbitrators and umpire, or any of them, shall be taxed at a reasonable rate by the Court; and the Court shall make such order respecting the costs of taxation as the Court thinks just.

105. The award shall be in writing signed by the arbitrators or umpire making it.

It shall contain a conclusive finding, and may not find on the contingency of any matter of fact being afterwards substantiated or deposed to. It shall comprehend a finding on each of the several matters referred.

106. The arbitrators or umpire making an award shall, within the time limited, deposit the award in the Court, inclosed in a sealed cover, and indorsed with the names of the parties to the reference, and with a note of the amount claimed by the arbitrators and umpire for remuneration.

Notice of the award having been deposited shall be served by the Court on the parties, who shall be at liberty to read the award, and to have copies of it.

107. Any person interested may, within seven days after notice of the award, apply to the Court to prevent the execution of the award or of any specified part of it.

In default of any such application, the Court shall proceed, on reasonable notice to all parties, to make such order for carrying into effect the award, or any part thereof, and as to costs and other things, as the Court thinks just.

108. The Court may at any time, and from time to time, remit the matters referred, or any of them, to the reconsideration and redetermination of the arbitrators or umpire, on such terms as to costs and other things as the Court thinks just.

109. The Court shall not refuse to execute an award merely on the ground of irregularity in the submission, or during the reference, where the irregularity has not been substantially prejudicial to the party applying to prevent the execution of the award.

viii.—DECISION ON FACT OR LAW, WITHOUT SUIT.

(a.) Question of Fact.

110. Where persons between whom a suit might be instituted agree that there is a question of fact to be determined between them, they may, by consent and by order of the Court, which order the Court may make on being satisfied that the parties have a real interest in the determination of the question, and that it is fit to be tried, state the question for trial in an issue, and the issue may be tried as if the question were to be determined at the hearing of a suit.

The issue and proceedings and decree shall be recorded, and the decree shall have the same effect as a decree in a suit.

The parties may, if they think fit, enter into an agreement in writing, embodied in an order of the Court, that, on the finding of the Court, a sum of money, fixed in the agreement, or to be ascertained by the Court on a question inserted in the issue for that purpose, shall be paid by one of the parties to the other, with or without any costs. On the finding, a decree may be entered for the sum so agreed or ascertained, with or without costs, as the case may be.

Where there is no agreement respecting costs, the costs of the whole proceedings shall be in the discretion of the Court.

(b.) Question of Law.

111. Where persons between whom a suit might be instituted agree that there is a question of law to be determined between them, they may, by consent and by order of the Court, which order the Court may make on being satisfied that the parties have a real interest in the determination of the question, and that it is fit to be determined, state any question of law in a case for the opinion of the Supreme Court, without petition presented or other pleading.

Where the case is stated under order of a Court other than the Supreme Court, the Court shall send the case to the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court may direct the case to be restated or to be amended, or may refuse to determine it if the facts are not sufficiently stated, or if the question is not properly raised, or if the parties cannot agree on an amended case.

The Supreme Court may draw inferences of fact from facts stated in the case.

The case and proceedings and decree shall be recorded, and the decree shall have the same effect as a decree in a suit.

The parties may, if they think fit, enter into an agreement in writing, embodied in an order of the Court, that on the judgment of the Supreme Court being given, a sum of money, fixed in the agreement, or to be ascertained by the Supreme Court, or in such manner as that Court may direct, shall be paid by one of the parties to the other with or without any costs. On the judgment of the Supreme Court, a decree of the Court under whose order the case was stated may be entered for the sum so agreed or ascertained, with or without costs as the case may be.

Where there is no agreement respecting costs, the costs of the whole proceedings shall be in the discretion of the Supreme Court.

ix.—BILLS OF EXCHANGE AND PROMISSORY NOTES.

112.—A suit on a bill of exchange or promissory note, instituted within six months after it becomes due and payable, may be commenced by summons, and may be heard and determined in a summary way.

An appeal shall not lie to the Supreme Court from any Order in the suit.

113. The Court shall, on application within seven days from the service of the summons, give the defendant leave to defend the suit on his paying into Court the sum indorsed on the summons, or on proof of a good legal or equitable defence, or such facts as would make it incumbent on the holder to prove consideration, or such other facts as appear to the Court sufficient to support the application, and on such terms as to security and other things as the Court thinks fit; and in that case the Court may direct proceedings to be taken and carried on by petition.

If the defendant does not obtain leave to defend, the plaintiff, on proof of service of the summons, shall be entitled as of course at any time after the expiration of those seven days to an immediate absolute order for any sum not exceeding that indorsed on the summons, with interest at the rate specified (if any) to the date of the order, and a sum for costs to be fixed by the Court in the order.

114. The holder of a bill or note may, if he thinks fit, obtain one summons against all or any of the parties to the bill or note, and subsequent proceedings shall be carried on, as far as the Court thinks fit, as if separate summonses had been issued.

But the summons or its indorsement shall set forth the claims against the several parties, according to their respective alleged liabilities, with sufficient precision and certainty to enable each to set up any defence on which he individually may desire to reply.

115. The Court may, if it thinks fit, order that the bill or note be forthwith deposited in the Court, and that all proceedings be stayed until the plaintiff gives security for costs.

116. The holder of a dishonoured bill or note shall have the like remedies for the recovery of the expenses incurred in the noting of the same for non-acceptance or non-payment, or incurred otherwise by reason of the dishonour, as for recovery of the amount of the bill or note.

117. After order made, the Court may, if it thinks fit, for reasons recorded in the minutes, set aside the order or execution, and give leave to defend.

x.—CLAIMS UNDER £20.

118. Where the claim which any person desires to enforce by proceedings in the Court, either—

(1) relates to money, goods, or other property, or any civil right or other matter at issue of a less amount or value than 20*l.*; or proceedings shall be commenced by summons, and the suit shall (subject to the provisions of this Order) be heard and determined in a summary way.

(2) is instituted for the recovery of damages of a less amount than 20*l.*;

119. The summons shall issue without application in writing.

It shall be addressed to the person, as respondent, against whom the claim is made.

It shall state briefly and clearly the nature and particulars of the claim and the amount sought to be recovered.

It shall be served on the respondent within the time and in the manner directed by the Court.

A respondent shall not be bound to attend personally to answer the summons unless required expressly by the summons so to do, but he shall attend personally if summoned as a witness.

The proceedings on the summons shall (except as far as the Court, in any case for the avoiding of delay and the furtherance of substantial justice, thinks fit otherwise to direct) be governed by the provisions of this Order regulating claims for 20*l.* or upwards.

120. Where, either on the application for a summons, or before or at the hearing thereof, it appears to the Court (for reasons recorded in the minutes) that the nature and circumstances of the case make it unjust or inexpedient to hear and determine the claim in a summary way, the Court may direct that proceedings be taken and carried on by petition.

xi.—CLAIMS BEFORE UNCOMMISSIONED CONSULAR OFFICERS.

121. Every suit instituted in a Provincial Court held before an uncommissioned Consular officer shall be heard and determined under and according to the provisions of this Order relating to claims under 20*l.*

Within fourteen days after the determination of each suit, the Provincial Court shall report it to the Supreme Court, or in Egypt to the Court for Egypt, and transmit to that Court a copy of the proceedings.

The Provincial Court shall have power to enforce any order by execution on the goods of the party ordered to pay, and not otherwise.

An appeal to the Supreme Court, or in Egypt to the Court for Egypt, from any order of the Provincial Court shall lie as of course on the appellant making a deposit of 1*l.* for costs, to abide the decision on appeal, and execution shall be suspended.

The proceedings on, and hearing of the appeal shall be conducted, as nearly as may be, according to the provisions of this order relating to appeals to the Supreme Court by motion.

In any case the Supreme Court or the Court for Egypt may, if it thinks fit, on the application of any party, direct that the suit be heard and determined by the Court for Egypt, or by the Superintending Consul of the district of the uncommissioned Consul officer, or by the Supreme Court.

xii.—CLAIMS FOR £20 OR UPWARDS.

A.—ORDINARY PROVISIONS.

Petition.

122. Subject to the foregoing provisions of this Order, where the claim which any person desires to enforce by proceedings in the Court—

(i) relates to money, goods, or other property, or any civil right or other matter, at issue, of the amount or value of 20*l.* or upwards; or proceedings shall be commenced by the filing of a petition.

(ii) is instituted for recovery of damages of the amount of 20*l.* or upwards;

123. The petition shall contain a narrative of the material facts on which the plaintiff relies.

The narrative shall be divided into paragraphs numbered consecutively, each paragraph containing, as nearly as may be, a separate statement or allegation.

The petition shall pray for the specific relief to which the plaintiff conceives himself entitled, and also for general relief.

The petition shall be as brief as is consistent with a clear statement of the facts on which the prayer is sought to be supported, and with information to the defendant of the nature of the claim set up.

Documents shall not be unnecessarily set out in full in the petition, but so much only of them as is pertinent and material shall be set out.

Dates and sums shall be expressed in the petition in figures, and not in words.

124. Where there is only one defendant, one copy of the petition, and of any schedule thereto, for service, shall be left with the Court, together with the original.

Where there are two or more defendants, as many copies as there are parties to be served shall be left, together with the original.

125. The plaintiff shall obtain an order for service of the petition on the defendant.

Answer.

126. The order for service of the petition shall specify a reasonable time after service, ordinarily not more than eight days, within which the defendant shall put in his answer.

127. The Court may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the defendant, allow him further time for putting in his answer.

128. A defendant failing to answer within the time, or further time allowed, shall not be at liberty to put in an answer without leave of the Court.

129. The answer shall show the nature of the defendant's defence to the claim set up by the petition but shall not set forth evidence by which the defence is intended to be supported.

It shall not introduce matter irrelevant to the suit, and the provisions of this Order relating to the setting out of documents and the contents of a petition generally shall be observed in an answer, as far as they are applicable.

It shall deny all such material allegations in the petition as the defendant intends to deny at the hearing.

Where the answer denies an allegation of fact, it shall deny it directly and fully (as, for example, if a petition alleges that the defendant has received a sum of money, and the defendant denies this, his answer shall deny that he has received that sum, or any part thereof, or else set forth what part he has received. And so, where a matter of fact is alleged in the petition, with certain circumstances, the answer shall not deny it literally as it is alleged, but shall answer the point of substance positively and certainly).

The answer shall specifically admit such material allegations in the petition as the defendant knows to be true or desires to be taken as admitted.

The answer shall allege any fact not stated in the petition whereon the defendant intends to rely in his defence (as establishing, for instance, fraud on the part of the plaintiff, or showing that the plaintiff's right to relief has not yet accrued, or is released, or barred, or otherwise gone.)

130. The Court may, if it thinks fit, order the defendant to put in an answer on oath.

131. The Court may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the plaintiff, examine the defendant, on oath or otherwise, or written interrogatories allowed by the Court, and take down the answers of the defendant in writing.

Those answers shall be treated as forming part of the answer to the petition.

132. A defendant not putting in any answer shall not, on that ground, be taken as admitting the allegations of the petition or the plaintiff's right to the relief sought.

133. No replication or other pleading after answer shall be allowed.

134. The plaintiff may, on considering the answer, amend his petition,

Notice of the amendment shall be served on the defendant.

Setting down for Hearing.

135. A suit shall not be set down for hearing without an order of the Court for that purpose, which the plaintiff may obtain at any time after the expiration of the time allowed to the defendant for answering.

Sittings for Hearing.

136. The sittings of the Court for the hearing of suits shall, where the amount of business so requires, be held on stated days.

They shall ordinarily be public, but the Court may, for reasons recorded in the minutes, hear any particular suit or matter in the presence only of the parties and their legal advisers and the officers of the Court.

Hearing with Jury or Assessors.

137. The following regulations respecting juries apply only to the Supreme Court and the Court for Egypt.

Where a suit either—

(i) relates to money, goods, or other property, or any civil right or other matter, at issue, of the amount or value of 50*l.* or upwards; or

(ii) is instituted for recovery of damages of the amount of 50*l.* or upwards;

the suit shall, on the demand of either party in writing, filed in the Court seven days before the day appointed for the hearing, be heard with a jury.

Any other suit may, on the suggestion of any party, at any stage, be heard with a jury, if the Court thinks fit.

Any suit may be heard with a jury if the Court of its own motion, at any stage, thinks fit.

A party demanding a jury shall, on filing the demand, deposit in Court, for the first day's attendance of jurors, 2*l.* 10*s.*, and in default thereof his demand shall have no effect.

If the Court of its own motion orders that a suit be heard with a jury, the plaintiff shall make the deposit.

Where a trial with a jury is begun and adjourned, the party who has made the deposit shall, on each successive day of the trial, and before the trial is proceeded with, make a further deposit of 2*l.* 10*s.*

In default of any successive deposit being so made the other party may make the deposit; but if neither party makes it, the trial may, if the Court thinks fit, be adjourned generally.

The costs of remuneration of jurors shall be costs in the cause.

138. The Supreme Court, or the Court of Egypt, may, if the Court thinks fit, hear with an assessor, or with two assessors, any suit.

139. A provincial Court, other than one held before an un-commissioned Consular officer, shall (subject to the provisions of this order) hear with an assessor, or with assessors, every suit which either—

(i) relates to money, goods, or other property, or any civil right, or other matter, at issue, of the amount or value of 300*l.* or upwards; or

(ii) is instituted for recovery of damages of the amount of 300*l.* or upwards.

In all other cases a Provincial Court, other than one held before an un-commissioned Consular officer, may, as it thinks fit, hear the suit either with or without an assessor or assessors.

Proceeding at Hearing.

140. The order of proceeding at the hearing shall be as follows:

The party on whom the burden of proof is thrown by the nature of the material questions between the parties has the right to begin; he shall address the Court and open his case.

He shall then call his evidence and examine his witnesses in chief.

When he has concluded his evidence, he shall ask the other party if he intends to call evidence (in which term is concluded evidence taken by affidavit or deposition, or under commission, and documentary evidence not already read or taken as read); and, if answered in the negative, the party beginning shall be entitled to sum up the evidence already given, and comment thereon; but if answered in the affirmative, he shall wait for his general reply.

When the party beginning has concluded his case, the second party shall be at liberty to address the Court and to call evidence, and to sum up and comment thereon.

If no evidence is called or read by the second party, the party beginning (saving the right of the Crown) shall have no right to reply, unless he has been prevented from summing up his case by the statement of the second party of his intention to call evidence.

The case on both sides shall then be considered closed.

If the second party calls or reads evidence, the party beginning shall be at liberty to reply generally on the whole case, or he may call fresh evidence in reply to the evidence given on the other side, on points material to the determination of the issues, or any of them, but not on collateral matters.

Where evidence in reply is tendered and allowed to be given, the second party shall be at liberty to address the Court, and the party beginning shall be entitled to the general reply.

141. The answer of defendant shall not debar him at the hearing from disproving any allegation of the petition not admitted by his answer, or from giving evidence in support of a defence not expressly set up by the answer, except where, in the opinion of the Court, the defence is such as ought to have been expressly set up by the answer, or is inconsistent therewith.

Judgment.

142. The decision or judgment given at the hearing shall be delivered in open Court.

Where the Court reserves judgment at the hearing, parties to the suit shall be served with notice to attend and hear judgment, unless the Court at the hearing states the day on which judgment will be delivered, in which case there shall be no further notice.

All parties shall be deemed to have notice of the decision or judgment, if pronounced at the hearing.

All parties served with notice to attend and hear judgment, shall be deemed to have notice of the judgment when pronounced.

Costs.

143. In every suit the costs of the whole suit, and of each particular proceeding therein, and the costs of every proceeding in the Court, are in the discretion of the Court as regards the person by whom they are to be paid.

But the Court shall not order the successful party in a suit to pay to the unsuccessful party the costs of the whole suit; although the Court may order the successful party, notwithstanding his success in the suit, to pay the costs of any particular proceeding therein.

The Court may order any cost to be paid out of any fund or property to which a suit or proceeding relates.

Where the Court orders costs to be paid by any party, the Court may, if it thinks fit, order all proceedings by or on behalf of that party in the same suit or proceeding, or connected therewith, to be stayed until the costs are paid accordingly.

B.—EXCEPTIONAL PROVISIONS.

Injunctions and Orders before Suit.

144. On proof of extreme urgency or other peculiar circumstances, the Court may, if it thinks fit, without petition filed, and without notice, make an order of injunction, or an order to sequester money or goods, or to stop a passport, or the clearances of a ship, or to hold to bail.

Before making the order, the Court shall require the person applying for it to enter into a recognizance, with or without a surety or sureties, as the Court thinks fit, as security for his being answerable in damages to the person against whom the order is sought.

The order shall not remain in force more than twenty-four hours, and shall, at the end of that time, wholly cease to be in force, unless within that time a suit is regularly instituted by petition by the person obtaining the order.

The order shall be dealt with in the suit as the Court thinks just.

An order to hold to bail shall state the amount (including costs) for which bail is required.

It shall be executed forthwith.

The person arrested under it shall be entitled to be discharged from custody under it on bringing into Court the amount stated in the order, to abide the event of such suit as may be instituted, or on entering into a recognizance, with or without a surety or sureties, as the Court thinks fit, as a security that he will abide by the orders of the Court in any suit instituted.

He shall be liable to be detained in custody under the order for not more than seven days, if not sooner discharged; but the Court may, from time to time, if it thinks fit, renew the order.

No person, however, shall be kept in custody under any such order and renewed order for a longer time, in the whole, than thirty days.

Plaintiff out of Jurisdiction.

145. Where a person filing a petition, either alone or jointly with any other person, is out of the particular jurisdiction, or is only temporarily therein, he shall file in the Court, at or before the filing of the petition, a written statement of a fit place within the particular jurisdiction where notices and other papers issuing from the Court may be served on him.

He shall also give security for costs by deposit of the sum of 50*l.*, or by bond in the penal sum of 100*l.*

The Court may at any time, either of its own motion or on the application of any defendant, order the plaintiff to give further or better security to the amount aforesaid for costs, and may direct proceedings to be stayed in the meanwhile.

Parties.

146. Persons entitled to sue and suing on behalf of others as guardians, executors, or administrators, or on behalf of themselves and others (as creditors in a suit for administration), shall state the character in which they sue.

147. Where a person has jointly with other persons a ground for instituting a suit, all those other persons shall, unless the Court otherwise allows, be made parties to the suit, either as plaintiffs or as defendants.

But where a person has a joint and several demand against more persons than one, either as principals or as sureties, it is not necessary for him to bring before the Court as parties to a suit concerning that demand all the persons liable thereto, and he may proceed against any one or more of the persons severally liable.

If a person not joined as plaintiff or as defendant ought to be so joined, or a person joined as plaintiff or as defendant ought not to be so joined, the Court may order the petition to be amended. But no person shall be so joined as plaintiff without proof to the Court of his consent thereto. Nor shall the name of a plaintiff be so struck out unless he was originally joined as plaintiff without his consent, or he consents to his name being struck out.

148. Where a person sues another as agent for a third person, not seeking to fix the agent with personal liability, the Court, on the fact coming to its knowledge, shall, if the third person is within the particular jurisdiction, forthwith order his name to be substituted, and stay proceedings until the order is complied with.

But if he is not within the particular jurisdiction, the Court shall refuse to proceed further in the matter, unless and until the person sued as agent undertakes, by writing filed in the Court, to defend the suit, and personally to satisfy any order for debt or damages and costs therein. In that case the person sued as agent shall further, within such time as the Court orders, and before the hearing of the suit, procure and file with the proceedings a sufficient authority in writing to him from his principal to substitute the name of the principal as defendant for that of the agent, and to defend the suit, or otherwise act in it on behalf of the principal.

The agent shall not, however, be deemed to be thereby discharged from his personal undertaking and liability to satisfy any order in the suit.

149. Proceedings by or on behalf of or against a partnership solely or jointly shall be taken in the several names of the partners as individuals, and not in the name of the firm or otherwise.

Particulars of Demand.

150. Where the plaintiff's claim is for money payable in respect of a contract expressed or implied, or to recover the possession or the value of goods wrongfully taken and detained, or wrongfully detained, by the defendant from the plaintiff, it shall be sufficient for the plaintiff to state his claim in the petition in a general form, and to annex to the petition a schedule, stating the particulars of his demand, in any form which shall give the defendant reasonably sufficient information of the details of the claim.

An application for further or better particulars may be made by the defendant before answer.

The plaintiff shall not, at the hearing, obtain an order for any sum exceeding that stated in the particulars, except for subsequent interest and costs of suit, notwithstanding that the sum claimed in the petition for debt or damages exceeds the sum stated in the particulars.

Particulars of demand shall not be amended, except by leave of the Court, and the Court may, if it thinks fit, on an application for leave to amend, grant the same, on it appearing that the defendant will not be prejudiced by amendment.

Where the Court orders particulars to be amended, or further or better particulars to be given, the order shall state the time within which the thing ordered is to be done.

The order for service of the amended or further or better particulars shall state the time which defendant is to have to put in his answer.

Any variance between the items contained in the particulars and the items proved at the hearing may be amended at the hearing, if the Court thinks fit.

Papers annexed to Petition.

151. When the Plaintiff seeks (with or without an order for payment of money)—

(i) to obtain a general or special declaration of his rights under a contract or instrument; or
(ii) to set aside a contract; or
(iii) to have a bond, bill, note, or instrument in writing delivered up to be cancelled; or
(iv) to restrain a defendant by injunction; or
(v) to have an account taken between himself and any other or others;

he may in his petition refer to and briefly describe any documents on the contents whereof he intends to rely, and may annex copies thereof to the petition.

Amendment of Petition.

152. A plaintiff, not giving sufficient information to enable the defendant to understand the plaintiff's claim, may be ordered, on the application of the defendant, to amend his petition.

153. A petition may be amended at any time before answer by leave of the Court, on an application of the plaintiff without notice.

Notice of amendment shall be given to the defendant.

154. If a petition contains libelous or needlessly offensive expression, the Court may, if it thinks fit, either of its own motion, or on application of the defendant, order it to be amended.

155. Where a petition is defective on the face of it by reason of non-compliance with the provisions of this Order, the Court may, if it thinks fit, either of its own motion, or on application by a defendant, make an order to stay proceedings until the petition is amended.

Inspection of Documents.

156. A plaintiff may be ordered to produce for inspection and other purposes of the suit such documents in his possession or power as are referred to in the petition, or such other documents, if any, as the defendant is entitled to inspect in the suit.

Equity.

157. A petition implies an offer to do equity in the suit, and admits of any equitable defence.

The plaintiff may obtain at the hearing any such equitable relief as the facts stated and proved entitle him to, though not specifically asked.

Where a defendant in his answer raises a defence of an equitable nature, and it appears to the Court that, on this defence being established, the defendant may be entitled to some equitable relief against the plaintiff in respect of the subject-matter of the suit, the Court may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the defendant, either before or at the hearing, give liberty to him to file a cross-petition asking for that relief, and may make such order for the hearing of the suit and cross-suit together or otherwise, as the Court thinks just.

Defence on Ground of Law or Equity.

158. Where a defendant conceives that he has a good defence in law or equity to the petition, so that even if the allegations of fact in the petition were admitted or clearly established, yet the plaintiff would not be entitled to any order against him (the defendant); he may raise this defence by an application that the petition be dismissed without an answer being required from him.

The application shall be made within the time allowed for answering.

The summons or motion-paper on which the application is made, shall state briefly the grounds of law or equity on which the defendant relies.

The application shall be heard and disposed of at as early a time as may be.

For the purposes of the application the defendant shall be taken as admitting the truth of the allegations of facts in the petition; and no evidence respecting matters of fact, and no discussion of questions of fact, shall be allowed.

The Court, on hearing the application, shall either dismiss the petition or order the defendant to put in an answer within a short time to be named in the order, and may, if the Court thinks fit, give leave to the plaintiff to amend his petition.

Where, on the hearing of the application, any grounds of law or equity are urged in support of it other than those stated in the summons or motion-paper, and the grounds stated therein are disallowed, the defendant shall be liable to pay the same costs as if the application were wholly refused, although the grounds newly urged are allowed, unless the Court thinks fit in any case to order otherwise.

Interrogatories for Examination of Plaintiff.

151. A defendant may at any time (but where he is required to answer not until after he has put in a sufficient answer) file in the Court interrogatories for the examination of a plaintiff.

There shall be prefixed to those interrogatories a concise statement of the subjects on which a discovery is sought.

A plaintiff shall answer the interrogatories subject to just exceptions.

The plaintiff's answer to the interrogatories may be read and used by the defendant in the same manner and under the same restrictions in and under which an answer to a bill praying relief may be read and used.

Set-off.

160. A defence of set-off to a claim for money shall be accompained by a statement of particulars of set-off.

A defence of partial set-off shall also be accompanied by payment into Court of the amount to which, on the defendant's showing, the plaintiff is entitled, unless the plaintiff's claim to that amount is resisted on some other ground of defence.

In default of that payment the defendant shall be liable to bear the costs of the suit, even if he succeeds in his defence to the extent of the set-off on which he relies.

Where a defendant in his answer raises a defence of set-off which, in the opinion of the Court, is not admissible in that form, the Court may, if it thinks fit, either before or at the hearing, on his application, give him liberty to withdraw the defence and to file a cross-petition, and may make such order for the hearing of the suit and cross-suit together or otherwise, as the Court thinks just.

A counter-claim shall not be admitted otherwise than as a defence of set-off.

A defendant, raising by his answer a counter-claim by way of defence, shall not be entitled to any order against the plaintiff for any sum of money other than his costs of the suit.

Tender.

161. A defence alleging tender by the defendant shall be accompanied by payment into Court of the amount alleged to have been tendered.

Payment into Court.

162. Payment into Court by the defendant shall be accompanied by an answer or affidavit. The answer or affidavit shall state distinctly that the money paid in is paid in in satisfaction of the plaintiff's claim generally, or (as the case may be) in satisfaction of some specific part of the plaintiff's claim, where the claim is stated in the petition for distinct sums or in respect of distinct matters.

Payment into Court, whether made in satisfaction of the plaintiff's claim generally or in satisfaction of some specific part thereof, operates as an admission of liability to the extent of the amount paid in and no more, and for no other purpose.

Where the defendant pays money into Court the plaintiff shall be at liberty to accept the same in full satisfaction and discharge of the cause of suit in respect of which it is paid in; and in that case the plaintiff may forthwith apply for payment of the money out of Court to him, and on the hearing of the application the Court shall make such order respecting stay of further proceedings in the suit in whole or in part, and respecting costs and other matters, as the Court thinks just.

If the plaintiff does not so apply he shall be considered as insisting that he has a claim against the defendant to a greater amount than the sum paid in; and in that case the Court, in determining the suit and disposing of costs, shall have regard to the fact of the payment into Court having been made and not accepted.

Absconding Defendants.

163. The Court, on proof that there is good reason to believe that a defendant means to abscond in order to avoid the orders of the Court, after suit or other proceeding instituted, may, if it thinks fit, make an order to hold him to bail, and may require of him such security as it thinks fit for his remaining within the particular jurisdiction and abiding by any order to be made in the suit or proceeding.

Guardian of Defendant for Purposes of Suit.

164. Where, on default made by a defendant in answering or otherwise defending the suit after service of the petition, it appears to the Court that he is an infant or a person of weak or unsound mind, so that he is unable of himself to defend the suit, the Court may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the plaintiff, or of its own motion, appoint by order some fit person to be guardian of the defendant for the purposes of the suit, by whom he may defend it.

Before such an order is made, the Court shall cause such notice as it thinks reasonable to be served on or left at the dwelling-house of the person with whom or under whose care the defendant is, and also, unless the Court sees good reason to the contrary, in the case of an infant not residing with or under the care of his father or guardian, to be served on or left at the dwelling-house of his father or guardian.

Facts occurring after Suit.

165. The Court may, by order, allow facts occurring after the institution of a suit to be introduced by way of amendment into the petition or answer at any stage of the proceedings.

Death of Party or other Change.

166. Where, after the institution of a suit, any change or transmission of interest or liability occurs in relation to any party to suit, or any party to the suit dies, or (being a woman) marries, or the suit in any other way becomes defective or incapable of being carried on, any person interested may obtain from the Court any order requisite for curing the defect, or enabling or compelling proper parties to carry on the proceedings.

But any person served with such an order may, within such time, not exceeding fourteen days, as the Court in the order directs, apply to the Court to discharge the order.

Settlement of Issues.

167. At any time after answer, the Court may, if it thinks fit, on the application of any party, or of its own motion, proceed to ascertain the material questions in controversy between the parties, and may reduce those questions into writing and settle them in the form of issues, which issues, when settled, shall, for the purposes of the subsequent proceedings, supersede the petition and answer, except that the petition and answer may be used, as containing admissions or otherwise, for purposes of evidence on the trial of the issues.

Dismissal for want of Prosecution.

168. Where the plaintiff does not obtain an order for setting down the suit for hearing within three months from the time at which he might first apply for it, the defendant may apply to the Court for an order to dismiss the petition for want of prosecution.

The Court, thereupon, if it thinks fit, may make an order dismissing the petition, or may make such other order or impose such terms as it thinks fit.

Absence of Parties at Hearing.

169. If, at the hearing, the plaintiff does not appear, the Court shall, unless the Court sees good reason to the contrary, strike out the suit, and make such order respecting costs in favour of any defendant appearing as the Court thinks just.

If the plaintiff a second time in like manner fails to appear, the Court shall, unless it sees good reason to the contrary, dismiss the petition, which dismissal shall have the like effect as a dismissal on the merits at the hearing.

170. If, at the hearing, the plaintiff appears, but the defendant or any of the defendants does not appear, the Court shall, before hearing the suit, inquire into the service of the petition and of notice of hearing on the absent party or parties.

The Court, if not satisfied respecting service on every party, shall order that further service be made as the Court directs, and shall adjourn the hearing for that purpose.

The Court, on being satisfied respecting service on every party, may, if it thinks fit, proceed to hear the suit, notwithstanding the absence of the defendant or any of the defendants.

171. If the Court hears the suit and makes an order against a defendant in his absence, the Court may afterwards, on such terms as the Court thinks fit, re-hear the suit on proof that his absence was excusable, and that he has a defence on the merits.

Amendments at Hearing.

172. The Court shall, at the hearing, order all such amendments as the Court thinks necessary or proper for bringing to a determination in the suit the real questions in controversy between the parties.

Reference of Account.

173. Where it appears to the Court that the matter in dispute in a suit consists either wholly or in part of matters of mere account, the Court may, according to the amount of public business pending, either decide at once the matters of account, or order that they be referred, either wholly or in part, to some person agreed on by the parties, or, in case of their non-agreement, appointed by the Court.

The referee shall enter into the account and hear evidence and report on it to the Court, according to the order, and the Court, after hearing the parties, may adopt the conclusions of the report, either wholly or in part, or may direct a further report to be made by the referee, and may grant any necessary adjournment for that purpose.

Case for Supreme Court.

174. In any Court other than the Supreme Court any decision or judgment may be given, or verdict taken, subject to a case to be stated for the opinion for the Supreme Court.

Application by Motion.

175. An application made by motion shall not be entertained until the party moving has filed in the Court a written motion-paper stating the terms of the order sought.

There shall be filed with the motion-paper all affidavits on which the person moving intends to rely. No other evidence shall be used in support of the motion except by leave of the Court.

No paper accompanying the motion-paper other than an affidavit shall be received.

A motion may be made without notice in the first instance or on notice of motion.

Summons.

176. An application for a summons may be made in writing, or in person.

If the Court thinks fit it may issue a summons ordering the person to whom it is directed, as respondent, to appear at the time and place specified therein, and stating the nature of the application to be made.

On the return-day of the summons, if the respondent attends, or in his absence, on proof of service, the Court may, on the application of the person obtaining the summons, consider and deal with the application in a summary way.

Orders.

177. Where an order is made without service of notice of the application, an office copy of the affidavit or deposition on which the order is made shall be served on the person affected by the order, with the order.

Any person affected by the order may, within seven days after service of it, but not later, except by leave of the Court, apply to the Court to vary or discharge it; and the Court, on notice to the person obtaining the order, may make such order as the Court thinks just.

178. An order to show cause shall specify a day when cause is to be shown, called the return-day to the order, which shall ordinarily be not less than four days after service.

A person served with an order to show cause may, before the return-day, file affidavits in order to contradict the evidence used in obtaining the order, or setting forth other facts.

On the return-day, if the persons served do not appear, and service is not proved, the Court may enlarge the time and direct further service, or make such other order as it thinks just.

If the persons served appear, or service is proved, the Court may proceed with the matter, and make such order as it thinks just.

179. Where a person not a party to a suit obtains an order, or has an order made in his favour, he is entitled to enforce obedience thereto by the same process as if he were a party to the suit.

A person not a party to a suit against whom obedience to an order may be enforced is liable to the same process for enforcing obedience thereto as if he was a party to the suit.

180. All money ordered by the Court to be paid by any person shall be paid into Court, unless the Court otherwise directs.

181. An order shall be drawn up in form only on the application of some party to the suit, and shall then be passed and be certified by the seal of the Court, and be entered, and shall then form part of the record.

An order shall not be enforced or appealed from, nor shall an office copy of it be granted, until it is part of the record.

An order shall be dated on the day of the delivery of the decision or judgment on which the order is founded.

Any party to an application or suit is entitled to obtain an office copy of any order made therein.

182. Ordinarily, an order, other than an order of the Supreme Court, shall not be enforced out of the particular jurisdiction.

Where, however, the Court making the order thinks that the urgency or other peculiar circumstances of the case so require, the Court (for reasons recorded in the minutes) may order it to be enforced out of the particular jurisdiction.

183. Where an order orders a person to pay money, or do any other act, the same or some subsequent order shall state the precise time within which the payment, or other act, is to be made or done, reckoned from the date or service of the order in which the time is stated, or from some other point of time, as the Court thinks fit.

The time stated may be immediately after service of the order, if the Court thinks fit.

A person ordered to pay money, or do any other act, is bound to obey the order on being served with it, and without any demand for payment or performance.

Order for Payment of Money.

184. The Court may, if it thinks fit, order that money ordered to be paid by instalments specified.

185. Where an order orders payment of money, there shall be indorsed on the copy of it served on the person required to obey it, a memorandum in the words, or to the effect, following:—

If you, the within-named A B, neglect to obey this order by the time therein appointed, you will be liable to have a writ of execution issued against your goods, under which they may be seized and sold; and you will also be liable to be summoned by the Court, and to be examined respecting your ability to make the payment directed by this order, and to be imprisoned in case of your not answering satisfactorily on that examination.

186. Where an order orders payment of money, and the person ordered to pay refuses or neglects to do so according to the order, a person entitled to the benefit of the order may apply to the Court for execution against the goods of the disobedient person.

Thereupon the Court shall, unless it sees good reason to the contrary, issue an order of execution (in this Order called an execution order), ordering and empowering an officer of the Court, therein named, to levy the money ordered to be paid, by distress and sale of the goods of the disobedient person (in this Order called the execution debtor), wheresoever they may be found within the particular jurisdiction.

On the order there shall be indorsed the sum of money and costs adjudged and the further sum to be levied for costs of the execution.

187. Where an order orders payment of money by instalments, execution shall not issue until after default in payment of some instalment according to the order; and execution, or successive executions, may then issue for the whole money then remaining unpaid, or for such portion thereof as the Court orders, either when making the original order or at any subsequent time.

188. The officer executing the order may, by virtue thereof, seize any of the goods of the execution debtor, except the wearing apparel and bedding of himself and his family, and the tools and implements of his trade, to the value of 5*l.*, all which shall to that extent be exempted from seizure.

189. The sale of the goods seized shall be made by order of the Court, and shall be conducted under the direction of the Court, and by a person nominated by the Court.

But no steps shall be taken therein without the demand of the person obtaining the execution order (in this Order called the execution creditor), and the execution creditor shall be liable for any damage ensuing from any proceeding taken at his instance.

The sale shall not be made until after the end of five days at least next following the day of seizure, unless the goods are of a perishable nature, or on the request in writing of the execution debtor.

Until sale the goods shall be deposited by the officer in some fit place, or they may remain in the custody of a fit person approved by the Court and put in possession by the officer.

190. The Court shall not order the sale of the goods seized unless it is proved that they belong to the execution debtor, and are in a place where the Court has jurisdiction.

Where a claim is made by a third party to the goods or part thereof, the same, if made by a subject or protected person, shall be decided by the Court in a summary way, as between the claimant and the execution creditor.

If the claim is made by an Ottoman subject or foreigner, the Court may, if it thinks fit, either oblige the execution creditor to establish his claim before selling the goods or sell the goods and require the execution creditor to defend any claim.

191. The officer executing an execution order may, by virtue thereof, seize any money, bank-notes, cheques, bills of exchange, promissory notes, bonds, or securities for money belonging to the execution debtor.

The Court shall hold the same (other than money and securities immediately convertible into money) as security for the amount directed to be levied, or so much thereof as is not otherwise levied, for the benefit of the execution creditor.

The execution creditor may sue in the name of the execution debtor, or in the name of any person in whose name the execution debtor might have sued, for recovery of the money secured or made payable thereby, when the time for suing arrives.

192. If before or after seizure the execution debtor, by payment into Court or to the officer executing the order, satisfies the execution, the order shall be superseded, and the goods and property seized shall be released and delivered up.

Commitment of Debtor.

193. Where an order ordering payment of money remains wholly or in part unsatisfied (whether an execution order has been made or not), the person prosecuting the order (in this Order called the judgment creditor) may apply to the Court for an order, ordering the person by whom payment is to be made (in this Order called the judgment debtor) to appear and be examined respecting his ability to make the payment; and the Court shall, unless it sees good reason to the contrary, make an order accordingly.

194. On the appearance of the judgment debtor, he may be examined on oath by or on behalf of the judgment creditor, and by the Court, respecting his ability to pay the money directed to be paid, and for discovery of property applicable thereto, and respecting his disposal of any property.

He shall produce, on oath or otherwise, all books, papers, and documents in his possession or power relating to any property applicable to payment.

He may be examined respecting the circumstances under which he contracted or incurred the debt or liability, in respect of which the payment of money is ordered to be made, and respecting the means or expectation he then had of paying or discharging the debt or liability.

He shall sign his examination as taken down in writing.

Whether the judgment debtor appears or not, the judgment creditor, and any witness whom the Court thinks requisite, may be examined, on oath or otherwise, respecting the same matters.

The Court may, if it thinks fit, adjourn the examination from time to time, and require from the judgment debtor such security for his appearance as the Court thinks fit, and in default of his finding security may, by order, commit him to the custody of an officer of the Court, there to remain until the adjourned hearing, unless sooner discharged.

195. If it appears to the Court by the examination of the judgment debtor, or other evidence—

(i) that the judgment debtor has then, or has had since the making of the order, sufficient means to pay the money directed to be paid by him, and he refuses or neglects to pay the same according to the order; or

(ii) that, with intent to defraud his creditors, or any of them, he has made or suffered any gift, delivery, or transfer of any property, or charged, removed, or concealed any property; or

(iii) that the debt or liability in question has been contracted or incurred by him by or by reason of fraud, or false pretence, or breach of trust, committed by him; or

(iv) that forbearance thereof was obtained by him by fraud or false pretence; or

(v) that the debt or liability was wilfully contracted or incurred by him without his having had at the same time a reasonable expectation of being able to pay or discharge it;

then and in any such case the Court may, if it thinks fit, by order, commit him to prison for any time not exceeding forty days.

196. On the examination, the Court, if it thinks fit, whether it makes an order for commitment or not, may rescind or alter any order for the payment of money by instalments or otherwise, and may make any further or other order, either for payment of the whole amount forthwith, or by instalments, or in any other manner, as the Court thinks just.

197. In places where there is no other place for the detention of a debtor in custody than the prison of the Ottoman authorities, the Court shall not commit the debtor to prison if it appears that that prison is unfit, regard being had to the requirements of health and decency, for the confinement of a subject or protected person under civil process.

198. The expenses of the judgment debtor's maintenance in prison shall be defrayed, in the first instance, by the judgment creditor, and may be recovered by him as the Court directs.

The expenses shall be estimated by the Court, and shall be paid by the judgment creditor at such times and in such manner as the Court directs. In default of payment, the judgment debtor may be discharged if the Court thinks fit.

199. Imprisonment of a judgment debtor under the foregoing provisions shall not operate as a satisfaction or extinguishment of the debt or liability to which the order relates, or protect the debtor from being anew imprisoned for any new fraud or other default making him liable to be imprisoned, or deprive the judgment creditor of any right to have execution against his goods, as if there had not been such imprisonment.

200. The judgment debtor, on paying at any time the amount ordered to be paid, and all costs and expenses, shall be discharged.

Order other than for Payment of Money.

201. Where the order is one ordering some act to be done other than payment of money, there shall be indorsed on the copy of it served on the person required to obey it, a memorandum in the words, or to the effect following:—

If you, the within-named A B, neglect to obey this order within the time therein appointed, you will be liable to be arrested, and, to have your property sequestered.

202. Where the person directed to do the act refuses or neglects to do it according to the order, the person prosecuting the order may apply to the Court for another order for the arrest of the disobedient person.

Thereupon the Court shall, unless it sees good reason to the contrary, make an order ordering and empowering an officer of the Court therein named to take the body of the disobedient person, and detain him in custody until further order.

He shall be liable to be detained in custody until he has obeyed the order in all things that are to be immediately performed, and given such security as the Court thinks fit to obey the order in other respects (if any) at the future times thereby appointed, or in case of his no longer having the power to obey the order, then until he has been imprisoned for such time, or until he has paid such fine as the Court thinks just.

Sequestration.

203. In case the person against whom an order of arrest issues is not and cannot be found, or is taken and detained in custody without obeying the order, then the person prosecuting the order may apply to the Court for an order of sequestration against his property.

Pauper.

204. The Court may admit a person to sue as a pauper, on his poverty, and his having a case proper for some relief in the Court, being proved; and may admit a person to defend as a pauper on his poverty being proved.

The Court may if it thinks fit, by order, assign a counsel or attorney to assist a person admitted to sue or defend as a pauper, and the counsel or attorney so assigned shall not be at liberty to refuse his assistance, unless he satisfies the Court of some good reason for refusing.

If a person admitted to sue or defend as a pauper gives or agrees to give any fee, profit, or reward for the conduct of his business in the Court, he shall be deemed guilty of a contempt of Court, and he shall also be forthwith dispaupered, and shall not be afterwards admitted again in that suit to sue or defend as a pauper.

A person admitted to sue or defend as a pauper may be dispaupered by order of the Court, on it being proved that he was not when admitted, or no longer is, of sufficient poverty, or that he is abusing his privilege by vexatious proceedings.

Re-hearing.

205. The Court may, if it thinks fit, at any time, on the application of any party, order a re-hearing of a suit.

The provisions of this Order respecting a hearing with a jury or with assessors shall extend to a re-hearing.

VIII.—PROCEEDINGS ON DEATH OF SUBJECT OR PROTECTED PERSON.

1.—Preliminary.

206. The Court shall endeavour to obtain, as early as may be, notice of the death of every subject or protected person dying within the particular jurisdiction, whether resident or not, and all such information respecting his affairs as may serve to guide the Court with respect to the securing and administration of his property.

On receiving notice of the death, the Court shall put up a notice thereof at the place where its sittings are ordinarily held, and shall keep the same there until probate or administration is granted, or where it appears to the Court that probate or administration will not be applied for, or cannot be granted, for such time as the Court thinks fit.

207. Where a subject or protected person resident dies in the Ottoman dominions intestate, then, until administration is granted, his personal property shall be vested in the Judge of the Supreme Court.

208. Where a subject or protected person not resident dies in the Ottoman dominions, the Court within whose particular jurisdiction he dies shall, where the circumstances of the case appear to the Court so to require, forthwith on his death, or as soon after as may be, take possession of his personal property within the particular jurisdiction, or put it under the seal of the Court (in either case if the nature of the property or other circumstances so require, making an inventory), and so keep it until it can be dealt with according to law.

209. If any person, other than the person named, executor or administrator or an officer of the Court, takes possession of and administers or otherwise deals with any part of the personal property of a subject or protected person dying in the Ottoman dominions, whether resident or not, he shall be deemed guilty of a contempt of Court, and shall be liable to such fine, not exceeding 50*l.*, as the Court having jurisdiction over the property of the deceased thinks fit to impose.

210. Where a subject or protected person dies in the Ottoman dominions, whether resident or not, then any person having in his possession or under his control any paper or writing of the deceased, being or purporting to be testamentary, shall forthwith bring the original to the Court within whose particular jurisdiction the death happens, and deposit it there.

If any person fails to do so for fourteen days after having knowledge of the death of the deceased, he shall be deemed guilty of a contempt of Court, and shall be liable to such fine not exceeding 50*l.*, as the Court thinks fit to impose.

211. Where it is shown to the Court that any paper of the deceased, being or purporting to be testamentary, is in the possession or under the control of a subject or protected person, the Court may, in a summary way, whether a suit or proceeding respecting probate or administration is pending or not, order him to produce the paper and bring it into Court.

Where it appears to the Court that there are reasonable grounds for believing that any person has knowledge of any paper being or purporting to be testamentary (although it is not shown that the paper is in his possession or under his control), the Court may, in a summary way, whether a suit or proceeding for probate or administration is pending or not, order that he be examined respecting it in open Court or on interrogatories, and that he do attend for that purpose, and after examination that he do produce the paper and bring it into Court.

2.—Probate or Administration in General.

212. Probate or letters of administration with will annexed shall not issue for seven days from the death of the deceased, except under the direction of the Supreme Court, or in case of great urgency.

Letters of administration (not with will annexed) shall not issue for fourteen days from the death of the deceased, except under the direction of the Supreme Court, or in case of great urgency.

213. If any person, named executor in the will of the deceased, takes possession of and administers or otherwise deals with any part of the personal property of the deceased, and does not obtain probate within one month after the death, or after the termination of any suit or dispute respecting probate or administration, he shall be deemed guilty of a contempt of Court, and shall be liable to such fine, not exceeding 50*l.*, as the Court thinks fit to impose.

214. The Court may, of its own motion, or on the application of any person claiming an interest under a will, give notice to the executors (if any) therein named, to come in and prove the will or to renounce probate, and they, or some or one of them shall, within fourteen days after notice, come in and prove or renounce accordingly.

215. Where probate or administration is, for the first time, applied for after three years from the death of the deceased, a grant shall not be made except under the direction of the Supreme Court.

216. Where the deceased was resident in the particular jurisdiction of a Court other than the Supreme Court, an application for a grant of probate or administration shall not be entertained by the Supreme Court, except on request of that other Court.

217. Where, in a Court other than the Supreme Court, a dispute or question arises in relation to the grant or the application for it, or it appears to the Court doubtful whether or not the grant should be made, the Court shall communicate with the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court shall direct the other Court to proceed in the matter according to such instructions as the Supreme Court thinks fit, or shall by order remove the matter to the Supreme Court.

218. A Court, other than the Supreme Court, before proceeding on an application, shall ascertain that the deceased was at his death resident in the particular jurisdiction, and shall not for this purpose consider itself bound to rest satisfied with the evidence offered by the applicant.

219. The Court shall require evidence, in addition to that offered by the applicant, of the identity of the deceased, or of the applicant, where additional evidence in that behalf seems to the Court necessary or desirable.

220. The Court shall ascertain the value of the property of the deceased as correctly as circumstances allow.

221. In no case shall the Court issue probate or letter of administration until all inquiries which the Court sees fit to institute have been answered to its satisfaction.

The Court shall, however, afford as great facility for the obtaining of probate or administration as is consistent with due regard to the prevention of error and fraud.

222. In the following cases a grant shall not issue except from the Supreme Court under the immediate direction of the Judge, namely:

probate or administration with will annexed, where the will was executed before the 1st of January 1838, and there is no testamentary paper of a date later than the 31st of December 1837,— probate and administration with will annexed, the will being merely an execution of a special power, or being the will of a married woman made by virtue of a power; administration for the use or benefit of a minor or infant, or of a lunatic or person of unsound mind; administration (with or without will annexed) of the property of a bastard dying either a bachelor or spinster, or a widower or widow without issue, or of a person dying without known relative;

limited administration;

Administration to be granted to a person not resident.

223. Revocation or alteration of a grant of probate or administration shall not be made except by the Supreme Court under the immediate direction of the Judge.

224. A notice to prohibit a grant of probate or administration may be filed in the Supreme or other Court.

Immediately on such a notice being filed in the Supreme Court, a copy thereof shall be sent to the Court of the district (if any) in which it is alleged the deceased was resident at his death, and to any other Court to which it appears to the Supreme Court expedient to send a copy.

Immediately on such a notice being filed in a Court other than the Supreme Court, the Court shall send a copy thereof to the Supreme Court, and also to the Court of any other district in which it is known or alleged the deceased had at his death a place of abode.

The notice shall remain in force three months only from the day of filing; but it may be renewed from time to time.

The notice shall not affect a grant made on the day on which the notice is filed, or on which a copy thereof is received, as the case may be.

The person filing the notice shall be warned by a warning in writing, under the seal of the Court, delivered at the place mentioned in the notice as his address.

After the notice has been filed in, or a copy thereof has been received by, a Court other than the Supreme Court, a grant of probate or administration shall be made only by the Supreme Court, under the immediate direction of the Judge.

225. Notices in the nature of citations shall be given by publication in such newspapers, or in such other manner as the Court in each case thinks fit.

226. Suits respecting probate or administration shall be instituted by petition; and the provisions of this Order respecting proceedings in other suits instituted by petition shall extend and apply thereto.

227. Every original will, of which probate or administration with will annexed is granted, shall be filed and kept in the public office of the Supreme or other Court from which the grant issues, in such manner as to secure at once the due preservation and the convenient inspection of the same.

No original will shall be delivered out for any purpose without the direction in writing of the Judge of the Supreme Court.

An office copy of the whole or of any part of a will, or an official certificate of a grant of administration, may be obtained from the Supreme or other Court where the will is proved or the administration granted, on payment of the proper fees.

228. On the 1st of February and the 1st of August in every year, every Court other than the Supreme Court shall send to the Supreme Court—

A list of the grants of probate and administration made by the Court up to the last preceding 1st of January and 1st of July respectively, not included in any previous list;

And a copy, certified by the Court to be a correct copy of every will to which each probate or administration relates.

3.—Probate or Administration with Will annexed.

229. On receiving an application for probate or for administration with will annexed, the Court shall inspect the will and see whether it appears to be signed by the testator, or by some other person in his presence and by his direction, and to be subscribed by two witnesses, according to the enactments relative thereto, and shall not proceed further if the will does not appear to be so signed and subscribed.

If the will appears to be so signed and subscribed, the Court shall then refer to the attestation clause (if any), and consider whether the wording thereof states the will to have been, in fact, executed in accordance with those enactments.

If there is no attestation clause, or if the attestation clause is insufficient, the Court shall require an affidavit from at least one of the subscribing witnesses, if either of them is living, to prove that the will was, in fact, executed in accordance with those enactments.

The affidavit shall be engrossed and form part of the probate, so that the probate may be a complete document on the face of it.

If, on perusal of the affidavit, it appears that the will was not, in fact, executed in accordance with those enactments, the Court shall refuse probate.

If, on perusal of the affidavit, it appears to the Court doubtful whether or not the will was, in fact, executed in accordance with those enactments, the Court, if other than the Supreme Court, shall communicate with the Supreme Court for directions.

If both the subscribing witnesses are dead, or if, from other circumstances, such an affidavit cannot be obtained from either of them, resort for such an affidavit shall be had to other persons (if any) present at the execution of the will; but if no such affidavit can be obtained, proof shall be required of that fact and of the handwritings of the deceased, and of the subscribing witnesses, and also of any circumstances raising a presumption in favour of the due execution of the will.

230. Where the testator was blind or illiterate, the Court shall not grant probate of the will, or administration with the will annexed, unless the Court is first satisfied, by proof or by what appears on the face of the will, that the will was read over to the deceased before its execution, or that he had at that time knowledge of its contents.

Where this information is not forthcoming, the Court, if other than the Supreme Court, shall communicate with the Supreme Court for directions.

231. The Court, on being satisfied that the will was duly executed, shall carefully inspect it to see whether there are any interlineations or alterations or erasures or obliterations appearing in it, and requiring to be accounted for.

Interlineations, alterations, erasures, and obliterations are invalid unless they existed in the will at the time of its execution, or unless, if made afterwards, they have been executed and attested in the mode required by the said enactments, or unless they have been made valid by the re-execution of the will, or by the subsequent execution of some codicil thereto.

Where interlineations, alterations, erasures, or obliterations appear in the will (unless duly executed or recited in or otherwise identified by the attestation clause), an affidavit, in proof of their having existed in the will before its execution, shall be filed.

If no satisfactory evidence is adduced respecting the time when an erasure or obliteration was made, and the words erased or obliterated are not entirely effaced, and can, on inspection of the will, be ascertained, they shall form part of the probate.

Where words have been erased which might have been of importance, an affidavit shall be required.

If reasonable doubt exists in regard to any interlineation, alteration, erasure, or obliteration, the Court, if other than the Supreme Court, shall communicate with the Supreme Court for directions.

232. Where a will contains a reference to any document, of such a nature as to raise a question whether it ought or ought not to form a constituent part of the will, the Court shall require the production of the document, with a view to ascertain whether or not it is entitled to probate; and if it is not produced, a satisfactory account of its non-production shall be proved.

A document cannot form part of a will unless it was in existence at the time when the will was executed.

If there are vestiges of sealing-wax or wafers or other marks on the will, leading to the inference that some document has been at some time annexed or attached thereto, a satisfactory account of them shall be proved, or the production of the document shall be required; and if it is not produced, a satisfactory account of its non-production shall be proved.

If doubt exists whether or not a document is entitled to probate as a constituent part of a will, the Court, if other than the Supreme Court, shall communicate with the Supreme Court for directions.

233. Where a person appointed executor in a will survives the testator, but either dies without having taken probate, or having been called on by the Court to take probate, does not appear, his right in respect of the executorship wholly ceases; and, without further renunciation, the representation to the testator and the administration of his property go and may be committed as if that person had not been appointed executor.

234. Every will or copy of a will to which an executor or an administrator with will annexed is sworn shall be marked by the executor or administrator and by the person before whom he is sworn.

235. The Court shall take care that the copies of wills to be annexed to probates or letters of administration are fairly and properly written, and shall reject any not so written.

4.—Intestacy.

236. The Court, in granting letters of administration, shall proceed, as far as may be, as in cases of probate.

The Court shall ascertain the time and place of the deceased's death, and the value of the property to be covered by the administration.

The person to whom administration is granted shall give bond with two or more responsible subjects, or protected persons, as sureties, to the Judge of the Supreme Court, to ensure to the Judge for the time being, conditioned for duly collecting, getting in, and administering the personal property of the deceased.

Where, however, the property is under the value of 50*l.*, the Court may, if it thinks fit, take one surety only.

The bond shall be in a penalty of double the amount under which the personal estate of the deceased is sworn, unless the Court in any case thinks it expedient to reduce the amount, for reasons to be forthwith certified to the Supreme Court, if the Court is other than that Court.

The Court may also in any case direct that more bonds than one shall be given, so as to limit the liability of any surety to such amount as the Court thinks reasonable.

The Judge of the Supreme Court may, on being satisfied that the condition of the bond has been broken, assign the same to some person, and that person may thereupon sue on the bond in his own name, as if it had been originally given to him instead of to the Judge, and may recover thereon, as trustee for all persons interested, the full amount recoverable in respect of any breach of the condition of the bond.

237. Where administration is applied for by one or some of the next-of-kin only, there being another or other next-of-kin equally entitled thereto, the Court shall require proof that notice of the application has been given to the other next-of-kin.

5.—Administration of Property.

238. A person claiming to be a creditor or legatee, or the next-of-kin, or one of the next-of-kin, of a deceased person, may apply for and obtain, without petition filed or other preliminary proceeding, a summons from the Court requiring the executor or administrator (as the case may be) of the deceased to attend before the Court and show cause why an order for the administration of the property of the deceased should not be made.

On proof of service of the summons, or on appearance of the executor or administrator, and on proof of all such other things (if any) as the Court thinks fit, the Court may, if it thinks fit, make an immediate order for the administration of the property of the deceased, and the order so made shall have the force of an order to the like effect made on the hearing of a suit between the same parties.

The Court shall have full discretionary power to make or refuse any such order, or to give any special directions respecting the carriage or execution of it, and in the case of applications for such an order by two or more different persons or classes of persons, to grant the same to such one or more of the claimants, or classes of claimants, as the Court thinks fit.

If the Court thinks fit, the carriage of the order may subsequently be given to such person, and on such terms, as the Court thinks fit.

On making such an order, or at any time afterwards, the Court may, if it thinks fit, make any further or other order for compelling the executor or administrator to bring into Court for safe custody, all or any part of the money, or securities, or other property of the deceased, from time to time coming to his hands, or otherwise for securing the safe-keeping of the property of the deceased, or any part thereof.

If the extreme urgency or other peculiar circumstances of the case appear to the Court so to require (for reasons recorded in the minutes), the Court may of its own motion issue such a summons, and make such an order or such orders, and cause proper proceedings to be taken thereon.

239. In a case of intestacy, where the peculiar circumstances of the case appear to the Court so to require (for reasons recorded in the minutes), the Court may, if it thinks fit, of its own motion, grant letters of administration to an officer of the Court.

The officer so appointed shall act under the direction of the Court, and shall be indemnified thereby.

He shall publish such notices, if any, as the Court thinks fit, in the Ottoman dominions, the United Kingdom, India and elsewhere.

The Court shall require and compel him to file in the Court his accounts of his administration at intervals not exceeding three months.

The accounts shall be in all cases audited by the Supreme Court, or in Egypt by the Court for Egypt; for which purpose every Court other than those shall, on the first day of February and the first day of August, in every year, send to the Supreme Court, or to the Court for Egypt, as the case requires, all accounts so filed in the then last preceding half-year.

IX.—APPEAL TO SUPREME COURT.

1.—General Provisions.

240. Where in a civil suit or proceeding a decision of a Court other than the Supreme Court, sitting with or without assessors—

(i) is given in respect of a sum of 50*l.* or upwards; or

(ii) determines, directly or indirectly, a claim or question respecting money, goods, or other property or any civil right or other matter of the amount or value of 50*l.* or upwards:

any party aggrieved by the decision may apply to the Court (in this Order referred to as the Court below) for leave to appeal to the Supreme Court.

The applicant shall give security to the satisfaction of the Court below, to an amount not exceeding 100*l.*, for prosecution of the appeal, and for payment of all such costs as may be awarded to any respondent by the Supreme Court.

He shall also pay into the Court below a sum estimated by that Court to be the amount of the expense of the making-up and transmission to the Supreme Court of the record.

If security and payment are so given and made within fourteen days after application made, then and not otherwise the Court below shall (subject to the provisions of this Order) give leave to appeal.

In any other case the Court below may, if that Court thinks fit, give leave to appeal on like terms.

In any case the Supreme Court may give leave to appeal on such terms as that Court thinks just.

241. After six months from the date of an order, application for leave to appeal against it shall not be entertained by the Court below.

After twelve months from the date of an order, application for leave to appeal against it shall not be entertained by the Supreme Court.

242. Where leave to appeal is applied for by a person ordered to pay money, or do any other act, the Court below shall direct either that the decision to be appealed from be carried into execution, or that the execution thereof be suspended pending the appeal, as that Court thinks just.

If the Court directs the decision to be carried into execution, the person in whose favour it is given shall, before the execution of it, give security to the satisfaction of the Court for performance of such order as shall be made on appeal.

If the Court directs the execution of the decision to be suspended, the person against whom it is given shall, before an order for suspension is made, give security to the satisfaction of the Court for performance of such order as shall be made on appeal.

243. An appeal shall not lie from an order made without notice.

If any person thinks himself aggrieved by an order so made, he may apply to the Court below to vary or discharge it, and an appeal lies from the decision on that application.

244. An appeal from an order made at the hearing of a suit shall be made by petition.

Other appeals shall be made by motion.

2. APPEALS BY PETITION.

245. In case of an appeal by petition, the appellant shall file his petition of appeal in the Court below within fourteen days after leave to appeal is given.

246. The petition shall contain an exposition of the appellant's case as supported by evidence already before the Court and by the record as it stands.

It shall set forth the grounds of appeal and the particulars in which the order appealed from is considered by the appellant to be erroneous or defective, and shall pray that the order may be reserved or varied, and that the Supreme Court may make the particular order to which, on the record and evidence as it stands, the appellant conceives himself entitled, or such other order as the Court shall think just.

It may contain any matter by way of argument in support of the appeal.

The petition of appeal shall be served on such persons as respondents as the Court below directs.

247. A respondent may, within fourteen days after service, file in the Court below an answer to the petition.

The answer shall contain an exposition of his case as supported by the evidence already before the Court, and by the record as it stands.

It may contain any matter by way of argument against the appeal.

Copies of the answer shall be furnished by the Court below to such persons as the Court thinks fit.

248. An objection to an appeal as being out of time, or on any ground other than on the merits, shall be substantially raised by the party desiring to rely thereon in and by his answer.

Where an answer is not filed, or such an objection is not raised in the answer, no such objection shall be admitted at the hearing of the appeal.

But the absence of an answer shall not preclude any person interested in supporting the order from supporting it on the merits at the hearing of the appeal.

149. On the expiration of the time for answering, the Court below shall, without receiving any further pleading in appeal, and without the application of any party, make up the record of appeal, which shall consist of the petition, answer, orders, and proceedings, a certified copy of all written and documentary evidence admitted or tendered, and the notes of the oral evidence, the petition of appeal, and the answer.

The several pieces shall be fastened together, consecutively numbered, and the whole shall be secured by the seal of the Court below, and be forthwith forwarded by that Court to the Supreme Court.

The Court below shall not, except for some special cause, take on itself the responsibility of the charge or of the transmission to the Supreme Court of original letters or documents produced in evidence. They shall be returned to the parties producing them, and they shall produce the originals if required by the Supreme Court, at or before the hearing of the appeal.

250. After the record of appeal is transmitted, until the appeal is disposed of, the Supreme Court shall be in possession of the whole suit as between the parties to the appeal.

Every application in the suit shall be made to the Supreme Court, and not to the Court below, but any application may be made through the Court below.

251. The Supreme Court shall, after receiving the record of appeal, fix a day for the hearing thereof, and shall give notice thereof through the Court below to the parties to the appeal, such a day being fixed as will allow of the parties attending in person or by counsel or attorney, if they so desire.

But if all the several parties to an appeal appear in person at Constantinople or appoint persons there to represent them as their counsel or attorneys in the appeal and cause the appearance or appointment to be notified to the Supreme Court, the Court shall dispose of the appeal, without giving notice through the Court below of the day fixed for the hearing thereof.

252. The Supreme Court may, if it thinks fit, require a party to an appeal to appear personally before it on the hearing of the appeal, or on any occasion pending the appeal.

253. It is not open, as of right, to a party to an appeal to adduce new evidence in support of his original case, but a party may allege any facts essential to the issue that have come to his knowledge after the decision of the Court below, and may adduce evidence in support of his allegations.

The Supreme Court may, if it thinks fit, allow or require new evidence to be adduced.

254. The Supreme Court may, from time to time, make any order necessary for determining the real question in controversy in the appeal, and for that purpose may, as among the parties to the appeal, amend any defect or error in the record of appeal.

The Supreme Court may direct the Court below to inquire into and certify its finding on any question as among those parties, or any of them, which the Supreme Court thinks fit to determine before final judgment in the appeal.

Generally, the Supreme Court shall, as among the parties to the appeal, have as full jurisdiction over the whole suit as if had been orginally instituted and prosecuted in the Supreme Court by parties subject to the ordinary original jurisdiction of the Supreme Court, and may re-hear the whole case, or may remit it to the Court below to be re-heard, or to be otherwise dealt with as the Supreme Court directs.

255. On appeal from a Court where trial with a jury can be had, if the Supreme Court thinks fit to direct a re-hearing, it may direct that the re-hearing shall be with a jury.

3.—APPEALS BY MOTION.

256. In case of an appeal by motion the appellant shall file his appeal motion-paper in the Court below within seven days after leave to appeal is given.

He may at the same time file any argument which he desires to submit to the Supreme Court in support of the appeal.

The motion paper and the argument (if any) shall be served on such persons as respondents as the Court below directs.

A respondent may, within seven days after service, file in the Court below such argument as he desires to submit to the Supreme Court against the appeal.

Copies thereof shall be furnished by the Court below to such persons as the Court thinks fit.

On the expiration of the time for the respondent filing his argument, the Court below shall make up the record of appeal as nearly as may be as on an appeal by petition.

Where a party to the appeal notifies to the Supreme Court his desire to attend in person, or by counsel or attorney, when the motion is being disposed of, he shall be at liberty to do so, and the Court shall hear him, or his counsel or attorney, before disposing of the motion.

X.—APPEAL FROM SUPREME COURT TO HER MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.

257.—Where in a civil suit or proceeding a final order of the Supreme Court, or a rule or order of that Court having the effect of a final or definitive judgment, decree, or sentence—

(i) is made or given in respect of a sum of 500*l.* or upwards; or

(ii) determine, directly or indirectly, a claim or question respecting money, goods, or other property, or any civil right or other matter at issue, of the amount or value of 500*l.* or upwards;

any party aggrieved thereby may, within fifteen days after the same is made or given, apply by motion to the Supreme Court for leave to appeal to Her Majesty the Queen in Council.

The applicant shall give security to the satisfaction of the Court to an amount not exceeding 500*l.* for prosecution of the appeal, and for payment of all such costs as may be awarded to any respondent by Her Majesty in Council, or by the Lords of the Judicial Committee of Her Majesty's Privy Council.

He shall also pay into the Supreme Court a sum estimated by that Court to be the amount of the expense of the making-up and transmission to England of the transcript of the record.

If security and payment are so given and made within one month from the filing of the motion-paper for leave to appeal, then, and not otherwise, the Supreme Court shall give leave to appeal, and the appellant shall be at liberty to prefer and prosecute his appeal to Her Majesty in Council according to the rules for the time being in force respecting appeals to Her Majesty in Council from Her Colonies, or such other rules as Her Majesty in Council from time to time thinks fit to make concerning appeals from the Supreme Court.

In any case the Supreme Court, if it considers it just or expedient to do so, may give leave to appeal on the terms and in the manner aforesaid.

258. Where leave to appeal is applied for by a person ordered to pay money or do any other act, the Supreme Court shall direct either that the order appealed from be carried into execution, or that the execution thereof be suspended pending the appeal, as the Court thinks just.

If the Court directs the order to be carried into execution, the person in whose favor it is made shall, before the execution of it, give security to the satisfaction of the Court for performance of such order as Her Majesty in Council may think fit to make.

If the Court directs the execution of the order to be suspended, the party against whom it is given shall, before an order for suspension is made, give security to the satisfaction of the Court for performance of such order as Her Majesty in Council may think fit to make.

259. This Order shall not affect the right of Her Majesty at any time, on the humble petition of a person aggrieved by a decision of the Supreme Court, to admit his appeal thereon on such terms and in such manner as Her Majesty in Council may think fit, and to deal with the decision appealed from in such manner as may be just.

XI.—CRIMINAL AUTHORITY AND PROCEDURE.

1.—GENERAL PROVISIONS.

260. Except as regards offences against the Capitulations, Articles of Peace, and Treaties between Her Majesty the Queen and the Sublime Ottoman Porte, or against any Rules and Regulations for the observance thereof or for the maintenance of order among Her Majesty's subjects and protected persons in the Ottoman dominions made by or under the authority of Her Majesty, or against any of the provisions of this order,—

Any act done by a subject or protected person in the Ottoman dominions or on board a British vessel within those dominions, that would not by a Court of Justice having criminal jurisdiction in England be deemed a crime or offence making the person doing the act amenable to punishment in England, shall not, in the exercise of criminal jurisdiction under this Order, be deemed a crime or offence making the person doing the act amenable to punishment.

261. If a subject or protected person is guilty—

(i) of publicly deriding, mocking, or insulting any religion established or observed within the Ottoman dominions; or

(ii) of publicly offering insult to any religious service, feast, or ceremony established or kept in any part of those dominions, or to any place of worship, tomb, or sanctuary belonging to any religion established or observed within those dominions, or belonging to the ministers or professors thereof; or

(iii) of publicly and wilfully committing any act tending to bring any religion established or observed within those dominions, or its ceremonies, mode of worship, or observances, into hatred, ridicule, or contempt, and thereby to provoke a breach of the public peace:

he shall be deemed guilty of an offence against this Order, and shall for every such offence be liable, in the discretion of the Court, to imprisonment for not more than two years, with or without hard labour, and with or without a fine of not more than 100*l.*, or to a fine of not more than 100*l.* alone.

Notwithstanding anything in this Order, every charge against a subject or protected person of having committed an offence under this provision shall be heard and determined by summary trial; and any Provincial Court held before a commissioned Consular officer shall have power to impose the punishment aforesaid.

Consular officers shall take such precautionary measures as seen to them proper and expedient for the prevention of such offences.

262. Every Court shall have authority to cause to be apprehended and brought before it any subject or protected person being within the district of the Court and charged with having committed a crime or offence within the Ottoman dominions, or on board a British vessel being at the time of the commission thereof within those dominions, and to deal with the accused according to the jurisdiction of the Court, and in conformity with the provisions of this Order; or where the crime or offence is triable and is to be tried in England, to take the preliminary examination, and to commit the accused for trial, and cause or allow him to be taken to England.

263. Where a person charged with a crime or offence escapes or removes from the Consular district within which the crime or offence was committed and is found within another Consular district, the Court within whose district he is found may proceed in the case to examination, trial on indictment, and punishment, or to summary trial (as the case may require), in like manner as if the crime or offence had been committed in its own district; or may, on the requisition or with the consent of the Court within whose district the crime or offence was committed, send him in custody to that Court, or require him to give security for his surrender to that Court, there to answer the charge and to be dealt with according to law.

Where any person is to be so sent in custody, a warrant shall be issued by the Court within whose district he is found, and that warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed to receive and detain the person therein named, and to carry him to and deliver him up to the Court within whose district the crime or offence was committed, according to the warrant.

264. Where a warrant or order of arrest is issued by a competent authority in Malta for the apprehension of a subject, a native of Malta, or of any of its dependencies, who is accused of having committed a crime or offence within the jurisdiction of the authority issuing the warrant or order, and who is, or is supposed to be, in the Ottoman dominions, and the warrant or order is produced to the Court, the Court may back the warrant or order, and the same, when so backed, shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it was originally directed, and also to any constable or any other officer of the Court by which it is backed, to apprehend the accused at any place in the Ottoman dominions where the Court backing the warrant or order has jurisdiction, and to carry him to and deliver him up at Malta, according to the warrant or order.

265. Where a subject is charged with the commission of a crime or offence, the cognizance whereof appertains to the Court, and it is expedient that the crime or offence be inquired of, tried, determined, and punished within Her Majesty's dominions elsewhere than in England, the accused may (under the Foreign Jurisdiction Act, section 4) be sent for trial, as follows, namely,—with respect to native Indian subjects, to Bombay, and with respect to other subjects, to Malta.

The Judge of the Supreme Court or the Court for Egypt may, where it appears so expedient, by warrant under his hand and the seal of that Court, cause the accused to be sent for trial to Bombay or to Malta (as the case may require) accordingly.

The warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed to receive and detain the person therein named, and to carry him to and deliver him up to Bombay or to Malta (as the case may be) according to the warrant.

Where any person is to be so sent to Bombay or to Malta, the Court before which he is charged shall take the preliminary examination, and shall bind over such of the proper witnesses as are subjects or protected persons in their own recognizances to appear and give evidence on the trial.

2.—SUPREME COURT, AND COURT FOR EGYPT.

266. All crimes which in England are capital, tried elsewhere than in Egypt, shall, subject to the provisions of this Order, be tried by the Judge of the Supreme Court with a jury, or, where, in the opinion of the Judge, a jury cannot be obtained, with an Assessor or Assessors.

Other crimes and offences above the degree of misdemeanour, tried before the Supreme Court, and not heard and determined by summary trial, shall, subject to the provisions of this Order, be tried with a jury, or, where, in the opinion of the Judge, a jury cannot be obtained, with an Assessor or Assessors.

A crime or offence tried before the Supreme Court may be tried with a jury, or, where, in the opinion of the Judge, a jury cannot be obtained, with an Assessor or Assessors, if the Judge or Assistant-Judge so directs.

Subject to the foregoing provisions, such classes of criminal cases being within the original jurisdiction (ordinary or concurrent) of the Supreme Court and tried before that Court as the Judge, having regard to the law and practice existing in England, from time to time directs, shall be heard and determined by summary trial.

The Assistant-Judge of the Supreme Court shall hear and determine by summary trial such criminal charges as may under this Order be properly so heard and determined, and as are from time to time referred to him by the Judge.

267. All crimes which in England are capital, tried in Egypt, shall, subject to the provisions of this Order, be tried by the Judge of the Court for Egypt with a jury, or, where, in the opinion of the Judge, a jury cannot be obtained, with an Assessor or Assessors.

Other crimes and offences above the degree of misdemeanour, tried before the Court for Egypt, and not heard and determined by summary trial, shall, subject to the provisions of this Order, be tried with a jury, or, where, in the opinion of the Judge, a jury cannot be obtained, with an Assessor or Assessors.

A crime or offence tried before that Court may be tried with a jury, or, where, in the opinion of the Judge, a jury cannot be obtained, with an Assessor or Assessors, if the Judge so directs.

Subject to the foregoing provisions, such classes of criminal cases being within the original jurisdiction (ordinary or concurrent) of the Court for Egypt, and tried before that Court, as the Supreme Court, with the advice and assistance of the Court for Egypt, having regard to the law and practice existing in England, from time to time directs, shall be heard and determined by summary trial.

The Law Secretary of the Court for Egypt shall hear and determine by summary trial such criminal charges as may under this Order be properly so heard and determined, and as are from time to time referred to him by the Judge of the Court for Egypt.

268. The Supreme Court, and the Court for Egypt, may impose the punishment of imprisonment for not more than twenty years, with or without hard labor, and with or without a fine of not more than 500*l.*, or the punishment of a fine alone of not more than 500*l.*

269. When an accused person is convicted of murder, the proper officer of the Court, under the direction of the Judge, shall, in open Court, require the offender to state if he has anything to say why judgment of death should not be recorded against him.

If the offender does not allege anything that would be sufficient in law to prevent judgment of death if the offence and trial had been committed and had in England, the Judge may order that judgment of death be entered on record.

Thereupon the proper officer shall enter judgment of death on record against the offender, as if judgment of death had been actually pronounced on him in open Court by the Judge.

Where the case is tried in Egypt, the Judge shall forthwith send a report of the judgment, with a copy of the minutes and of the notes of evidence and any observations which he thinks fit to make, to the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court shall send the same to the Secretary of State, for his direction respecting the punishment to be actually imposed.

Where the case is tried elsewhere than in Egypt, the Judge of the Supreme Court shall, in like manner, report the case to the Secretary of State for his direction.

The punishment actually imposed shall not in any case exceed the measure of imprisonment and fine which the Supreme Court and the Court for Egypt, are empowered by this Order to impose.

3.—PROVINCIAL COURT AT TUNIS.

270. The Supreme Court may, from time to time, by deputation in writing under the hand of the Judge and the seal of the Court, authorize the Consul-General at Tunis—

(i) to exercise there such criminal jurisdiction vested in the Supreme Court, as is described in the deputation; and

(ii) to refer, from time to time, to the Vice-Consul at Tunis such criminal charges as are described in the deputation; and all such jurisdiction as aforesaid may be exercised, and all criminal charges referred in pursuance of the deputation shall be so heard and determined, accordingly.

A deputation shall not have effect until it has been approved in writing by the Secretary of State, and may at any time be revoked by the Secretary of State, by writing under his hand, or by the Supreme Court, by writing under the hand of the Judge and the seal of the Court.

In the absence of any such deputation, and as far as the same does not extend, the Consul-General at Tunis shall have the same jurisdiction in criminal matters as he would have had if this provision had not been inserted in this Order.

4.—PROVINCIAL COURTS, GENERALLY.

271. Where the crime or offence with which a person is charged before a Provincial Court, held before a commissioned Consular officer, is any crime or offence other than assault endangering life, cutting, maiming, arson, or housebreaking, and appears to the Court to be such that, if proved, it would be adequately punished by imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for not more than three months, or by a fine of not more than 20*l.*, the Court shall hear and determine the case by summary trial and without Assessors.

In other cases the Court shall hear and determine the case on indictment and with Assessors.

The Court may impose the punishment of imprisonment for not more than twelve months, with or without hard labour, and with or without a fine of not more than 50*l.*, or the punishment of a fine alone of not more than 50*l.*

272. A Provincial Court, held before an uncommissioned Consular officer, shall have authority to impose the punishment only of a fine of not more than five pounds.

The Court shall hear and determine each case by summary trial.

The conviction may be enforced by execution on the goods of the party ordered to pay the fine, and not otherwise.

In any case pending, the Superintending Consul may, on application of either party, order that the case be sent to him, to be heard and determined by him, or that it be transmitted to the Supreme Court, or in Egypt to the Court for Egypt, to be there heard and determined; and the case shall be so heard and determined accordingly.

Within seven days after deciding any case, the Consular officer shall report the same to his Superintending Consul, and transmit therewith a copy of all the proceedings.

273. Where the crime or offence with which an accused person is charged before the Provincial Court appears to the Court to be such that, if proved, it would not be adequately punished by such punishment as the Court has power to impose, and the accused is not to be sent for trial to England, Bombay, or Malta, the Court shall reserve the case—in Egypt, to be heard and determined by or under the direction of the Court for Egypt—and elsewhere to be heard and determined by or under the direction of the Supreme Court.

The Court shall take the depositions, and forthwith send them, with a minute of other evidence, if any, and a report on the case, to the Court for Egypt, or the Supreme Court as the case may be.

The Court for Egypt or the Supreme Court, as the case may be, shall direct in what mode and where, consistently with the provisions of this Order, the case shall be heard and determined, and the same shall be so heard and determined accordingly.

5.—PRELIMINARY PROCEDURE.

Summons or Warrant.

274. In every case, whether the charge is or is not such as must or may be heard and determined by summary trial, the Court shall proceed, if the accused is not already in custody, either by way of summons to him, or by way of warrant for his apprehension in the first instance, according to the nature and circumstances of the case.

For the issuing of a summons the charge need not be put in writing or to be sworn to unless the Court so directs.

The person effecting service shall attend at the time and place mentioned in the summons to prove service.

Notwithstanding the issuing of a summons, a warrant may be issued at any time before or after the time appointed in the summons for the appearance of the accused.

A warrant shall not be issued, in the first instance, unless the charge is in writing on the oath of the person laying the charge, or of some witness.

If a person summoned does not obey the summons the Court may (after proof of the service of the summons) issue a warrant for his apprehension.

A warrant need not be made returnable at any particular time, but may remain in force until executed.

It may be executed by the apprehension of the accused at any place within the particular jurisdiction, and in case of fresh pursuit it may be executed at any place in another Consular district, without application to the Court for that district.

Search Warrant.

275. Where it is proved that in fact, or according to reasonable suspicion, any thing on, by, or in respect of which a crime or offence cognisable by the Court has been committed is in a house or place of a subject or protected person, the Court may, by warrant (called a search warrant), authorize an officer of the Court therein named to search the house or place (which shall be named or described in the order), and if any thing searched for be found, to seize it, and apprehend the occupier of the house or place.

A general search warrant shall not be granted.

The officer named in the warrant shall alone execute it, but he may be accompanied by any persons necessary to assist him.

If the house or place is closed, and the officer is denied admission, after demanding admission and disclosing his authority and the object of his visit, it may be forced open.

Where there is suspicion only, the warrant shall so state, and then it shall be executed in the day-time; otherwise, it may be executed in the night-time.

Sunday and Holydays.

276. A search warrant, or a warrant for apprehension or commitment, or other purpose, may be issued and executed on Sunday, Good Friday, or Christmas Day, where the urgency of the case so repuires.

Expenses.

277. The Court may order a person convicted before it, by summary trial or on indictment, to pay all or any specified part of the expenses of his prosecution, or of his imprisonment or other punishment, or of both.

Where it appeares to the Court that a charge is malicious, or frivolous and vexatious, the Court may order the prosecutor to pay all or any specified part of the expenses of the prosecution.

In these respective cases the Court may order that the whole or such portion as the Court thinks fit of the expenses so paid be paid over to the prosecutor or to the accused (as the case may be).

In all cases the reasons of the Court for making or refusing any such order shall be recorded in the minutes.

Damages for Assault.

278. The Court may, if it thinks fit, order a person convicted before it, by summary trial or on indictment, of an assault, to pay to the person assaulted by way of damages, a sum not exceeding 10*l*.

Damages so ordered to be paid may be either in addition to or in lieu of a penalty, and shall be recoverable in like manner as a penalty.

6.—SUMMARY TRIAL.

279. The following provisions, under the head of Summary Trial, apply exclusively to cases where the charge is heard and determined by Summary Trial.

280. Where the accused comes before the Court on summons, or warrant, or otherwise, either originally or on adjournment, then, if the prosecutor, having had notice of the time and place appointed for the hearing or adjourned hearing of the charge, does not appear, the Court shall dismiss the charge unless for some reason, recorded in the minutes, it thinks fit to adjourn or further adjourn the hearing.

If both parties appear the Court shall proceed to hear and finally determine the charge.

281. The room or place in which the Court sits to hear and determine the charge is an open and public Court, and the public generally may have access thereto as far as it can conveniently contain them.

282. The substance of the charge shall be stated to the accused, and he shall be asked if he admits or denies the truth of the charge.

If he admits the truth of the charge, the Court may convict him thereof.

If he denies the truth of the charge, the Court shall proceed to hear the prosecutor and his witnesses and other evidence.

At the close of the prosecutor's evidence, if it appear to the Court that the case is made out against the accused sufficiently to require him to make a defence, the Court shall ask him if he wishes to say anything in answer to the charge, or has any witnesses to examine or other evidence to adduce in his defence; and the Court shall then hear the accused and his witnesses, and other evidence, if any.

283. The prosecutor shall be at liberty to conduct the charge, and to have witnesses examined and cross-examined by counsel or attorney on his behalf.

284. The accused shall be at liberty to make his full answer and defence to the charge, and to have witnesses examined and cross-examined by counsel or attorney on his behalf, and if he does not employ counsel or attorney, the Court shall, at the close of the examination of each witness for the prosecution, ask the accused whether he wishes to put any questions to that witness.

If he puts any question to a witness, that witness may be re-examined by or on behalf of the prosecutor.

285. If the accused adduces in his defence any evidence other than evidence to character, the prosecutor may, if the Court thinks fit, adduce evidence in reply.

But the prosecutor shall not in any case be allowed to make any observations by way of reply to the evidence adduced by the accused, nor shall the accused in any case be allowed to make any observations on evidence adduced by the prosecutor in reply.

286. A variance between the charge and the evidence adduced in support of it with respect to the time at which the alleged crime or offence was committed shall not be deemed material, if it is proved that the charge was in fact made within the time (if any) limited by law for the making thereof.

But if any variance between the charge and the evidence appears to the Court to be such that the accused has been thereby deceived or misled, the Court may adjourn the hearing.

287. At any time before or during the hearing of the charge the Court may, if it thinks fit, for reasons recorded in the minutes, adjourn the hearing.

An adjournment ordered for any cause shall be made to a certain time and place, appointed and stated at the time of adjournment in the presence and hearing of the parties or their respective counsel or attorneys.

During an adjournment the Court may, in its discretion, according to the nature and circumstances of each case, either suffer the accused to go at large or commit him by warrant to such prison or other place of security, or to such other safe custody, as the Court thinks fit, or may discharge him on his entering into a recognisance, with or without a surety or sureties, at the discretion of the Court, for his appearance at the time and place of adjournment.

If at any time and place of adjournment of a trial which has once begun, the accused, does not appear, the Court may, if it thinks fit, proceed with the further hearing as if he was present.

288. The Court having heard what each party has to say as aforesaid, and the witnesses, and the evidence adduced, shall consider the whole matter and finally determine the same, and shall either convict the accused or dismiss the charge.

In case of conviction, an order of conviction shall be drawn up in form and shall be preserved among the records of the Court.

In case of dismissal, the Court shall, on the application of the accused, make an order of dismissal, an office copy whereof shall, on being produced, without further proof, be a bar to any subsequent charge against him for the same matter.

289. Where the Court orders money to be paid by a person convicted, or by a prosecutor, for penalty, compensation, expenses, or otherwise, the money may be levied on the goods of the person ordered to pay the same, by distress and sale under warrant.

That person may pay or tender to the officer having the execution of the warrant the sum therein mentioned, with the amount of the expenses of the distress up to the time of payment or tender, and thereupon the officer shall cease to execute the same.

290. If the officer having the execution of the warrant returns that he could find no goods, or no sufficient goods, whereon to levy the money mentioned in the warrant, with expenses, the Court may by warrant commit the person ordered to pay to prison for a time specified in the warrant, unless the money, and all expenses of the distress, commitment, and conveyance to prison, to be specified in the warrant, are sooner paid.

Where it is proved that distress and sale of goods will be ruinous to the person ordered to pay the money and his family, or (by his confession or otherwise) that he has no goods whereon a distress may be levied, then the Court, if it thinks fit, may, instead of issuing a warrant of distress, commit him to prison, with or without hard labour, for a time specified in the warrant, unless the money, and all expenses of the commitment and conveyance to prison, to be specified in the warrant, are sooner paid.

The person committed may pay the sum mentioned in the warrant, with the amount of expenses therein mentioned (if any), to the person in whose custody he is, and that person shall thereupon discharge him, if he is in custody for no other matter.

The commitment, in case of a Provincial Court held before an un-commissioned Consular officer, shall not be for more than fourteen days, and in any other case shall not be for more than two months.

291. Where a conviction does not order the payment of money, but orders that the offender be imprisoned, the Court shall issue a warrant of commitment accordingly.

7.—TRIAL ON INDICTMENT.

292. The following provisions, under the head of Trial on Indictment, apply exclusively to cases where the charge is not heard and determined by summary trial.

293. Where the accused comes before the Court on summons or warrant, or otherwise, the Court shall, in his presence, take the statements on oath of those who know the facts and circumstances of the case, and put them in writing (called the depositions).

The accused may put questions to each witness produced against him, and the witness's answer thereto shall be part of his deposition.

The deposition of each witness shall be read over to the witness, and shall be signed by him.

294. No objection to a charge, summons, or warrant, for defect in substance or in form, or for variance between it and the evidence for the prosecution, shall be allowed; but if a variance appears to the Court to be such that the accused has been thereby deceived or misled, the Court may on his application adjourn the examination.

295. The Court may by warrant, from time to time, if it thinks fit, on account of the absence of witnesses or for any other reason (recorded in the minutes), remand the accused for a reasonable time, not exceeding eight days, to some prison or other place of security.

Or if the remand is for not more than three days the Court may, by word of mouth, order the officer or person in whose custody the accused is, or any other fit officer or person, to continue or keep the accused in the custody, and to bring him up at the time appointed for commencement or continuance of the examination.

During remand the Court may, nevertheless, order the accused to be brought before it.

Or the Court may admit the accused to bail on the remand.

296. At the close of the evidence for the prosecution, if the Court considers it not sufficient to put the accused on his trial, the Court shall forthwith order him, if in custody, to be discharged.

297. Otherwise the Court shall (without requiring the attendance of the witnesses) read over to the accused the depositions, and shall then say to him these words:—

> Having heard the evidence, do you wish to say anything in answer to the charge? You need not say anything unless you wish. You have nothing to hope from any promise of favour, and nothing to fear from any threat, held out to you to induce you to make any admission or confession. Whatever you say will be written down and may be given in evidence against you.

Whatever the accused then says shall be written down, and shall be read over to him, and shall be kept with the depositions.

298. If the Court considers the evidence sufficient to put the accused on his trial, the Court shall order that he be tried on indictment, and shall until the trial either admit him to bail or send him to prison for safe keeping.

299. Where the charge is not of a crime which in England is capital, but is of a crime or offence above the degree of misdemeanour, and is to be tried before the Supreme Court, or the Court for Egypt, and the trial is to be had where a jury can be obtained, then the Court, on ordering that the accused be tried on indictment, shall ask him whether or not he wishes to be tried with a jury.

If he answers in the negative, then the trial shall be had without a jury, unless not less than forty-eight hours before the time appointed for the trial he files in the Court a notice in writing, stating his wish to be tried with a jury.

300. Where the accused is charge with—

Felony;

Assault with intent to commit felony;

Attempt to commit felony;

Obtaining or attempting to obtain property by false pretences;

Receiving stolen property or property obtained by false pretnnces;

Perjury, or subornation of perjury;

Concealing the birth of a child by secret burying or otherwise;
Indecent exposure of the person;
Riot;
Assault on a constable or officer of the Court in the execution of his duty, or on any person acting in his aid;
Neglect or breach of duty as a constable or officer of the Court;
the Court may, if it thinks fit, admit him to bail.

Where he is charged with an indictable misdemeanour, not before in this provision specified, the Court shall admit him to bail unless the Court sees good reason to the contrary (recorded in the minutes).

If he is charged with murder or treason he shall not be admitted to bail except by the Judge of the Supreme Court.

The Judge of the Supreme Court may, if he thinks fit, admit any person to bail, although the Court before which the charge is made has not thought fit to do so.

A person may be admitted to bail at any time after he has been ordered to be tried on indictment.

301. The accused who is to be admitted to bail, either on remand or on or after trial ordered, shall produce such surety or sureties as, in the opinion of the Court, will be sufficient to ensure his appearance as and when required, and shall with him or them enter into a recognisance accordingly.

302. The Court shall bind by recognisance the prosecutor and every witness to appear at the trial to prosecute, or to prosecute and give evidence, or to give evidence (as the case may be).

If a person refuses to enter into a recognisance the Court may send him to prison, there to remain until after the trial, unless in the meantime he enters into a recognisance.

But if afterwards, from want of sufficient evidence or other cause, the accused is discharged, the Court shall order that the person imprisoned for so refusing be also discharged.

303. The room or place in which the preliminary examination is held is not an open or public Court for that purpose, and the Court may, if it thinks that the ends of justice will be best answered by so doing, order that no person have access to, or be or remain in that room or place without the express permission of the Court.

304. A person who has been ordered to be tried on indictment shall be entitled to have a copy of the depositions, on payment of a resonable sum not exceeding 6*d*. for every 100 words, or, if the Court thinks fit, without payment.

The Court shall, at the time of ordering the trial, inform him of the effect of this provision.

205. The written charge (if any), the depositions, the statement of the accused, the recognizances of prosecutor and witnesses, and the recognizances of bail (if any), shall be carefully transmitted in proper time to the Court before which the trial is to be held.

306. The Supreme Court shall, when required by the Secretary of State, send to him a report of the sentence of the Court in any case tried on indictment, with a copy of the minutes and notes of evidence and with any observations which the Court thinks fit to make.

The Court for Egypt and every Provincial Court shall forthwith send to the Supreme Court a report of the sentence of the Court in every case tried on indictment, with a copy of the minutes and notes of evidence and with any observations which the Court thinks fit to make. The Supreme Court shall, when required by the Secretary of State, transmit the same to him, with any observations which the Court thinks fit to make.

8.—APPEAL ON LAW TO SUPREME COURT.

307. Where a person is convicted, either by summary trial or on indictment, before a Court other than the Supreme Court (in this provision referred to as the Court below):

(i) if he considers the conviction erroneous in law, then, on this application (unless it appears merely frivolous, when it may be refused): or, the Court below shall state a case, setting out the facts and the grounds of the conviction, and the question of law, and send it to the Supreme Court.

(ii) if the Court below thinks fit to reserve for consideration of the Supreme Court any question of law arising on the trial;

Thereupon the Court below shall, as it thinks fit, either postpone judgment, on the conviction, or respite execution of the judgment, and either commit the person convicted to prison, or take security for him to appear and receive judgment or to deliver himself for execution of the judgment (as the case may require) at an appointed time and place.

The Supreme Court shall hear and finally determine the matter, and thereupon shall reverse, affirm, or amend the judgment given, [or set it aside, and order an entry to be made in the minutes that in the judgment of the Supreme Court the person ought not to have been convicted,] or order judgment to be given at a subsequent sitting of the Court below,—or make such other order as the Supreme Court thinks just,—and shall also give all necessary and proper consequential directions.

The judgment of the Supreme Court shall be delivered in open Court, after the public hearing of any argument offered on behalf of the prosecution or of the person convicted.

Before delivering judgment, the Supreme Court may, if necessary, cause the case to be amended by the Court below.

9.—PUNISHMENT.

308. The Supreme Court may, if it thinks fit, by warrant under the hand of the Judge and the seal of the Court, cause an offender convicted before any Court and sentenced to imprisonment, to be sent to and imprisoned at any place in the Ottoman dominions, approved for that purpose by the Secretary of State.

The warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed, to receive and detain the person therein named and to carry him to and deliver him up at the place named, according to the warrant.

309. When an offender convicted before any Court is sentenced to imprisonment and it appears to the Supreme Court, or, as regards Egypt, the Court for Egypt, expedient that the sentence be carried into effect within Her Majesty's dominions, the offender may (under The Foreign Jurisdiction Act, section 5), be sent for imprisonment as follows, namely,—with respect to native Indian subjects, to Bombay, and with respect to other persons, to Malta or Gibraltar.

The Supreme Court, or the Court for Egypt, may, by warrant under the hand of the Judge and the seal of the Court, cause the offender to be sent to Bombay or to Malta or Gibraltar (as the case may require), in order that the sentence may be there carried into effect accordingly.

The warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed to receive and detain the person therein named and to carry him to and deliver him up at the place named according to the warrant.

310. The Supreme Court may, if it thinks fit, report to the Secretary of State recommending a mitigation or remission of any punishment awarded by any Court; and thereupon the punishment may be mitigated or remitted.

But such a recommendation shall not be made with respect to a punishment awarded by a Court other than the Supreme Court, except on the recommendation of that other Court, or on the dissent of the Assessors or Assessor, if any, from the conviction or from the amount of punishment awarded.

10.—DEPORTATION OF OFFENDERS.

311. (i) Where it is proved that there is reasonable ground to apprehend that a subject or protected person is about to commit a breach of the public peace,—or that the acts or conduct of a subject or protected person are or is likely to produce or excite to a breach of the public peace,—the Court may, if it thinks fit (for reasons recorded in the minutes) cause him to be brought before it and require him to give security to the satisfaction of the Court, to keep the peace, or for his future good behaviour, as the case may require:

(ii) Where a subject or protected person is convicted of a crime or offence before the Court, or before a Court in the sentence of which one of Her Majesty's Consular officers concurs, the Court for the district in which he is may, if it thinks fit, require him to give security to the satisfaction of the Court for his future good behaviour, and for that purpose may (if need be) cause him to be brought before the Court:

In either of these cases, if the person required to give security fails to do so, the Court may order that he be deported from the Ottoman dominions to such place as the Court directs.

The Court shall not, however, without the consent of the person to be deported, direct the deportation of a native Indian subject to any place other than Bombay,—or of a native of Malta or of any of its dependencies to any place other than Malta,—or of a native of Gibraltar to any place other than Gibraltar,—or of a person not being a native Indian subject and being a native of any part of Her Majesty's dominions, other than Malta, its dependencies, or Gibraltar, to any place other than England.

A Court other than the Supreme Court or the Court for Egypt shall report to the Supreme Court any order of deportation made by it, and the grounds thereof, before the order is executed. The Supreme Court may reverse the order, or may confirm it with or without variation, and in case of confirmation, shall direct it to be carried into effect.

The person to be deported shall be detained in custody until a fit opportunity for his deportation occurs.

He shall, as soon as is practicable—and in the case of a person convicted, either after execution of the sentence, or while it is in course of execution,—be embarked in custody under the warrant of the Supreme Court, or, as regards Egypt, of the Court for Egypt, on board one of Her Majesty's vessels of war, or if there is no such vessel available, then on board any British or other fit vessel bound to the place of deportation.

The warrant shall be sufficient authority to the commander or master of the vessel to receive and detain the person therein named, and to carry him to and deliver him up at the place named, according to the warrant.

The Court may order the person to be deported to pay all or any part of the expenses of his deportation. Subject thereto, the expenses of deportation shall be defrayed as the expenses relating to distressed British subjects are defrayed, or in such other manner as the Secretary of State from time to time directs.

The Supreme Court and the Court for Egypt (as the case may be) shall forthwith report to the Secretary of State any order of deportation made or confirmed by it, and the grounds thereof; and shall also inform thereof Her Majesty's Ambassador, Minister, or Chargé d'Affaires at the Sublime Ottoman Porte.

If any person deported under this or any former order returns to the Ottoman dominions without permission in writing of the Secretary of State (which permission the Secretary of State may give) he shall be deemed guilty of an offence against this order, and shall for every such offence be liable to imprisonment for not more than one month, with or without hard labour, and with or without a fine of not more than 10*l.*, or to a fine of not more than 20*l.* alone: and he shall also be liable to be forthwith again deported, and shall not be again entitled to registration under this order.

And the Right Honourable the Earl Granville, and the Right Honourable the Earl of Kimberley, and the Most Noble the Duke of Argyll, three of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, are to give the necessary directions herein, as to them may respectively appertain.

LEAVE AND ALLOWANCES.

The 10*th February* 1874.

No. 1049.—The Secretary of State for India has sanctioned the following rules for the grant of leave and acting allowance to Bishops in India. They do not apply to the present Bishop of Calcutta :—

1. The following rules regulate the grant of leave to bishops.
2. A bishop may be allowed leave of absence either on medical certificate or on furlough.
3. The amount of leave of absence on medical certificate admissible to a bishop is limited to two years.
4. Subject to the limitation in Rule 3, leave of absence may be granted to a bishop upon medical certificate for a period not exceeding one year. Leave so granted may be extended upon medical certificate to any period not exceeding eighteen calendar months.
5. The amount of furlough admissible to a bishop at one time is limited to six calendar months.
6. The amount of furlough earned by a bishop is one-eleventh of the time during which he has been on duty without interruption, provided that no additional furlough can be earned by duty done while six months' furlough is due, and that, when duty is interrupted, all furlough earned theretofore is cancelled.

The furlough due to a bishop is the furlough which he has earned, less the period during which he has been absent on furlough.

Absence on furlough, though not counting as duty, is not an interruption of duty within the meaning of this section.

7. To a bishop who has been on duty without interruption for thirty-three calendar months, and who has not for twelve calendar months been absent on furlough the whole or any part of the furlough due to him may be granted.
8. An archdeacon or a chaplain appointed to hold charge of a diocese during the absence of the bishop, is entitled to an allowance of Rs. 500 a month in addition to the pay of his substantive office.
9. A bishop while absent upon furlough or upon leave on medical certificate is entitled to full pay, less Rs. 500 a month, but not to any other allowances.
10. An archdeacon or a chaplain appointed to hold charge of a diocese during the absence of the bishop upon leave on medical certificate, is entitled to the travelling and other similar allowances admissible to the bishop.
11. The allowances of the Bishop of Madras or Bombay when performing the functions of the Bishop of Calcutta during his absence on leave, are regulated by 5 & 6 Vic. Cap 119. In such case the Bishop of Madras or Bombay is entitled to an allowance at the rate of Rs. 833⅓ a month, in addition to his salary as Bishop of Madras or Bombay, and the Bishop of Calcutta will receive during such absence the salary of his office, less Rs. 833⅓ a month.
12. Leave under these rules may be granted, to the Metropolitan, by the Governor-General in Council, and to the Bishops of Madras and Bombay, by the Governments of those presidencies on the recommendation of the Metropolitan.

2. The Governor-General in Council is accordingly pleased to direct that the bracketed note at the head of Supplement D to the Civil Leave Code be cancelled.

Received the report called for in Resolution VI of the meeting of the 28th January.

From a house-to-house visitation of the 28 mohullas comprised within this municipality, it appears that 124 men, 154 women and 60 children are in a very distressed condition.

2. Resolved that, as the members of this Committee cannot spare time on a week day for a detailed and prolonged inspection of these people, the Committee will assemble on Sunday next, February 8th, at 1 P.M., at Laljie's golah.

3. In the meantime, if any of the above-mentioned persons appear likely to die of starvation before Sunday, the municipal bukshee will take him to Babu Gunga Persaud, who is empowered to issue ad interim tickets.

4. The European inhabitants of Monghyr having responded nobly to the call for subscriptions made upon them by the Honorary Secretary, the subject of raising subscriptions from the natives was next discussed, and a list of the well-to-do inhabitants of each mohulla read over.

5. Resolved that as Messrs. Dear and Thomas are well acquainted with the circumstances of the townspeople, this list be made over to them, and they be requested to put against each man's name what subscription they consider he ought to give, and that the list so prepared be brought up at the next meeting.

6. Rs. 10, advanced to Bhugwan Lall, in charge of the golah, for repairing the well mouth, building cooking-places, and relaying tiles, is sanctioned.

"Approved." E. LOCKWOOD, Offg. Collector.

PRESENT: Mr. Dear, Colonel Murray, Dr. Purves, Mr. Thomas, Mr. Newbery, Honorary Secretary.

Laljie Modi being present, an arrangement was first made with him to rent the golah for relief purposes at Rs. 6-8 per month.

2. As some of the grain distributed yesterday appeared discolored and worm-eaten, Dr. Purves is requested to inspect the 10 maunds in the golah and report on it.

3. A lazaar-house to be erected near the relief hospital, and all lepers or persons suffering from loathsome disease or deformity to be kept there and fed entirely, and not permitted to roam about the town.

4. Any such leper or person aforesaid leaving the lazaar-house and begging about the town, to forfeit his ticket, and to be debarred from all relief from this Committee for the future.

5. Mr. Thomas has municipal roads sanctioned, on which there is work for the able-bodied, and is authorized to commence one of them.

6. The filling in of the deep places in the fort moat where water stagnates, is established as a charitable relief work for those who can do a little work. Men will receive 1½ annas, women 9 pies, and children 6 pies per diem.

7. Yesterday the Committee inspected all who presented themselves for gratuitous charitable relief, and found them (about 300) to be, with very few exceptions, the professional beggars of the town and neighbourhood, who would be in their present state in times of the greatest abundance.

8. The Committee now divides itself off into Sub-Committees, so that Laljie's golah may be visited by some one every day, except Sunday and Wednesday.

Monday, Mr. Dear and Gunga Persaud.
Tuesday, Mr. Newbery and Babu Ram Prosad Das.
Thursday, Colonel Murray and Ally Quilly Khan.
Friday, Dr. Purves and Moulvie Abdul Jubbar.
Saturday, Mr. Thomas and Babu Okhil Churn.

9. A metrance at Rs. 2 and her food, appointed to keep the golah clean.

The municipal bukshee will furnish a list of a few respectable inhabitants of each mohulla, who will be held responsible for reporting to the Committee any cases of distress amongst persons of a higher class who cannot leave their houses.

Resolved that the list referred to in paragraph 5 of the minutes of the last meeting be made over to the Honorary Secretary for realization of the subscriptions.

Resolved that the grain to be distributed, to be for the future parched.

"Approved." E. LOCKWOOD, Offg. Collector.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT,
Criminal.

THE High Court find it necessary to call the attention of the several Subordinate Criminal Courts, and of the Officers in charge of Jails, to the provisions of Act X of 1872, in respect of the submission of criminal appeals. Section 275 of the present Law enacts that "every petition of appeal shall be accompanied by a copy of the judgment or order appealed against." In cases tried by jury, a copy of the Judge's charge to the jury will take the place of the judgment or other order, and a copy of the judgment or other order, or of the Judge's charge to the jury, as the case may be, is, under Section 276 of the Code, to be furnished without delay on the application of any person affected by such sentence or order.

2. What the judgment or final order in the case shall contain is enacted in Section 464 of the Code :—"The judgment or final order shall contain the point or points for determination, the finding thereupon, and the reasons for the finding."

3. No doubt can exist as to the plain requirements of the Law in this matter, and the Court desire, accordingly, that the Subordinate Courts will carefully comply with the provisions of the New Code and discontinue the practice, which at present exists in several quarters, of furnishing to the person affected, and sending up to the Appellate Court a copy of the sentence only with the petition of appeal.

2. Statements received in other than the printed forms supplied by the Superintendent of Stationery will be returned, and the district will be dealt with as if no statements had been received.

3. Statement A will contain the total number of original suits before each of the Civil Courts in the district during the quarter. The first column marked "Class of Courts" will contain the designation of each Civil Court in the district. Column 5 intended to show suits received "by institution" will include cases received on remand from a higher Court, or admitted to review; but such cases should be noticed also in the column of remarks. It will be seen that in the other columns, the cases dealt with by transfer have been distinguished from other cases under both the general heads "Received" and "Disposed of," separate columns having been allotted to them, so that the figures in red ink prescribed by Circular Order No. 25, dated 12th August 1871, will no longer be necessary. The instructions, however, contained in Circular Order No. 28, dated 12th October 1871, as to the nature of the transfers intended will apply to the new columns.

4. Part II. With reference to explanations of the cause of delay, District Judges will be guided by Circular Orders No. 6, dated 15th February 1873, and No. 25, dated 30th December 1873.

5. Statement B. Whenever the columns showing cases received "by transfer" under each of the several classes differ from the corresponding columns for cases disposed of "by transfer," an explanation of the discrepancy should be given in the column of remarks. When a case is remanded under Section 351, Civil Procedure Code, it is to be treated as decided by the Appellate Court, disappearing from its original file, and should be accounted for as disposed of by transfer; but where an order is made under Section 354, the case ought not to be removed from the file of the Appellate Court, but shown as pending. When a case is received by the Appellate Court under an order of the High Court in special appeal, it will be shown as received "by transfer," and after disposal, will be shown as disposed of either by "final order" or "by transfer," according as it has been dealt with under Section 354 or remanded to the Original Court. Red ink figures need not be given.

6. Part II. The remarks already made in connection with Part II of Statement A apply mutatis mutandis to Part II of Statement B.

7. Statement C is intended to exhibit all miscellaneous cases instituted and disposed of by the various Judicial Courts in the district. All business heretofore entered in the Statements under the head of "other miscellaneous Proceedings," and which for the most part consists of reports, answers to or orders upon proceedings from other Courts, applications from Ministerial Officers, &c., must be carefully excluded, and nothing but real cases requiring a judicial finding and order should be entered. Proceedings under Section 45 and Section 75, Act VIII (B. C.) of 1869, for example, should not be included in Statement C.

By order of the High Court,

H. J. S. COTTON,
Offg. Registrar.

RULE III.—No process which comes within the operation of Rule I shall be drawn up for service or execution, except upon an application made to the Court for that purpose in writing on a document bearing upon its face stamps not less in amount than the fee which by Rule I is directed to be charged for serving and executing the process so sought to be drawn up. This application may, however, at the option of the party making it, be included in the petition by which he moves the Court to order the process to issue, but in that case the petition must bear the requisite stamps for the process fee in addition to such stamps, if any, as are needed for its own validity; and, in either case, the filing of the application thus duly stamped shall constitute payment of the fee chargeable for the process.

RULE IV.—In cases which are covered by the note to Article 2 of Part I, and the note to Articles (2) and (4) of Parts II and III of the Table of Fees in Rule I, the additional fee which may become payable after the process has been actually issued shall be paid by filing a written requisition to the Court to receive the fee, which document shall bear on the face of it stamps not less in amount than the additional fee, together with a memorandum of the purpose for which it is paid.

RULE V.—The proceeds of a sale effected in execution of any decree will only be paid out of Court on an application made for that purpose in writing, and the additional fee (f),

Article (6), Parts II and III, must be paid by stamps affixed to, or impressed upon, the first of such applications: whether it be or be not made by the person who obtained the order for sale, or whether it does or does not extend to the whole of the proceeds. No fee will be chargeable upon any such application subsequent to the first.

"The widow and eight children (six daughters and two sons) of the late Mr. A. Abercrombie, who died at Dacca on the 30th December last."

"An application has been received from Mr. A. L. Clay for the remission of a fine of Rs. 50, incurred under Article V (6) of the Rules, for reporting his marriage two days after the expiry of the month's grace allowed."

"Mr. Clay pleads, that had he reported his marriage, which took place in England on the 16th September, within the prescribed month, by letter, the notice would not have reached the Fund Office sooner than his report dated the 17th October last, which was made immediately upon his arrival in India. The managers recommend this case for the favorable consideration of the meeting."

"Mr. F. R. Hogg has reported that he has obtained a divorce from his wife and has applied to subscribe at reduced rates as a widower subscriber. The managers have informed him that the date from which widower rates of subscription become payable, is the date on which the "decree nisi" is made absolute, or six months after the date of the decree."

"The managers have received a memorial from Mrs. Boldero, Mrs. Patón, and Mrs. Turner, widows of subscribers and incumbents on the Fund, praying that an increase of their respective pensions may be granted to them out of the surplus. Mrs. Boldero in 1870 sent a similar memorial, which was laid before a General Meeting, and it was resolved to inform her that the subscribers were unable to comply with the prayer of her memorial. The ladies have now been informed that the managers cannot disturb the resolution passed at the General Meeting of 1870."

"The votes of the subscribers have affirmed the resolution passed respecting the addition to Article II of the Rules of the words noted on the margin. The votes were 127 in favor of the amendment and 21 against it."

"Native gentlemen who were members of the Bengal Civil Service on the 15th May 1872, and in whose covenants the condition of subscription to the Fund was inserted before that date, shall be admitted as subscribers, on the condition that subscriptions shall not at any time be accepted on behalf of a wife married during the lifetime of another wife, or on behalf of a child born of a wife married during the lifetime of another wife, and that such wife and such child shall receive no allowance from the Fund."

"The votes on the resolution, 'that the service concurs in the views adopted by the Secretary of State both in 1865 and 1872, as to the inapplicability of the present conditions of the Civil Fund to native covenanted civilians, and the expediency of expunging from the covenants of such civilians the engagements relating to the Civil Fund,' were—for the resolution, 128; against it, 22."

"The three native gentlemen, who were members of the service in May 1872, have been informed of their admission as subscribers to the Fund, and the managers have likewise intimated the result of the voting to the Government of India in the Home Department."

"The managers, in their circular of 15th November last, stated that a reference had been made to the Actuary regarding the Fund Surplus, and Messrs. Coutts & Co., the Agents of the Fund, have reported that they are now in communication with Mr. Brown regarding the valuation of its assets and liabilities."

"On the 28th August last, the managers issued a circular to the service on the subject of the disposable surplus. This circular was accompanied by two forms, in which they sought to obtain an expression of the opinion of the service at large, with reference to the benefits which the surplus should be applied to securing, and the order of priority in which those benefits should be considered."

"For the reasons set out in their subsequent circular of the 15th November, they have determined to make no motion at present for the appropriation of surplus, but will move instead the following resolution:—"

"That any increase of benefits which may be declared as the result of the reference now made to the Actuary, shall have effect from the 1st April 1873."

"The accounts of the year 1872-73 are submitted."

CIVIL FUND OFFICE,
January, 1874.

E. E.
A. MACKENZIE,
Secretary and Accountant.

1. It was proposed by Mr. Field, and seconded by Mr. C. J. Lyall, and carried "that the proceedings of the Managers, in respect of the admission of families to the benefits of the Fund during the past half-year, be confirmed."

2. It was proposed by Mr. Barbour, and seconded by Mr. Field, and carried "that the fine imposed upon Mr. A. L. Clay, be remitted."

3. It was moved by Mr. Monro, and seconded by Mr. O'Kinealy, and carried "that the reply given by the Managers to Mesdames Boldero, Paton and Turner, be approved."

4. It was moved by Mr. H. L. Johnson, seconded by Mr. Field, and carried "that the following gentlemen be appointed Managers for the present year:—Messrs. Schalch, Geoghegan, O'Kinealy, Cotton and Abbott."

5. Mr. Schalch then moved on behalf of the Managers,—"that any increase of benefits which may be declared as the result of the reference now made to the actuary have effect from the 1st April 1873." He said, the Managers had, as they promised, yielded to the wish of the majority, as regards refraining from making any change in the benefits until the actuary's report is received, and had adopted the above resolution which would, he hoped, satisfy all parties.

Mr. Cotton said he rose to propose a Resolution, (which he would put as an amendment) that had been duly advertised before the publication of the Managers' Resolution:—

"That no surplus be declared or distributed, and that no scheme for increase of benefits or reduction of subscription be allowed to come into force until after reference to a professional actuary; provided that any benefits that may be distributed shall have retrospective effect from the 1st April 1873."

It had been urged that he should withdraw his Resolution as being substantially the same as the Resolution proposed by the Managers; but if the Resolution were substantially the same, he did not, he said, see why the Managers should not accept the terms of his Resolution, as he had been the first to advertise. He regretted on principle to oppose the Managers on what might almost appear to be a matter of form, but in point of fact it was, as he would show, of importance to adhere to the exact words of his Resolution. There were other Resolutions, to follow which it was essential to read with the Resolution he was then proposing. He was aware that the Managers had already referred the fund accounts to an actuary for a valuation in October last, while the whole question was still under discussion, and he much regretted that they had done so, as he thought that all the circumstances had not been properly stated in that reference, and he could not accept that reference as final. In the Resolution just proposed by Mr. Schalch, the words "the reference now made to the actuary" were used, and he could not stultify all the action he and his party had been taking by accepting a Resolution so expressed. The valuation of the Fund would, he hoped, again be referred to the actuary, and certain information and facts would then be supplied which had not been given in the reference of last October. He had already in the General Meeting held in July 1873, dwelt at length on the grounds of the Resolution he was now proposing, and he would not trouble the meeting by repeating them on this occasion.

Mr. Daukes seconded the amendment.

Some discussion ensued, in the course of which it was pointed out that the reference to the actuary was not final in its terms, but that he was told "further information would be sent as to the opinions of the service" on the very subjects now under agitation. It was objected that the circulars of Mr. Cotton's party were not among the documents forwarded to the actuary with the Managers' letter of reference, although the Managers, in their circular issued last autumn under the Officiating Secretary Mr. Monro's signature, had said that they were "prepared to forward any representations on the part of members of the service, which are not inconsistent with the known circumstances of the Fund, and which are supported otherwise than by merely general assertions at variance with specific facts within the knowledge of the Managers." To this it was replied that no request had been made that they should be forwarded, and that they had never been formally communicated to the Managers, who found them moreover both inaccurate and misleading. Mr. Cotton rejoined that he had assumed after the Managers' pledge that they would have forwarded the circulars referred to without a special request to that effect; and he pointed out that on an application from Mr. Westland he had formally supplied that gentleman with several copies of the second circular, when he, Mr. Westland, was in charge of the Fund Office.

The Secretary read the following extract from the reference to the actuary that had been made as showing that attention had been drawn to the points under discussion:—"It has been said above that the promotion in the three branches of the service (Bengal, North-Western Provinces and Punjab) is not parallel. It is right to inform the actuary that there is very considerable agitation at present among the Junior Civilians in the North-Western Provinces, who allege that their position and prospects as regards salary are considerably worse than those of their brethren in other provinces. It will be for the actuary to say, with reference to the facts, whether it would be safer to frame different subscription value tables for the different provinces, or whether it is sufficient to take one, an average one, for the whole service. In any case, the question of the valuation of future subscriptions should, both on account of the largeness of the item and on account of its complication, have the best attention of the actuary. * *

"He should advise also how much of a margin it would be safe to keep in distributing the surplus. The recent papers of the fund specified on the margin will be a guide to the actuary as to the details that are wanted in respect of this subject of reference, and further information will be sent as to the opinions of the service when they are collected."

Managers' Circulars of March 25th, May 21st, and August.
Proceedings of Meeting of July 29th, 1873.
Two Memoranda by Mr. Westland, dated May 5th, and June 23rd.

Mr. Cotton then pressed his amendment which was carried—the voting being for it, 12 present and 154 proxies = 166 against it, 15 „ and 71 „ = 86

6. Mr. Verner then moved and Mr. Barbour seconded a further resolution, viz.:—

"That in referring to the actuary for a valuation of the fund, he be supplied with information showing in detail the grounds for apprehending a future decrease in the average gross salaries of subscribers during their term of service, and that his advice be obtained as to the surplus which should reasonably remain undistributed as a margin to ensure the solvency of the fund."

Mr. Verner said—He thought that there was good reason to apprehend a decrease in the average gross salaries of subscribers during their term of service. True, a table published by the managers had shown a decrease comparatively small during the last twenty years, but the fact was that the furlough rules of 1868 in their early operation had temporarily counterbalanced the other causes at work. This disturbing element could not continue, and as it disappeared average salaries would again steadily decline. There was another important consideration. The Secretary of State had about three years ago made a concession to the service, one for which he need hardly say the rank and file of the service were deeply grateful. He alluded to the orders guaranteeing the full pension of one thousand a year on the completion of twenty-five years service. Experience was wanting to enable us to predicate the effect of this order on the average term of service, but it might be conjectured with a fair show of reason that it would induce early retirements. The managers had remarked in one of their circulars that the fund was scarcely affected if the average term of service were reduced by a year, but he need hardly observe that this was fallacious. The effect of such an average reduction would be to leave the assets of the fund very much as they were, and to increase its liabilities considerably. He therefore thought it very necessary that the probable effect upon the fund of the boon conceded by the Secretary of State should be provided for. There were other important considerations pointing to a decrease in average salaries, but these had already been dwelt upon in the circulars signed by himself and others, and he need not repeat them.

Mr. Schalch moved as an amendment "that the Actuary be informed of any grounds that can be stated for apprehending a future decrease in the rate of income of subscribers during their term of service, and that his advice be obtained whether it would be equitable and expedient to reserve for such a contingency part of any surplus that may be found now to exist, and how much should be so reserved."

He said, that the amendment as drafted by the Managers differed from the Resolution mainly in drawing the attention of the Actuary to the question of the equity and expediency of reserving for such a future contingency any part of the savings effected in the past from the subscriptions of old members for the benefit of those who were to come after. It was true that future subscriptions of members were taken into account in arriving at the surplus, but the members who had borne the heavy rates of subscription for so long should get the full benefit of them. It was for the Actuary, who dealt with such questions constantly, to say what was fair in this view.

Mr. O'Kinealy in seconding the amendment said—

That the statements made as regards the average decrease in the subscriptions of members during the last 23 years were wholly incorrect. As a fact, the average yearly salary of each member for the whole period was 16,746 rupees, which is only 24 rupees more than the salary for 1872-73. But there was a much better example to show that we are not in a worse position than formerly. During the five years 1863—68, we accumulated about 23 lacs of rupees, and yet the average salary for that period was only 16,267 rupees, which is less by 455 rupees than the salary of last year. So far as to the diminution in the salaries of civilians. Then as to the distribution of the surplus, he thought those who had subscribed the money should obtain the benefit of it, and these were the present members of the fund. He considered it hard that the surplus should be retained to assist future subscribers who had nothing to do with it. As regards this all present subscribers were on the same footing; but in addition to this, the proposal pressed exceedingly hard on men of about 20 years' standing in the service. They had formerly subscribed largely to make up a deficit caused by the action of their predecessors, and now they were being compelled to create a sinking fund for the benefit of future subscribers. He deemed the proposal unjust and unfair, and would vote against it.

Mr. Cotton said it was absurd to refer questions of equity to the Actuary, and were there no other reasons for opposing the Manager's amendment, he would not hesitate to oppose it on that ground alone.

The amendment was then put and lost, there being for it (16 present and 71 proxies=) 87 votes and against it (14 present and 154 proxies=) 168 votes.

The Resolution was carried by (14 present and 154 proxies=) 168 votes to (13 present and 71 proxies=) 84 votes.

7. Mr. Abbott then proposed and Mr. Porter seconded a Resolution—

"That a Committee representing all grades of the Service be appointed to assist the Managers in giving effect to the second Resolution, to consist of the following gentlemen :—

|---|---|
| HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE JACKSON, | Mr. T. W. RAWLINS, |
| MR. H. G. KEENE, | „ W. H. VERNER, |
| „ T. B. TRACEY, | „ E. H. HARRISON, |
| „ A. H. HARINGTON, | „ J. S. MACKINTOSH, |
| | „ A. W. MACKIE, |

with power to add to their number. This Committee he was proposing represented not only all grades of the Service, but almost all parts of India in which Members of the Service were employed; he trusted that it was thoroughly representative and as such would be accepted without opposition.

Mr. Monro rose to oppose the resolution. He said—

The proposal to form a committee is certainly unusual, if not almost unprecedented, and some pressing necessity must have arisen to require the adoption of such an unusual course. He wished to know whether the proposal referred to the past or the future. If it had any reference to the past, then it was practically a vote of want of confidence in, and censure of the proceedings of, the Managers of the past year. If this was so, then he said that the grounds of this want of confidence should be clearly laid before the meeting; that the Managers of the past year might have an opportunity of meeting any accusations which may be brought against them, and that the vote of want of confidence, if deserved, might be recorded by the Service.

If the proposal referred to the future, then it seemed to him unintelligible. It was practically a vote of want of confidence in Managers, who had only just been elected, who had not yet been tried, who had not yet failed in discharging any of the duties entrusted to them. It was really a declaration that the members of the Service cannot find in the Service five men whom they can trust to represent them, and it was a proposal to supplement the deficiencies of these five men whom they cannot trust, by adding to their number some more men out of the same untrusted service. He would be much surprised if any gentlemen could be found to consent to serve as managers under such conditions, and he was still more surprised to find that there were any members of the service who expected that they would meet with managers to take office when they were not to be trusted without a committee to serve as a sort of security or safeguard, that the Managers would do their duty. To be a Manager under such circumstances was in his opinion discreditable to the individual, but to expect to find such Managers was little short of an insult to the Service. Apart from the bearing of the question on past or future managers, the proposal to appoint an auxiliary committee seemed to him to be a declaration of want of confidence in ourselves as a service which was much to be deplored. It was practically an admission that we were not able to manage the affairs of our fund under the system of management which at present is in force, and which has all along prevailed. If this declaration of incapacity to manage our affairs should be affirmed by the vote of the meeting, then it seemed to him that the dissolution of the Civil Fund under its present system of management was not far off. And he for one would not be sorry if under such circumstances the dissolution were a speedy one, and if the management of the fund were assumed by some one who would be able to manage it without fear of votes of want of confidence, and without the assistance of auxiliary committees."

A somewhat animated discussion followed, in the course of which Mr. Barbour said that "he intended to support the Resolution but did not look upon it as a vote of censure on the managers or as implying any want of confidence in their desire to do what they thought best for the whole service, but it was however the fact that they were taken solely from men stationed in Calcutta and owing to the nature of the election were chosen solely by the votes of those present in meeting. The interests of the managers thus elected did not always coincide with those of officers in the mofussil and in other provinces: and were in fact in some instances directly opposed to them. It was of great importance that officers in the mofussil and of other provinces should have an opportunity of authoritatively expressing their views and on that ground he would support the Resolution." Mr. Cotton on the other hand asserted that the gentlemen he represented did in fact not repose full confidence in the Fund management. The managers had, he thought, acted throughout on a onesided view of the case and without regard to the interests of the majority of the service, and though offering to conform to the views of the service, were now in reality opposing them. Even on the newly elected management the majority of subscribers would still be represented by a minority of managers. Mr. O'Kinealy and others said that the course adopted was laying down a dangerous precedent and was meaningless, as implying distrust of the newly elected managers.

Mr. Field proposed and Mr. Dampier seconded an amendment to the following effect:—

"That the managers appointed this day be requested, if they see fit, to appoint a committee representing all grades of the service to assist them in giving effect to the foregoing Resolution."

Mr. Field "begged to express an opinion that the appointment of a committee such as that proposed would be ultra vires. Article XXIII of the rules ran as follows:—"The affairs of the fund shall be conducted by nine managers, &c." There was no provision for appointing a committee which should either control or supersede or assist the managers. It was of course possible to alter this rule, but until it was altered, he thought they could not take such a course as that proposed. Looking at the question in another point of view, it appeared to him and would probably appear to most persons that the appointment of a committee for the object mentioned in the proposition before the meeting amounted to an expression of want of confidence in the managers who had just been elected for the current year. The managers appointed under the rule just referred to, had always conducted the affairs of the fund to the satisfaction of the service at large, and he deprecated doing anything which must to outsiders have the semblance of want of confidence in the management as constituted under a set of rules which had hitherto worked satisfactorily. He thought that the course which had been pursued with respect to the real question at issue showed that the managers did not wish to set up their own views in opposition to those of a majority of the service. On the contrary they had deferred to the wishes of the service as soon as they were clearly made known to them, and no reason had been afforded so far as the present question was concerned of superseding the system of management which had been in existence for so many years. The managers just appointed numbered amongst them some of the gentlemen, who had raised the discussion which led to the propositions laid before today's meeting,—and he did not anticipate that they would act otherwise than their predecessors had done. On the contrary he believed that any representations made to them, or information supplied, would receive due consideration, and would, if desired, be incorporated into any reference to be made to the actuary. If they acted otherwise, the service were strong enough to secure attention to views held by a majority of them, and which they wished to have represented to the actuary, as in their opinion having an important bearing on the subject which he had to consider. If, however, it did seem desirable to any that a committee should be appointed, it appeared to him that the constitutional and proper way of obtaining the services of such a committee was to request the managers to appoint a committee to assist them, and therefore he begged to propose the amendment."

Mr. L. Johnson suggested that the Resolution might go to the meeting, as it was optional to the managers to accept the assistance offered. Mr. Schalch said that speaking as a manager, he was quite willing to give assistance to any committee that the subscribers might appoint, but he objected to having a committee set to work as part of the management. The managers were quite ready, if requested, to forward to the Actuary any representation that any individual member or any body of members might draw up. He objected personally to a committee in any shape as quite unnecessary, but would move as an amendment, that the proposition run simply "that a committee representing all grades of the service be appointed to give effect to the above resolution."

Mr. Mackenzie seconded this.

Mr. Field's amendment was withdrawn.

Mr. Cotton said he had no objection to accept Mr. Schalch's amendment as a compromise provided that it was understood that if that amendment were lost the original Resolution should be put, and after some conversation, it was adopted by Mr. Cotton's party and substituted with Mr. Schalch's consent for the original motion; being moved by Mr. C. J. Lyall and seconded by Mr. Verner. On being put to the vote there appeared only 7 votes present in favour of it, a number which excludes proxies, and 15 against it.

Several gentlemen protested against the result, saying the nature of the motion as put by the Chairman had not been understood, and Mr. Abbott said he should now press his original motion. Further discussion followed.

Mr. Dampier said "on looking at the names of the proposed committee, he felt that save as to one or two of them he must ask whether the proposer could for a moment profess that they had been impartially selected. He believed they were nearly all men pledged to one view of the question, and it was absurd to pretend that they were impartial assessors chosen to promote its calm and deliberate consideration. It would be much better to oblige the managers to recognise them for what they were, the chosen representatives of a large number of subscribers who held one view on the surplus question. As the managers just elected were prepared to recognise any outside committee and to deal with them as representatives of a large body of subscribers, he thought the party who pressed for their appointment should be content with that, and agree to have all this discussion cut out of the proceedings. The objections of Messrs. Monro and O'Kinealy and others would in this way be met; for veil it as you might the meaning of the Resolution as put was to appoint a committee of vigilance to watch the management."

Mr. Aitcheson said—

"He craved permission to say a single word, although he had no proposition to lay before the meeting. His earnest counsel was that the members present should avoid pressing any motion on this subject likely to create a breach in the service. In the hope that it might contribute a little to this desirable end, he would mention what happened some ten years ago in a similar case. In 1862 it was believed that there existed a considerable surplus to the credit of the fund, and proposals were brought forward by the managers for a distribution of the benefit much in the way now done. He was one of several very junior members of the service who doubted the existence of the surplus, and simply as an individual member of the service having an interest in the question, he wrote a letter to the managers setting forth his views. These views were crude and not worth much, but such as they were they received the most courteous and considerate treatment at the hands of the managers, who immediately set about the most careful examination of the whole subject. This examination resulted in the production by Mr. Monteath, then Secretary, of his well-known report which has been pronounced by professional men at home one of the most valuable papers that could be laid before an Actuary. He was sure that the managers of the present day were actuated by the same spirit as in 1862, that they would give courteous consideration to the views of any member of the service which were laid before them in a proper way; and that they would furnish to any one who asked them every possible facility for estimating the real state of the fund. There was nothing to prevent committees being formed at all the chief seats of the Local Governments for the purpose of carrying out these enquiries; and the managers, as they had been assured by Mr. Schalch, would give every possible assistance in the prosecution of them. But it was a different thing for the service by their votes officially to appoint what was really a committee of vigilance to watch over the managers in the performance of their duty. Such a measure was as unworthy of the service as it must be humiliating to the managers. He would earnestly advise that the proposal be not passed."

Mr. Field "strongly urged that the meeting should rest satisfied with the assurance given them by a gentleman who was a manager for the past year, and had been re-elected for the current year. For himself he had full confidence in that assurance. He believed that the great object at the present stage of the whole question was to open a door for full and free discussion of the question in all its bearings and as it affected all, and to secure that all grades of the service should have a fair hearing for their representations. He believed that if the managers acted up to the assurance they had just heard, this would be accomplished, and he desired to see it accomplished without doing violence to the old system of management, and taking a course that must appear to outsiders as the creation of an opposition within the service itself. He stood himself between both parties, and his personal interests were fairly divided on both sides of the question. Admitting the principle, he thought the real point of difficulty would be the application of that principle, and this would depend upon the result of figures not yet made clear, and into which it was almost impossible for a number of gentlemen at a meeting like the present to enter effectually. He had not yet made up his mind as to what ought to be done when these results were fully known, but he wished that the whole question should be gone into in the light of the fullest information. It might be that the fund ought not to be regarded as an Insurance Society merely, but there must be some limit to the application of the principle of continuity. It was admitted that gentlemen now in the service had, by their contributions, filled up a deficit which had existed before their time, and in creating which they had had no share. It would be too much to ask these gentlemen to pay also for advantages to be enjoyed by those who came after them, advantages which their own subscriptions could never procure for them. Where the line was to be drawn and at what point hardship would begin to be inflicted upon any portion of the existing members of the service, were matters on which it was impossible to form an opinion until the completion of the enquiry about to be made by the actuary. He for one wished that enquiry to be as full as possible and founded on the fullest information, and this was all the meeting really ought to see provided for. He believed the assurance he had already referred to, and that all that was desirable would be done by the managers first appointed; and he advised the withdrawal of the motion for a committee."

Further conversation followed,—in the course of which it appeared that it had not been ascertained that all the gentlemen nominated to the committee would consent to act. At length it was arranged that Mr. Abbott's resolution should again be put, omitting the names of the committee, and also omitting the words, "the managers" i. e., in precisely the same form as Mr. Schalch's amendment. The votes being again taken, there were for it (10 present and 154 proxies=) 164 and against it (15 present and 71 proxies=) 86.

8. Mr. O'Kinealy addressed the chair on a personal matter. He had been that day elected a manager; but with reference to the resolution just carried he would beg to resign his place as manager.

Mr. Trevor Grant was thereupon elected a manager in Mr. O'Kinealy's place.

The meeting then terminated.

the Administrator General of the Presidency in which such assets are, shall, within a reasonable time after he has had notice of the death of such person, and of his having left such assets as aforesaid, take such proceedings as may be necessary to obtain from the High Court at the Presidency town, letters of administration to the effects of such person, either generally or with a Will annexed, as the case may require.

Whenever the Administrator General of the Presidency takes proceedings under this section, it shall be sufficient if the petition required by section two hundred and forty-six of the Indian Succession Act, 1865, states

SEPARATE REVENUE—STAMPS.

The 26th February 1874.

No. 1389.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 16 of the General Stamp Act XVIII of 1869, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to remit the whole of the duties chargeable under the said Act on all instruments executed in favor of, by or on behalf of the Government relative to the carriage of grain to or in the territories under the respective Governments of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal and the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces.

This Notification shall not apply to any instrument executed after the 30th November 1874.

No. 1401.—The 27th February 1874.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 16 of the General Stamp Act XVIII of 1869, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to remit the whole of the duties chargeable under the said Act on instruments relating to advances made by, or under the authority of, Government for the purchase of grain or to ryots or cultivators.

This Notification extends only to the territories under the Government of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, and to the Benares Division under the Government of the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces, and does not apply to any instrument executed after the 30th November 1874.

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Military Department, are republished for general information :—

Fort William, the 25th February 1874.

No. 171 of 1874.—The Furlough Rules of 1868, as revised by various subsequent decisions, are republished for general information; and in future this General Order shall ordinarily be referred to in any matter depending on those rules. The rules previously in force will be designated, as heretofore, the Furlough Rules of 1796 and 1854.

The following G. G. O. are cancelled prospectively from the 1st January 1875 :—

G. G. O. No. 630 of 1869 (1st clause).
G. G. O. No. 627 of 1870.
G. G. O. No. 613 of 1871.

Rules apply to Officers of Staff Corps and Indian Army.

2. These rules are applicable to all officers who, on the 1st July 1868, belonged to the several Indian Staff Corps, or to the Indian Army, and who have elected, or may elect, to adopt them: officers of the British Army who entered the Staff Corps after that date are of course subject to them.

Also to Officers of R. A. and R. E., late of Indian Army, when holding permanent non-regimental appointments.

In regard to the periods of leave of absence during which appointments may be held, and in regard to the increased allowances, they are also applicable to officers of the Royal Artillery and Royal Engineers, late of the Indian Army, holding permanent staff appointments not of a regimental nature, and to such officers of the Engineers of the Imperial Establishment as may be permanently employed on the staff in India.

But should an officer of the British Service, holding such permanent staff appointment, be allowed to proceed on leave under circumstances which, by these rules, would involve loss of appointment, he cannot take leave under them, but simply as a British Officer holding no appointment.

Do not apply to Invalid Officers.

3. These rules are not applicable to officers on the Invalid or Invalid Pension Establishment, even if previous to their transfer they should have elected them, being intended solely for officers on the effective list.

Nor to Regimental Officers of the British Service, even though formerly of Indian Army.

4. They are not applicable to Regimental Officers generally of the British Service, whether formerly belonging to the Indian Army and now in the Royal Artillery, Royal Engineers, and new Line Regiments, or on the old Line Establishment: nor are they applicable to officers of the British Army holding staff appointments the tenure of which is limited to five years, except in the sense in which the rules of 1854 were made applicable, viz., as regulating the amount of absentee allowance to be granted to such officers holding staff appointments, when they are absent on furlough on medical certificate.

Only partially to Officers of the British Service holding 5-year appointments.

Do not apply to Officers of the British Medical Staff.

Officers of the British Medical Staff are not entitled to this advantage.

Apply to R. E. Officers on the Imperial list holding permanent non-regimental staff appointments.

5. They are applicable to Officers of the Royal Engineers on the Imperial Establishment, who are employed in the Public Works Department, or who are receiving a staff salary as on the fixed establishment of the Sappers and Miners; these will count service towards furlough from the date of their arrival in India.

These Officers, therefore, and other Royal Engineer Officers of the Imperial list on permanent staff employ under the Government, will be entitled to a furlough of two years after eight years' service in India, or at the expiration of one year from the date of their return (for a second tour of service in India) on the completion of the prescribed home service after the first period of seven years' service in India.

Pay allowed them during furlough.

The English rate of pay of his rank only will be passed to such an officer during this leave; but on his return to India for a second tour of service, the difference between that pay and "Furlough Pay" will be admitted to him; and, if he should not return to India, his passage money to England will be paid to him.

Rules apply to R. E. Officers of the Imperial list on the fixed staff establishments of Sappers and Miners.

Royal Engineer Officers on the Imperial Establishment, who are merely doing duty with, or attached to, the Sappers and Miners, but not on the fixed establishment and drawing staff salary, will, in regard to these rules, be on the footing of Regimental Officers of the British Service—see preceding paragraph. If, however, they afterwards accept staff employ, they also will count their service for furlough from date of arrival in India.

Previous service of Officers of the British Service who join Staff Corps, how reckoned towards furlough.

6. Officers of British Regiments who may join the Staff Corps, can count as service towards furlough all their military service in India, provided that half of it (in no case less than four years) shall have been passed in the Staff Corps. But any leave to England they may have taken during service so counted will be reckoned as furlough already taken. Officers of the British Service who formerly belonged to the Indian Armies are exempted from the above proviso.

Rules apply to Warrant Officers with Hony. Commissions.

7. These rules apply also to all Warrant Officers holding Veteran or Honorary Commissions, who may elect them; the period of service qualifying for furlough being calculated from the date of the attainment of a Commission.

Their pay.

They will receive during furlough half their total receipts, calculated as laid down in Rule V, but without any reference to a minimum or maximum rate.

Warrant Officers without Commissions can take furlough on medical certificate only, under these rules.

Warrant Officers not holding Commissions can obtain furlough under these rules only on medical certificate.

Such furlough may be for two years with retention of appointment and half of the aggregate allowances; but any extension of such leave (which will not be granted for more than one year in excess of the two years), or any leave taken within less than three years from the date of last return to duty, will be on "English furlough pay." [See Note to para. 9.]

Warrant Officers who were so before 19th February 1869, to elect on first applying for leave.

8. Every Warrant Officer who attained warrant rank before the 19th February 1869, and who has not made his election, will be required, on the first occasion of his applying for leave out of India, to state whether he desires to take the leave under these rules, or under those previously in force applicable to Warrant Officers, viz., G. G. O. Nos. 518 and 531 of 1854, G. G. O. No. 1559 of 1857, and subsequent orders. That election will be considered final.

Those who became Warrant Officers after 19th February 1869 are subject to these rules, and cannot elect any of the previous rules.

Leave on medical certificate on Indian pay and allowances to places eastward of the Cape, as allowed to Commissioned Officers under the Furlough Rules of 1796, is not in any case admissible to a Warrant Officer.

Rules apply to Medical as to other Warrant Officers.

These rules respecting Warrant Officers apply to Honorary Assistant Surgeons and Warrant Officers in the Medical Department.

Meaning of "Furlough Pay" and "English Furlough Pay."

9. The term "Furlough Pay" having now a changed and two-fold signification, in all future orders and references "Furlough Pay" will be understood as the half Indian salary within the prescribed limits specified in paragraph V of these Rules, converted at the rate of exchange fixed by the Secretary of State for the official year, whilst "English Furlough Pay" will represent the rates heretofore allowed to the several grades as English pay under the Rules of 1796 and 1854.

"English Furlough Pay" of Warrant Officers.

NOTE.—Where in these Rules English furlough pay is mentioned as that to which an officer is to be restricted, the rates laid down in paragraph 11 of G. G. O. No. 69, dated 22nd January 1868, and (for Medical Warrant Officers) paragraph 22 of G. G. O. No. 550 of 1868, are to be understood as intended in the cases of Warrant Officers.

RULES.

Assimilation of allowances on furlough on private affairs and medical certificate.

I.—The distinction, with respect to allowances, which has been hitherto drawn between furlough on private affairs and sick leave, is abolished, both kinds of leave being included under the general term furlough; provision, however, being made for the obtainment of furlough under medical certificate without all the restrictions applicable to furlough when taken without medical certificate.

II.—Leave taken under the rules now prescribed will not involve forfeiture of appointment, except in the cases herein specially provided for.

Certain Officers retain appointments during all leave duly granted.

Officers of the Staff Corps and local Indian Service, and Officers on the General List, can retain their appointments during all leave of absence granted by competent authority. But their pay during such absence will be the same as they would obtain under these rules had this exemption from forfeiture of appointment not been granted.

Absence from India for more than 5 years bars return to duty, as formerly.

III.—The Rules now prescribed do not affect the provisions of Act XXXIII of George III, Chapter 52, Section 70;* but an absentee cannot retain his appointment and draw absentee allowances, except under the Rules now prescribed. Nor do they affect the regulations by which General Officers Commanding Divisions and Brigades can only obtain limited periods of leave without forfeiting their commands.

IV.—Leave of absence will in future be of three kinds, viz.:—

I.—Furlough in or out of India.
II.—General leave on private affairs, or sick certificate in India, or short leave to sea.
III.—Privilege leave.

CHAPTER I.

Furlough.

Furlough pay how reckoned.

V.—An officer drawing staff pay, in addition to pay of rank, proceeding on furlough, will be allowed pay at the rate of 50 per cent. of the salary of his substantive office.

But an officer in civil employ and drawing consolidated salary, will be allowed 50 per cent. of the average salary drawn by him during the three years prior to his proceeding on furlough, or during his actual service in India should that be less than three years: and the time spent and the allowances drawn during any leave "other than privilege leave," will be omitted in the calculation of average salary.

No absentee shall in either case draw more than £1,000, or less than £250 per annum.

Meaning of term "Salary."

The term salary will signify the total amount drawn by an officer, whether as consolidated pay, or staff allowances in addition to pay, but will not include any extra or special allowances. But, in the case of a Military Officer in civil employ, his acting allowances shall be taken into account as a part of his salary in calculating his furlough pay.

Pay of Officers transferred to other appointments during furlough.

§ 2. An officer absent on furlough, who may be transferred to another office during his absence, shall be entitled, for the entire period of his furlough, to furlough pay at the rate sanctioned to him when leaving India, whatever the salary of the office to which he may be transferred may be. This furlough pay will be continued to an officer in military employ after his return to India and until he joins his appointment,

* The section referred to is quoted below:—

Section 70.—"And be it further enacted that no person who shall have held any civil or military station whatever in India, in the service of the said United Company, being under the rank or degree of a Member of Council or Commander-in-Chief of the Forces, and who, having departed from India by leave of the Governor-General in Council, shall not return to India within the space of five years next after such departure, shall be entitled to any rank or restoration of office, or be capable of again serving in India either in the European or Native Corps of Troops or in the civil line of the Company's Service, unless, in the case of any Civil Servant of the Company, it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Court of Directors that such absence was occasioned by sickness or infirmity, or unless such person be permitted to return with his rank to India by a vote or resolution passed by way of ballot by three parts in four of the proprietors assembled in General Court, specially convened for that purpose, whereof eight days' previous notice of the time and purpose of such meeting shall be given in The London Gazette, or unless, in the case of any Military Officer, it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the said Court of Directors and the Board of Commissioners for the affairs of India that such absence was occasioned by sickness or infirmity, or some inevitable accident."

provided it is not less than the military pay, or pay and allowances, of his rank.

Pay when the appointment lapses or is vacated during furlough.

But an officer whose term of office shall lapse, who shall vacate his appointment, or whose appointment shall be abolished during his furlough, will revert at once to the furlough pay which he would draw in virtue of his rank, as laid down below, in § 4. Any case of sudden abolition of appointment may, however, be specially considered in the department of the Government under which the officer may have been employed. An officer will also be entitled to the benefit of his promotion to a higher Staff Corps or regimental rank, whilst on furlough, subject to the maximum limit.

Pay of officers promoted during furlough.

§3. Officers holding regimental medical charges will be allowed to retain such charges during the authorized periods of furlough, as if they were medical staff appointments. And the difference between the unemployed* grade pay of the officer holding the substantive charge and the consolidated salary of the charge will be considered the staff salary divisible between the absentee and the officer officiating for him.

Regimental medical charges retained during furlough.

*G. G. O. No. 1060 of 23rd December 1864, para. 29.
G. G. O. No. 370 of 4th April 1867, para. 9.

The staff salary how divided.

§4. Officers not in staff employ will receive half the Indian pay of their rank, provided that an officer entitled to furlough shall in no case receive less than the above minimum of £250 per annum.

Minimum furlough pay.

NOTE.—Officers who may be entitled to income allowance from the Military Fund during absence in Europe, will draw their half salary or minimum absentee allowance under the foregoing clause, subject to a deduction equivalent to the amount of such income allowance.

VI.—All grants of furlough on private affairs are subject to the exigencies of the public service,—of which exigency the Government is to be exclusively the judge,—and to any regulations that may be found necessary for limiting the number of absentees.

All furlough on private affairs subject to the exigencies of the service.

NOTE.—It is therefore within the competency of local Governments and of the Commander-in-Chief to decline to forward the application of any officer whose absence would, in their opinion, be detrimental to the interest of the public service until such time as arrangements can be made for removing the difficulty; and it is the duty of every head of a department to decline to forward any application for furlough, whenever the services of the officer cannot be spared without risking the efficiency of the department, any doubtful case being referred for the orders of Government.

Applications of Officers who cannot be spared need not be forwarded.

VII.—The maximum amount of furlough on private affairs to be taken at any one time, carrying pay and retention of appointment, will be two years: any extension of such furlough will be without pay, unless it is on medical certificate, see Rule XIII. (But see Notes (3) and (4) Rule IX.) And no extension on private affairs beyond two years will be granted, though without pay, except upon satisfactory evidence of very urgent necessity.

Furlough on private affairs limited to 2 years at one time.

Extensions of such furlough.

VIII.—A period of at least three years' service after return from last furlough, except furlough for a period not exceeding six months under Rule XI (and excepting also, in the case of an officer in civil employ, ordinary furlough not exceeding three months), must be completed before furlough can again be taken, unless obtained under medical certificate. (See Rules XIII and XIV, and Note 3 of Rule IX.)

Three years' service to intervene between two furloughs.

But an officer who may be ordered to return to duty before the completion of his furlough for the purpose of proceeding on Field Service, may be allowed to take the balance of such furlough at any time.

Exception in cases of officers ordered out on field service.

NOTE.—An officer in civil employ cannot reckon in this interval of three years any period of absence from actual duty, excepting those spent on privilege leave.

IX.—An officer will be eligible for two years' furlough on the completion of eight years' actual service in India (see para. 6 of this order); for a third year after a further period of six years' actual service, and for a fourth and fifth year after similar intervals of six years, and so on up to the maximum prescribed in Rule XVI. The grant of furlough to an officer eligible for it will be subject only to the conditions specified in Rules VI and VII. But see notes to this Rule.

Periods of service qualifying for furlough.

§2. No furlough, or extension of furlough, if without pay, will reckon as "furlough already taken" in calculating the balance at an officer's credit, as shown in Rule X. But furlough on private affairs under the Rules of 1796 will of course so reckon.

Furlough without pay not reckoned as "furlough taken."

§3. The fact of having taken furlough on medical certificate will not affect the grant of these furloughs within the conditions laid down in Rules VIII and XVI.

How far previous furlough on medical certificate bars furlough on private affairs.

§4. If an officer appointed to any duty in England draws his Indian allowances, with or without any portion of his staff salary, he can count the period of such employment as service towards furlough; but if he is appointed to an office in England to which a fixed consolidated salary is attached, he cannot reckon the time of such employment as service towards furlough.

Service on duty in England how reckoned.

NOTE (1).—But an officer of less than eight years' service in India may obtain furlough, not exceeding two years, on medical certificate, with furlough pay and retention of appointment, provided he has been three years in the Staff Corps, or,—in the case of a Royal Engineer Officer holding a permanent staff appointment, or an officer not in the Staff Corps,—has served for three years in India.

Furlough on medical certificate when on furlough pay.

NOTE (2).—If the officer has not been three years in the Staff Corps, or served three years in India, as the case may be, he will receive "English furlough pay" only, and must vacate his appointment, unless entitled to retain it under Rule II.

Furlough on medical certificate when on English furlough pay.

This rule and the proviso in Note 1, however, are not applicable to officers of the Indian Army who entered the new Line Regiments, or Royal Artillery, and subsequently the Staff Corps.

NOTE (3).—Unemployed General Officers of the Staff Corps or local service can be granted furlough without serving the intervals of three and six years, respectively, prescribed in Rules VIII and IX; and they can remain in Europe after they have exhausted the full period of furlough allowed during an officer's service by Rule XVI (eight years on the whole) on the English furlough pay of their rank.

General Officers exempted from certain rules.

NOTE (4).—And a Major-General of the Staff Corps—if he has so much furlough at his credit, and proceeds to England within a year of his being promoted to that rank, or of his ceasing to be employed—can continue, after the expiration of the two years' furlough, to receive half his Indian pay until he completes the period of three years during which he would be entitled to draw his Staff Corps pay if he were in India.

X.—An officer eligible for furlough need not take the whole amount to which his service entitles him, but may apply for any portion thereof as an instalment; and in that case the balance will remain at his credit in any future computation of the amount of furlough for which he may be eligible.

Furlough may be taken by instalments.

Illustrations.

1. An officer who has served nine years in India is entitled to two years' furlough: He takes only one year, and after his return remains in India for five years. He is then eligible for two years' furlough as follows:—

Furlough at credit how determined.

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Total service in India | ... ... | 14 years. |
| Furlough due on that service ... | ... | 3 " |
| Furlough already taken* ... | ... | 1 year. |
| Balance for which he is eligible | ... | 2 years. |

2. An officer who has served 20 years in India without taking furlough is entitled to four years' furlough. He can only take, however, two years at one time carrying pay, the balance remaining at his credit in any future computation of furlough to which he may be entitled. He can take that balance after completing three years' service from the date of his return from the first instalment.

NOTE.—An officer is said to have furlough at his credit,—even though he may not be able to obtain it owing to the number of absentees, or other causes,—when the calculation of his service, as in illustration 1 above, shews a "balance for which he is eligible."

XI.—Furlough on urgent private affairs for six months on pay equivalent to the British Regimental pay of his rank may be granted when the officer has no furlough at his credit, or when from other causes, e. g., the number of absentees, or his not having served three years since his last return to duty, he is not able to take it. The said period may form part of the periods of either eight or six years referred to in Rule IX, and also,—except in the case of an officer in civil employ, see Rule VIII note,—of the three years which are required to intervene between two periods of furlough by Rule VIII.

Furlough on urgent private affairs when granted.

This leave cannot be given in extension of furlough of any description. It cannot be extended beyond six months, unless on medical cerficate and on the same pay; in which case the officer will be deemed to have vacated his appointment, unless entitled to retain it under Rule II; the whole period will be reckoned in the maximum amount of furlough (8 years) allowed by Rule XVI, and no portion of it can form any part of the periods referred to in Rules VIII and IX.

Extended beyond 6 months only on medical certificate when its advantages are lost.

NOTE.—Ill health is not considered as warranting furlough under this rule to any officer who under the provisions of these rules can obtain furlough on medical certificate without forfeiting his appointment.

XII.—Subject to State considerations, there will be no restriction as to the places to which an officer may resort during furlough. But, if he desires to spend in England the rest of a "furlough in India," or vice versâ, he must obtain permission to do so from the Government of his Presidency, or from the Secretary of State for India, as the case may be; and on landing in either country, he must report his arrival accordingly to the Military Department of his own Presidency, or to the India Office, forwarding a copy of the permission granted him to change his destination. He must also communicate his address. An officer who, on his return to India, reports his debarkation, without forwarding at once a copy of the permission granted him to change his destination, or submitting an application for such permission, will be considered to have returned to his duty.

Special permission needed for change of residence from England to India and vice versâ during furlough.

Reports, &c., required.

XIII.—Furlough on medical certificate is obtainable as indicated in Notes (1) and (2) of Rule IX, and in Rule XIV. Absence on such furlough for a longer period than two years at one time will involve forfeiture of appointment. [But see exceptions in Rule II.] Furlough may, however, be extended on medical certificate up to a third year on "English furlough pay;" and an officer on furlough on private affairs, who may be obliged to obtain an extension on medical certificate, will be thenceforward entitled to the same advantages, and subjected to the same disadvantages as to retention of appointment, pay, &c., as if he had originally obtained furlough on medical certificate.

Consequences of extension of furlough on medical certificate over 2 years.

In the event of an officer not being able to return to his duty after an absence of three years, it will rest with the Secretary of State for India in Council to order him to appear before a Medical Board, with a view to placing him on the retired list, if entitled to pension, or on the half-pay list.

If he exceeds 3 years' absence on medical certificate, the officer may have to retire or go on half pay.

Should the circumstances of the case warrant a further extension of furlough, it can only be granted without pay.

Extension on medical certificate over 3 years to be without pay.

NOTE.—All officers, however employed, and whatever the amount of leave granted them may be, who leave India on sick certificate, are required to produce a certificate of fitness for duty before they can be allowed to return.

Officers on medical certificate must be pronounced fit for duty before returning to India.

XIV.—An officer whose health may necessitate his taking furlough within three years from the date of last return from any furlough except that taken for a period not exceeding six months under Rule XI (and excepting also, in the case of an officer on civil employ, ordinary furlough not exceeding three months,) may obtain, under the usual medical certificate, such amount as may be duly certified to be necessary for the restoration of his health; but he will receive only "English furlough pay," and must vacate any appointment he may be holding, unless entitled to retain it under Rule II.

Consequences of furlough on medical certificate taken within 3 years of last return.

§2. If however he shall have served three years since the date of his last return to duty, although there may be no balance of furlough at his credit, he will be entitled, on obtaining furlough on medical certificate, to retain his appointment and to receive "furlough pay" as laid down in Rule V for the entire period not exceeding two years. Should the latter period be exceeded, he will come under the provisions of Rule XIII.

XV.—An officer entitled to furlough, or having a balance of furlough at his credit, whose health may necessitate his absence from India, must take the leave as furlough under Rule IX, but without forfeiting any passage money to which he may be entitled under Military Fund Rules,—or, if a Subaltern, by Regulation,—when proceeding on medical certificate.

"Furlough at credit" bars furlough on medical certificate.

§2. Should the officer be declared fit for duty before the expiration of two years, he may be granted extension on private affairs up to that limit, provided that he has so much at his credit, and that if he remains he will not be in excess of the established proportion of absentees. Any extension on private affairs of such furlough beyond the said period of two years must be without pay.

Furlough on medical certificate when extended on private affairs.

§3. Any extension on medical certificate of furlough under § 1 of this rule beyond two years or any lesser period which may be at his credit under Rules IX and X will be regarded, in all respects, as furlough on medical certificate (Rule XIII); and if the period of two years should not exhaust the balance of furlough at his credit under Rule X, the period or periods of extension shall be deducted from such balance till the latter is exhausted. On the aggregate of two years' leave being exceeded, the officer will come under the provisions of Rule XIII.

Furlough at credit must be exhausted before furlough on medical certificate can be given.

XVI.—The aggregate amount of furlough with pay and retention of appointment on private affairs and on medical certificate, that may be granted to an officer during his service, will be limited to eight years.

Total furlough with pay, &c., in an officer's service limited to 8 years.

NOTE.—The following periods of leave however will not be reckoned in this period of eight years :—

Furlough not reckoned in this period.

§1.—Leave without pay.

§2.—Sick leave to Europe, or to the Colonies eastward of Cape under the Rules of 1796.

§3.—Leave taken under Rule XI of these Rules, provided it be not extended over the six months. If it be so extended the whole period will reckon as part of the eight years.

§4.—Leave necessitated by wounds or sickness contracted on active service, and any other leave which may be allowed by proper authority to reckon as service for pension.

§5.—In the case of an unemployed officer, periods of residence in England on English pay after promotion to the rank of Major-General, or to the rank of Regimental Colonel in the Royal (late Indian) Artillery and Engineers, or after completion of tour of service as Inspector-General or Deputy Inspector-General of Hospitals, when the officer is no longer required to reside in India.

All other leave to Europe, or out of India for periods exceeding three months (see Rule XXVII), including furlough on medical certificate under the Furlough Rules of 1854, will form part of the period of eight years.

XVII.—If taken in India, furlough will be reckoned from the date of the absentee's quitting his station to the date of his return thereto; if taken out of India, from the date of the sailing of the vessel in which he may have embarked to the date of his bonâ fide disembarkation in India for the purpose of rejoining his appointment or Regiment; the date of embarkation (or of the vessel's leaving the Sandheads if from Calcutta) and that of disembarkation also, are included in the furlough.

Dates from and to which furlough is reckoned.

NOTE (1).—As an illustration of this rule, it may be observed that a Madras Officer's landing and reporting himself at Madras en route to Calcutta to join his appointment in Bengal or the North-Western Provinces, &c., is not disembarkation in the sense intended by this rule.

NOTE (2).—To enable an officer who overstays his leave to obtain an extension, he should shew that he took all needful precautions to ensure his arrival in proper time, and if delayed by the departure of the vessel being deferred, he should obtain the certificate of the owner or agent that she had been bonâ fide advertised to sail from ——— on the ———, but that her departure had been delayed till the ———. See General Order No. 52, dated 21st February 1873.

Extension to cover excess over furlough how obtained.

XVIII.—Preparatory leave to embark for Europe or elsewhere on furlough will be granted for any period deemed necessary, not ordinarily exceeding 30 days. Leave up to the same limit, to enable him to rejoin on his return from furlough, will be granted from the date succeeding that of his disembarkation in India. This applies equally to furloughs taken under Rule XI. The authority which has power to grant preparatory leave can, on due cause being shewn, grant any necessary extension of it; but this can be done only on very sufficient reasons.

Limited ordinarily to 30 days.

NOTE (1).—An officer obtaining a furlough on private affairs or medical certificate must embark within three months of the date of the General Order which notifies it, or take up the first portion of his furlough in India until he embarks; if not, the General Order will cease to have effect. The only exception to this rule that can be allowed is when the officer is prevented from embarking within the three months owing to his detention in India by proper authority on bonâ fide public grounds. If however the officer does not within a reasonable time avail himself of the furlough given him, his subsequently being placed on duty rendering his detention necessary will not exempt him from the rule; and in every case of such detention the officer must at once report it, and he is not to embark after the expiration of three months until he has applied for and obtained from the Government of his Presidency an extension of the period.

G. G. O. granting furlough has effect for 3 months only.

Detention when deemed a valid excuse.

NOTE (2).—Officers who may be serving in other Presidencies than their own, if they desire to embark bonâ fide for Europe from the latter, may obtain preparatory leave accordingly, and their furlough will reckon from the date of their embarkation at their own Presidencies.

An officer serving out of his Presidency may embark from it.

NOTE (3).—For full information as to the submission of applications for furlough, see G. G. O. No. 34 of 11th January 1869; G. G. O. No. 103, dated 26th January 1869; General Order by the Commander-in-Chief, No. 135, dated 11th June 1870.

Applications for furlough how submitted.

NOTE (4).—The allowances of Military Officers in Civil employ during preparatory leave, and after return to India until they rejoin their appointments, will be adjusted according to Civil Rules.

NOTE (5).—Leave preparatory to retirement from the service does not reckon as service towards pension.

Leave preparatory to retirement.

XIX.—Furlough allowances are payable monthly if payment is taken in India, and quarterly if payment is taken in England.

Pay issued monthly in India, quarterly in England.

XX.—Advances of furlough pay will continue to be made in India to those officers who desire it, for three months from date of embarkation.
